Settlement in Customs Case Discloses Traffic in New "Old Furniture"

Stenographer to Get $5000 for Information She Gave to Government

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. (Exclusive) That scores of socially and financially prominent persons over the United States have purchased newly made English furniture under the belief they were getting genuine antiques was disclosed here today when the government accepted a compromise offer of $30,000 in lieu of unpaid duties and penalties from Richard W. Lehne, one of New York's foremost dealers in "genuine antiques."

To Miss Katherine D. Slade, former stenographer to Lehne, will go $5000, or 25 per cent of all penalties assessed, for it was she who, according to Assistant Solicitor Brewer, "tipped off" the government to the asserted misrepresentations. The $5000, however, apparently fails to satisfy Miss Slade, and she has put in a claim against the government for $100,000 in return for her services.

TWO YEARS' RECORDS

For two years Miss Slade worked for Lehne, preserving notes of his dictation and compiling information which she recently submitted to Atty.-Gen. Mitchell in Washington and customs officials here.

She said she was conscience-stricken when she observed furniture just made and shipped from London sold to the elite of New York and the rest of this country as antiques, according to Assistant Solicitor Brewer, to whom she told her story.

Aware of the law under which informants of violations of the customs law are given 25 per cent of all penalties assessed, she remained there two years, collecting a voluminous lot of documents which she turned over to the government.

The $30,000 which Lehne has agreed to pay, Brewer said, is on the entry of one shipment of furniture to him from the concern of Restall, Brown & Clenell of London.

SOME OF CUSTOMERS

Among Lehne's customers listed by Miss Slade are Princess Obolensky, Foxhall Keene, Jesse Livermore, Myron C. Taylor, James A. Farrell, head of the United States Steel Corporation; E. F. Hutton, the broker; former Gov. Fuller of Massachusetts, Mrs. Reginald De Koven, Lancaster Morgan, Maj. John A. Warner, son-in-law of ex-Gov. Smith, and M. S. Sloan of the New York Edison Company.

Others include T. W. Durant, Marshall Field, T. H. B. Frelinghuysen of Morristown, N. J.; Mrs.

SUIT FILED BY EX-WIFE OF GIBBONS

Dolores Del Rio's New Husband Confronted by Action for Alimony

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. (Exclusive) Dark-eyed Dolores Del Rio, Mexican film star, was warned by an affidavit filed for a New York plaintiff in Los Angeles today that the new Del Rio husband, Cedric Gibbons, cinema art director, may have two wives to support.

The papers in the case, sworn to by Mrs. Gwendolyn Weller Gibbons of Greenwich Village, who was divorced by Gibbons four years ago, were sent west from the office here of the first wife's attorneys, Goldsmith, Goldblatt & Hanover.

Since he became interested in Miss Del Rio early this year, Gibbons has totally neglected the matter of $500 monthly alimony, the first spouse complains. The suit is to obtain $3500 which Mrs. Gibbons No. 1 says is due her and to make sure that the art director's memory is kept jogged in the future by proper legal means.

Miss Del Rio was married to Gibbons at Santa Barbara last August. Gibbons receives a salary of $50,000 a year from M.-G.-M., according to the papers in the case.

REPORT FROM EAST SURPRISES DEFENDANT

Cedric Gibbons, at his home in Hollywood last night, expressed surprise that a suit to collect alimony had been filed in New York, as reported in dispatches. "We were only married six weeks," he said, "and when we separated there was no agreement for a monthly payment and I do not feel that I am under any obligation beyond what I have already paid.

"I am very much surprised that the suit should have been filed, and can only believe that my former wife was poorly advised."

MASSILLON (O.) Oct. 8. (AP)—Rush D. Heller, 47 years of age, Canton undertaker who headed a rescue squad into the Dalton Coal Company mine, two miles south of Dalton, in which three miners were trapped by a fire, died today from fumes he inhaled while in the mine tunnel. Attempts to rescue the miners were unsuccessful.

Bodies of the victims, Russell Shanklon, Robert Douglas and Harvey Sword, all of Mt. Pleasant, were brought out tonight.

Hawks Burns Air in Picture Run

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. (Exclusive) Roaring across the East River to a fast landing at the new field at North Beach, Queens, Capt. Frank M. Hawks added another record to his list today. He rolled to a stop exactly twenty minutes after taking off with pictures of the deciding game of the world series at Philadelphia.

His average speed for the ninety-mile run, 270 miles an hour, exceeds the American land-plane record of 266 miles an hour by Lieut. Alford J. Williams several years ago, although he will not be officially credited with the mark because of the absence of official timers of the National Aeronautic Association.

ITALY FIRM ON DEMAND FOR PARITY

Fascist Grand Council Reaffirms Policy First Launched at London

ROME, Oct. 8. (AP)—Italy's stand for naval parity with France was reaffirmed tonight by the Grand Council of the Fascist party at its second night session.

The decision was taken with Premier Mussolini in the chair after Dino Grandi, Foreign Minister, had made a two-hour report on foreign affairs.

The report was greatly applauded and was followed by the adoption of a resolution which fully approved Italy's foreign policy.

The resolution said the action "reaffirms the decision previously adopted that Italy cannot accept an accord which does not first establish the principle of naval parity."

Italy's stand for naval parity with France was one of the reasons why France and Italy could not join in the naval limitation agreement reached by the United States, Great Britain and Japan at the London conference last spring.

PEEPS TAKEN IN BUNNY EAR

Science Puts Window in Rabbit Skin for Study of Tissue Growth Under Microscope

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8. (AP)—Through a window in a rabbit's ear scientists are enabled to study the microscopic details of the growth of living tissue.

Through its use, says an announcement by the school of medicine of the University of Pennsylvania, information regarding the manner in which abnormal cellular reactions occur in infection diseases, such as tuberculosis, and tumor growth, such as cancer, will be obtainable; the new method opens the door to enormous advances in knowledge.

A transparent, double-walled chamber, or window, is put into a small hole made in the ear of a rabbit, like a woman's earring.

One side of this window is of celluloid or glass, and the other of a very thin sheet of mica. The edges of the space intervening are left in contact with the tissues of the ear and from them the blood vessels and other living tissues invade the chamber until they form a complete new layer.

This new layer, two-thousandths of an inch in thickness, is transparent.

The chamber can remain in place for months without causing discomfort to the animal, and it is possible to make repeated observations of the way the tissue elements behave in conditions of health and disease.

NAVY SCOPE CURTAILED

Revisions Aim at Economies

Personnel Will Be Cut, Two Score Ships to Be Laid Up and Forces Shifted

Changes in Plans Laid to Hoover Pleas and Pratt's Desire for Efficiency

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (Exclusive)—Important changes in the Navy's operating plans for the next twenty months were announced today by Secretary of the Navy Adams and Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations. They provide for placing all American combat battleships in the Pacific, the organization of a new training squadron, reorganization of the air forces afloat, reduction of naval enlisted personnel by 4800 men, and the disposal and laying up of forty-three submarines and destroyers now with the scouting and battle fleets.

The revisions were prompted by continued White House pressure for economy, a desire on the part of the administration to make the fleet conform as nearly as possible to the limitations of the London naval treaty and Admiral Pratt's personal desire to make changes in the interest, he explained, of greater efficiency. The economies effected will slash naval expenditures by $3,440,000 this fiscal year and $7,758,949 in 1932. Total economies to be effected by the Navy Department are estimated as approaching $30,000,000.

RECRUITING TO BE CUT

Personnel cuts will be effected by curtailing recruiting, for which the monthly limit will be reduced from 400 to 200 on November 1. Reductions in numbers of ships will be obtained through speeding up the scrapping provision by the London treaty, so that the submarine tonnage in the American fleet will be reduced to just below the 52,700 tons permitted by the treaty as rapidly as possible, and through laying up destroyers. A total of twenty-three submarines, sixteen destroyers and two mine layers will be laid up. The size of destroyer divisions will be reduced from six to four. After this is completed the fleet will have 93,426 tons of destroyers in commission compared with 112,296 as at present.

The fleet revision plan leaves the battle fleet on the Pacific, retains the scouting fleet in the Atlantic and calls for organization of a training squadron on the Atlantic composed of two battleships and eight destroyers, and to operate with reduced complements.

CRUISERS AS SCOUTS

The battle fleet under the new arrangement will have all the battleships outside the training squadron. The battleships will be the backbone of this fleet which will be composed of only the best ships, outside of eight-inch gun cruisers, in the whole fleet. The 10,000-ton, eight-inch gun cruisers will furnish the major offensive vessels for the scouting fleet. The Arkansas and Wyoming, twelve-inch-gun battleships, will serve with the training squadron. The Wyoming must be converted into a training ship under the terms of the London treaty.

The fleet reorganization will begin at once but will not be completed until next winter.

Dry-Vote Plea Made in Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 8. (AP)—The Board of Trustees of the Chicago Church Federation today adopted a resolution urging dry voters to participate in the prohibition referendum to be voted on in Illinois in November.

The resolution charged the referendum "is an unscrupulous political trick specifically designed to befog the minds of voters."

"We are convinced, nevertheless," the resolution added, "the referendum if carried will provide a basis for further effective wet propaganda and seriously interfere with efforts of enforcement."

Better Street Lighting Urged

RICHMOND (Va.) Oct. 8. (AP)—Increased street lighting to make automobile headlights superfluous was suggested by Preston S. Millar, president of the electrical testing laboratories of New York, today at the twenty-fourth annual convention of the Illuminating Engineering Society.

Street lighting in most cities has not kept pace with traffic requirements and consequently streets are less safe at night than they should be, Millar said.

Eaglet to Pick His Own Career

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. (AP)—When Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., grows up he is going to have the whole wide world in which to find himself a career—without parental interference.

In an interview about the baby which appears in the forthcoming issue of the Pictorial Review, appearing Friday, Col. Lindbergh is quoted as saying with a laugh he has as yet given no serious thought to young Charles's career.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Oct. 8. [To the Editor of The Times:] Well, the baseball is all over now; St. Louis did mighty well west of the river, but they should never have crossed it. Fording the Mississippi and going east has ruined not only many ball teams, but many a promising public man. Take these boys at home among their own pop bottles and they were hard to clean after, but they had no business east of the Rockies monkeying with Mr. Earnshaw. Connie Mack at 99 years of age will be able to sit in bed and show fifteen other managers how to handle a ball team in a crisis. But it must have been a great series. Only one man I can't forgive, that's the radio announcer who kept comparing Dykes's bonehead play chasing Gelbert, to one pulled years ago by Hans Wagner. Hans Wagner never in all his life pulled one; it was Heinie Zimmerman.

Detroit Gets 1931 Convention

Boston Hoodlums Denounced for Vandalism After Veterans' Parade

BOSTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—Federal prohibition agents under the leadership of Dennis T. Lorden descended on the Hotel Statler, American Legion convention headquarters, early today, seized several men and held them on bootlegging charges.

BOSTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—The serious matters of a national convention occupied the attention of the American Legion here today. The outstanding events of a five-hour session were:

The choice of Detroit as the 1931 convention city.

The adoption of resolutions condemning Communism and regretting and condemning the acts of vandalism by hoodlums who took advantage of the convention to spread disorder last night.

The speeches of Gen. Henri Gouraud of France, Maj.-Gen. Sir William Hickie of Ireland, Admiral William S. Benson, naval chief during the war; Gen. Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans' affairs, and William R. Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

In his speech Admiral Benson, now retired, urged the Legionnaires to study and eradicate the causes of crime and vindicate the laws. Gen. Gouraud represented the government of France and reviewed the association of France and the United States down through the years. Green warned against forces at work to commercialize unemployment for the breaking down of our government. Hines expressed the hope an effective plan of veteran relief will be evolved.

Fierce Fighting in Pernambuco

Brazil Reports 150 Killed in Battle of Federals and Insurrectos

Populace Shouts Approval and Waves Red Flags, Color of Liberals

PERNAMBUCO (Brazil) Oct. 8. (AP)—This important northern city of Brazil tonight is in control of revolutionary forces which report the insurgent movements against the central government has been victorious in all States to the north.

The capture of Pernambuco, one of the largest cities in Brazil, followed a forty-eight-hour struggle which broke out at 1 a.m. Saturday. On the revolutionary side were the students, civilians and part of the army garrison, while on the Federal side were the State military police and the remainder of the army. Casualties are reported to number 150.

HEAVY FIGHTING

The revolutionists immediately took control of the arsenal and the surrounding streets. The police launched counter-attacks and there was heavy fighting with rifles and machine guns. After hours fighting the last police stronghold was taken at 4 a.m. Monday. The police and soldiers adhered to the movement.

Gov. Coimbra and his staff fled Sunday night, repeating a similar flight which he made when he was Governor in 1911.

Automobiles filled with shouting groups made their way through the city while the populace showed great enthusiasm. The crowd shouted: "Viva revolution," and paid tribute to the memory of Joao Pessoa, former President of the State of Parahyba and a candidate of the Liberals for the Vice-Presidency in the March 1 elections, who was shot and killed here.

It was reported the assassins of Pessoa, held in Pernambuco jail, committed suicide.

RED FLAGS DISPLAYED

Everywhere red flags, the color of the Liberal party, were displayed.

A provisional government was established yesterday under the direction of Gen. Juarez Tavora, head of the revolution in the north. Gov. Cavalcanti has appointed officials to put down excesses and to reestablish order. Commerce was resumed today.

It is reported the Governor of Rio Grande do Norte fled to Rio de Janeiro and the Governor of the State of Parahyba is held in jail. Gen. Lavenere, commander of the Federal forces which were stationed in Parahyba a week ago, died during the fighting. The acting Governor of Parahyba is now the former chief of the State police, who is a great admirer of the late Gov. Pessoa.

FEDERAL FORCES START RAIDS ON REBELS

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 8. (AP)—The Federal government of Brazil, faced with revolutionary movements in the north and south, today poured out army and naval forces to crush the rebel armies.

The government devoted particular attention to the rebels in the States of Minas Geraes to the northwest and Pernambuco to the north.

A concentration of troops was also being carried out in the State of Santa Catharina.

The main purpose of these movements is to prepare the ground for the ultimate overthrow of the rebel forces in the State of Rio Grande do Sul where the insurrec-

DRY FACTORS SCRUTINIZED

Law Enforcement Commission Will Make Report to Congress With Conclusions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—Assurance President Hoover's Law Enforcement Commission already has gone deep into the subject of prohibition and it hopes to report definitely to Congress in December on dry-law enforcement conditions was given today by Chairman Wickersham of the commission.

Whether the report will go further and place the commission as for or against prohibition the chairman would not say.

He added, however, he still believes "if the commission reaches the conclusion prohibition is not enforceable, I think we should say so."

ALL PRESENT

Wickersham's announcement came after the commission had discussed crime and prohibition problems for more than five hours at the first meeting the group has held since last June. All eleven members were present as the body convened around a table piled high with new reports gathered during the summer.

The preparation of a voluminous survey designed to show "just what the luxury of crime costs the United States," also was made known by Wickersham. He said a study already is in progress which will in time gather figures on the direct cost of crime—such as the cost of maintaining prisons and administering criminal justice—in every city of more than 100,000 population in the country together with an estimate of the indirect costs of crime, such as crime insurance, losses of stolen goods, losses by arson and the tributes levied by racketeers.

The commission chairman indicated also considerable work is being done toward determining causes of crime, among which he characterized the World War and prohibition as chief contributors.

SEEKING CAUSES

The group has before it "an immense amount" of material dealing with prohibition alone, Wickersham said, adding matters arising from the dry law "have been and are now one of the main problems with which the commission is dealing."

"We discussed it today, and we will probably discuss it tomorrow," he asserted. "The discussion so far has been general and members of the committee have not divided on the subject, nor have we reached any conclusions. We do intend to reach the best conclusions we can."

Wickersham declined to say whether the considerable prohibition investigation he revealed had been made had changed his own views on the enforceability of the law.

"I have never been a wet; I have never been a dry," he said. "Some people have characterized me as a 'moist,' but I am firm in the belief the laws we have should be enforced."

It was learned later although voluminous reports on prohibition enforcement conditions have been gathered by the commission, no definite proposal concerning a stand upon the advisability of the law has yet been placed before it.

FRENCH TREATY UNDER SHADOW

American State Department Begins Investigation

Charge of Discrimination by France to Be Sifted

Pact of 1853 Guarantees Property Rights

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—Charges of discrimination against American property owners in France, which may involve the entire question of reciprocal Franco-American treaty rights, are being investigated by the State Department.

Attention of the department has been called to the case of Capt. Paul Rockwell, an American citizen, who purchased a home in Paris in 1926 and has been defeated in every effort since that time to obtain possession of his home from a Frenchman who was a tenant when the purchase was made. The tenant, it is asserted, upon learning the new owner is an American, declined to move from the premises under the terms of the so-called French rent laws.

RIGHTS GRANTED

Under the Franco-American treaty of 1853, French citizens in the United States and American citizens in France were accorded equal rights with the citizens of the country in which they resided so far as property ownership was concerned. This treaty now would accord these rights to some 155,000 Frenchmen in the United States, as compared with only about 12,000 Americans residing in France.

Capt. Rockwell, who fought in the French Army in the World War and was decorated for bravery, with several of the highest honors which can be given in France, has met with no success, however, in pressing his case as a test before the French courts on five different occasions.

In one instance, it was charged, the judge, as the case opened before him, asked Rockwell's attorney if his client was an American citizen. Receiving an affirmative reply, it was said, the judge replied:

"Then leave the court. An American citizen has no rights here. If he wishes to enjoy the rights of the French laws he must become naturalized."

SLURS REPORTED

The judge, according to information before the State Department by interested Americans, refused to allow the case to proceed and delivered from the bench remarks uncomplimentary to the United States.

Aside from watching the situation, which has deprived a considerable number of Americans in Paris possession of property they have purchased, the State Department has done little. The matter was recently taken to the attention of Undersecretary of State Cotton, but there was no action until Capt. Rockwell returned from France to appeal personally for assistance.

100 YEARS FROM TODAY

So-called corrective or orthopedic shoe retailers will be exploiting the comfort and style features of their respective shoes, even as today, but falling short in their efforts because of the absence of the five great orthopedic features embodied in the Dr. Kahler shoe, now, and for the last 77 years. Dr. Kahler developed the first real principles of foot comfort in 1853 and they have been time-tested by thousands of men and women, and will, in the future, be just as practical and more beneficial than any comfort features yet discovered. Here they are:

1 The Dr. Kahler "Patented Instep Support" gives a comfortable and snug support to the arch without constriction.
2 The Dr. Kahler "Straight Line Last" allows the footfull flexion and play along its NATURAL lines.
3 The Dr. Kahler "Combination Last," two widths narrower at the heel than across the ball, assures a snugly fitting heel, with ample toe room.
4 The "Secret Spring" gives a gentle but firm support to weakened arches, at the same time encouraging and strengthening muscle movement.
5 The "Cupped Heel Seat," gripping the heel and preventing the foot from sliding forward at each step—one of the chief causes of callouses and corns.

Every Dr. Kahler shoe is especially constructed to give instant relief to metatarsal trouble.

The convention also nominated, without opposition, the following vice-presidents, representing the five national districts:

Mrs. Hazel Dudgeon of Welch, W. Va., central district; Mrs. Ralph S. Heaton of Closter, N. J., eastern division; Mrs. Rose Gilmore of Nashville, Tenn., southern division; Mrs. E. E. Laudaugh of Boise, Idaho, western division, and Mrs. A. C. Carlson of Wilmar, Minn., northwestern district. The nominations are equivalent to election.

Mrs. Robert Walbridge of Petersborough, N. H., was renominated for American vice-president of the Fidac auxiliary.

The convention authorized the offering of an annual trophy to the department doing the most outstanding work.

'CRUELTIES' OF WALKER DESCRIBED

Pugilist's Wife Offers Witnesses to Support Divorce Suit Charges

JERSEY CITY (N. J.) Oct. 8. (AP) Witnesses to support her contentions of cruelty were produced today by Mrs. Margaret Walker, wife of "Mickey" Walker, pugilist, in a divorce hearing before an advisory master in chancery.

Mary Burk of Perth Amboy testified Walker once introduced another woman to her as his wife. She also said she heard Mickey tell his wife he would "bump her off."

A letter to the boxer starting "Dearest Mickey, hello, honey," was identified by the writer, Dorothy Jones of New Brunswick, who said it resulted from a "mere foolish infatuation."

munism and that condemning the activities of the hoodlums were cheered. In the first the Legion indorsed the appointment of a special Congressional committee for investigating Communists in the country and urged, after it has reported, Congress enact legislation to end all Communistic activities in the United States. The second rebuked those who tipped over automobiles, set fires and engaged in street brawls with policemen and civilians late last night and early today.

RUFFIANS UNMASKED

The Legion said many of the ruffians posed as Legionnaires.

Lieut.-Col. Leo Richer Lafleche, Dominion president of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service, and Capt. Michele Barbaro of Rome, a Deputy in the Italian Parliament, brought the greetings of their countries to the convention.

Mr. Green said his organization had been optimistic regarding the unemployment situation and had looked forward with hope for a trend toward the return of prosperity.

After referring to the element he said is at work trying to break down the government, he said:

"We will not pull down our national structure to satisfy those who present a visionary remedy. We will work out our problems in accordance with American tradition and American welfare. We believe we have the best form of government on the face of the earth and believe it deserves the loyalty of every good American."

VOTING CLOSE

The vote on next year's convention city was 658 to 570 in favor of Detroit. After the vote, Los Angeles withdrew and on the motion of John Quinn of the latter city the vote was made unanimous.

Detroit's claims were presented to the convention by Atty.-Gen. Wilber Brucker of Lansing, Mich., Republican nominee for Governor of Michigan. Mayor Murphy of Detroit followed him.

Los Angeles submitted its invitation through Quinn, past National Commander of the Legion.

A warship has been sent northward to the city of Pernambuco, which is reported in the hands of the insurgents and a new army commander with new enforcements was also started northward.

The same measures were taken for dealing with the seaport of Florianopolis in the southern State of Santa Catharina. It is understood the government plans to base its later activities against the rebels in Rio Grande do Sul from this city.

The Federal forces have reoccupied several towns in the State of Minas Geraes along the Central Railway.

AMERICA HAS HUGE INVESTMENT IN BRAZIL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—Revolutionary activities in Brazil and moves of the government to overwhelm its opponents continued of dominant interest today in official and diplomatic circles, with the State Department remaining silent.

Attacks by the revolutionists on American property in the city of Bahia invited attention to the huge American investments in the South American republic, which total between $575,000,000 and $675,000,000.

They were listed at the Department of Commerce under the following heads: Government bonds, $400,000,000 to $450,000,000; manufacturing enterprises $40,000,000 to $50,000,000; public utilities $90,000,000 to $110,000,000, and miscellaneous enterprises $45,000,000 to $65,000,000.

LEADERS REPORT SWEEPING GAINS

PORTO ALEGRE (Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil) Oct. 8. (AP)—Sweeping revolutionary gains, both in the north and south of Brazil, tonight were claimed at the revolutionary headquarters here.

The revolutionary leaders in general asserted they have captured several important strategical towns, are negotiating with two destroyers, that successful operations are being carried out in the southern revolutionary area, that the city of Pernambuco in the north is being consolidated and revolutionary forces are marching on the important city of Bahia.

Revolutionary headquarters announced rebel forces have taken Villa Annitopolis, an important strategical point opening the way into the State of Santa Catharina.

It was stated two destroyers arrived at Port Imbituba, both flying the red flag or Liberal colors.

Revolutionary forces from Vaccari and Dom Jesus were stated to have occupied Villa Lages and to be continuing to the northward, forming part of a general rebel advance toward Sao Paulo.

Revolutionary headquarters at Porto Alegre also announced the revolutionary government set up in Minas Geraes has relayed a report from Natal, on the northeastern tip of Brazil, of the capture of six military airplanes by the revolutionaries.

The Porto Alegre leaders said revolutionary forces occupying the States of Parana and Santa Catharina number more than 30,000 men and these now are converging toward the Uruguay River, from which place they will march to the north in the best possible military order.

Osvaldo Aranha, one of the revolutionary chieftains, in a telegram urged President Luis to resign.

ONE SLAIN, FIVE SHOT IN BATTLE

Murphy (N. C.) Officer Killed Fighting Suspects After Postoffice Hold-up

MURPHY (N. C.) Oct. 8. (AP)—Mack Carringer, Chief of Police of Murphy, was shot to death and five other persons were wounded, three perhaps fatally, today in a gun fight with three men suspected of robbing the postoffice at Coker Creek, Tenn.

Two of the suspected postoffice robbers were shot down and are not expected to recover. They are Walter Bryson, shot through the chest, and Jeff McPherson, wounded in the head and abdomen. The third suspect escaped. Police say he was wounded.

Policeman George Leatherwood was shot through the right lung and Policeman Burt Savage was wounded in the arm.

Late last night C. C. Linderman, postmaster at Coker Creek, telephoned Carringer the postoffice had been robbed by three men and asked him to watch for the trio. With three patrolmen the Police Chief went to the west edge of Murphy, where an automobile was halted and Carringer began to question its occupants. The patrolman said one of the three men in the automobile pulled a pistol and shot the Chief. The gun battle followed.

Linderman told Sarringer over the telephone that the three men who robbed his combined store and postoffice carried him, bound and gagged, nine miles into the country and tied him to a tree. He said he managed to loosen his bonds after an hour and telephoned Murphy.

Many of the unemployed are eager to do this, he said.

RADIUM CALLED DOUBTFUL CURE

Value in Cancer Cases Held Not Yet Established

Harmful Possibilities Seen in Building False Hopes

Special Commission Gives Report on Findings

[Copyright, 1930, by Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Oct. 8. (Exclusive)—That radium is not yet established as a cure for cancer and is at the present a very dangerous weapon which will do more harm than good unless used with the greatest care is the caution and warning contained in the first annual report of the Radium Commission, issued today.

The report emphasizes that great caution is necessary in estimating the value and efficacy of radium treatment of the malignant disease and declares the creation of false hopes by optimistic statements cannot be too strongly deprecated.

The report declares that after many years of world experience the best that can be said is that some of the results under certain conditions were very satisfactory, while others, for no clearly established reason, were less so, and in a considerable proportion of the cases the results were either inconclusive or definitely disappointing.

The commission considers that at least five years of further experience and co-ordinated research probably will be required before any final verdict can be expected.

WILBUR VISIONS VAST STRUGGLE

Ideals of America Attacked by Reds, He Avers

War Between Philosophies Declared Inevitable

Arizona Dam Suit Cited as State Rights Fallacy

MADISON (Wis.) Oct. 8. (AP)—A "gigantic and fundamental struggle" between the philosophies represented by the United States and another great nation, which he left unnamed, but indicated as Russia, was foreseen by Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, in a speech before the American Country Life conference today. He said:

"One of the great peoples of the earth is deliberately trying to work out large social and economic programs for the mastery of its vast terrain along new and untried lines.

"Our economic, social and political philosophies inevitably must wage a gigantic and fundamental struggle with theirs.

"We have confidence in our way. We must make it a continued success. China is watching this struggle to see which shall be adopted."

The reference occurred in a discussion of conservation methods. The Secretary declared his belief that State rights must give way to national rights in conservation projects.

He cited the Arizona suit to block construction of Boulder Dam as one of "major importance." "It will," he said, "determine whether our resources are to be used for the country as a whole or for only one State."

CITIZENSHIP CASES GIVEN HIGH COURT

Naturalizing of Persons Who Refuse Promise to Bear Arms Involved

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—The government today asked the Supreme Court to decide whether persons who refuse to declare without qualification their willingness to take up arms in defense of this country are entitled to naturalization.

The question was presented to the highest court in two cases. In one, arising out of the naturalization application of Marie Averil Bland, of New York City, a former war nurse, the Circuit Court granted her citizenship although she declared that because of her "conscience as a Christian," she would not under any circumstances bear arms in defense of the United States.

The Circuit Court, in the other case, ordered the naturalization of Rev. Douglas Clyde MacIntosh, professor of theology at Yale, a Canadian who served as chaplain during the World War. He insisted he should be free to judge of the necessity for taking arms and decide whether the war was morally justified.

TOUR RESULTS CHEER HOOVER

President May Make More Talks After Elections

Scores of Messages Highly Praise His Speeches

Trip to Texas and Western States Contemplated

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (Exclusive)—President Hoover is so greatly pleased with the cordial receptions given him in the South and the favorable reaction to his addresses in the Midwest and New England that it is altogether likely he will take to the road again after the Congressional elections. Mr. Hoover feels his tour was successful from every viewpoint.

When he arrived at his desk this morning, Mr. Hoover found scores of letters and telegrams congratulating him upon his utterances to the bankers in Cleveland and his addresses to the American Legion and the American Federation of Labor in Boston.

FACTS FRANKLY TOLD

In his Cleveland address Mr. Hoover made a point of stating definitely that depression still exists in the economic affairs of the country. In Boston he told the American Federation of Labor that a great burden of unemployment weighed upon the country. In both instances he emphasized that despite these conditions the United States is in far more favorable position than the rest of the world, is fundamentally sound in its resources and its political position and has the means at hand not only of rehabilitating its own fortunes but of assisting other nations to rehabilitate theirs.

The reaction to these statements indicates the country considers that by his frankness Mr. Hoover cleared the air and set the stage for definite action. In effect he made a clear statement of the situation to the financial leaders and the labor leaders of the country and pledged himself to co-operate with them in employing every possible means in the task of reconstruction.

PRESIDENT'S AIM

Likewise this reaction takes account of the optimistic tenor of the President's three addresses and of his confidence that out of the travail of the existing depression will be born an orderly process of dealing with such occurrences in the future and a realization of the necessity of co-ordinated effort in seeking a means of forestalling them. It appears to be sensed generally that it was the President's purpose to state the situation clearly, to enumerate the factors bearing upon it for good or ill and to summon the countr yto his aid in dealing with it.

Mr. Hoover has been seeking the country's estimate of what he has been trying to do in connection with the general condition of business and finance. He has been, quite naturally, anxious to obtain the country's reaction to his administration. It is a difficult, if not altogether an impossible thing, for a President to obtain in Washington a clear perspective of what the people may be thinking.

ENCOURAGEMENT GIVEN

His short tour and the response that has come to him encourage him and his associates here. He is particularly gratified by the demonstrations of good will accorded him in what was once enemy country to men of his party. It is true he carried North Carolina in 1928 but that fact alone does not account for the cordial greeting extended him there. He has never been a campaigner. His reactions are not demonstrative. But as he proceeded through the southern country and found succeeding crowds eager to see him and anxious to hear him and shouting applause at his mere appearance his natural reserve gave way and it was apparent he was eager to respond to the emotions of his countrymen.

Given a little more of the sort of welcome he received yesterday Mr. Hoover would be found responding as heartily as those practiced in enthusiasm and with infintely more genuine spirit. For he demonstrated that it is no difficult thing to plumb the depths of his sympathy or to arouse his sentiments of appreciation. When a group of railroad men approached him in a small Virginia town to tell him their troubles they found him as responsive as if he were conferring with them in the privacy of his office. Later, when some one shouted that the citizens of Salisbury, N. C., were for him "100 per cent," the President shouted as loudly as his informant and advised him to "keep to it." These instances developed a view of the President not before observed by those who have been traveling the country with him for the last two years.

The White House files contain several invitations to the President to visit various parts of the country. He has been long urged to attend the celebration of the Gadsden Purchase in Texas. He has been asked to visit several western States. In view of the success of his recent tour it is quite likely he will accept some of these invitations for the purpose, primarily, of getting into closer contact with the people than has hitherto been possible.

HAVANA, Oct. 8. CHINA SCOURGED BY RED TROOPS

Outlaws Laying Waste to Towns and Countryside

Communists Increase Their Depredations in South

Foreign Shipping in Yangste River Still Harassed

SHANGHAI, Oct. 8. (AP)—Red armies continued to scourage China tonight, as cessation of civil warefare seemed near. With the rebellious northern alliance in collapse, Communists increased their depredations in South China.

Sweeping over Southern Kiangsi Province, 75,000 outlaws laid waste to towns and countryside. Kian, important city, with numerous smaller places near by, was reported prey to 40,000 bandit Reds who applied the torch.

It is not known whether the Reds simply plundered the cities or, as in many other communities, killed many inhabitants.

Many British missionaries who worked in the Kian area have not been heard from since the Communist onslaught.

Lurking behind banks of the Yangtse River, Reds continued to fire upon foreign shipping plying between Kiukiang and Hankow, 135 miles, undiscouraged by losing a brief engagement yesterday with the United States gunboat Panay near Yochow.

Forced out of Chengchow by Nationalist government troops, Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang escaped across the Yellow River with the main body of his rebels.

Feng is said to be aligning his men along the Honan-Shansi borders awaiting a chance to strike back, or ready to retreat if attacked in force.

Peers and Commoners File by Coffins in London

Attempts at Identification Made by Relatives

Two Services Scheduled to Occur Tomorrow

LONDON, Oct. 8. (AP)—Peers and commoners met alike today in homage to the forty-seven dead of the R-101, whose bodies rest, all but a few of them unidentified, in the mortuary chapel of Westminster Abbey.

Coffins, ranged in grim rows, over each a flag, gave silent testimony of the completeness of the disaster which had overtaken the world's largest dirigible airship.

While sentries trod their funeral beats throngs passed through the chapel, some persons to help in giving names to the victims, others in profound grief, and many prompted by curiosity.

A glimpse of the dead was denied to all save those necessary officials and relatives who might aid in identification.

The interior of the chapel, ordinarily severe and cold in ancient dignity, today was a bower of floral tributes sent by persons from many walks of life.

Tomorrow the bodies will be removed to Westminster Hall, adjacent to the Abbey. Westminster Hall, which dates from the time of Edward the Confessor and has been the scene of some of the most celebrated trials in English history, will be opened to the public Friday morning, with the bodies lying in state during the whole day.

The memorial services will be in two parts. The church of England memorial will be conducted in St. Paul's Cathedral, and Westminster Cathedral will be the scene of a stately mass of requiem by the church of Rome.

Distinguished visitors from many foreign lands will attend both services.

DEATH OF RIGGER OCCURS AT BEAUVAIS

BEAUVAIS (France) Oct. 8. (AP)—Samuel Church, a rigger on the British dirigible R-101, wrecked here Sunday, died today in the Emergency Hospital before his father and fiancee could arrive from England. His death brought the total number of victims to forty-eight.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH REVEALED

SHEFFIELD (Eng.) Oct. 8. (AP)—The narrow margin by which John H. Dinks, an engineer of the ill-fated British dirigible R-101, escaped death was revealed by him at his home here today in an interview with the Associated Press.

Binks explained how he had climbed in the dark down a ladder to relieve Engineer Arthur V. Beall, in the aft engine car. He was about three minutes late. Binks said there was no doubt in his mind those three minutes saved his life and Beall's too.

The two men had a conversation about a minor trouble they had experienced and it was while they were talking there came a sudden, deafening crash. A second afterward the whole airship seemed to explode and burst into flames.

"We could see from end to end of the ship," Binks said, "and it was lit up by a fire extending throughout her hull. Flames started in our car. We tried to put them out with old rags to keep them away from the fuel but it seemed hopeless and I said to Beall, 'I hope we'll be suffocated before we're burned up.'

"We were saved by the bursting of a service water tank above our heads which drenched us and put out the beginnings of the fire in our car. We crouched in the bottom of the car with rags over us," Binks said, "and began a battle to get out. The framework of the car was hot and beginning to crumble. We managed to crawl through it. We could see that everything else around us seemed to have gone.

"Eventually we found ourselves on a bracken-covered land and we were thankful for that considering what would have happened had we been over the sea."

Binks explained that just as he was relieving his mate the airship dipped suddenly to an angle of 45 deg. Then came an order to reduce speed. They had been cruising at about sixty-five knots. The ship dipped again, this time, more sharply. A crash followed.

LONG LIFE TO LOS ANGELES

Navy Survey Board Gives Dirigible, Already Double Allotted Span, Two to Four Years More

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—Two to four more years of life were forecast for the Los Angeles, the huge Navy dirigible, by the board of inspection and survey of the Navy Department today after a study of the physical condition of the ship.

Christened the Los Angeles by Mrs. Calvin Coolidge in 1924, the ship already has lived double the three-year period predicted by its makers, the German Zeppelin Company.

LONGEST ON RECORD

"The Los Angeles is now over six years old and has had over 2500 hours under way, representing over 110,000 air miles and in addition, has operated about 1200 hours at mooring masts," the report said. "This represents a longer useful life than that of any rigid airship known to date."

Describing the ship as in good condition, the board said it sees "no reason why the airship should not be continued in service for two to four years longer."

TEST BY DESTROYING

On the assumption the Los Angeles will continue in life for several years, the board recommended it finally be destroyed "through tests designed to yield data on devices for mechanical handling, landing and mooring masts." The board further recommends it maximum speed be limited to sixty knots and periodical inspections be made of the entire ship.

The Los Angeles was completed in September, 1924, and flown across the Atlantic by a German crew under command of Dr. Hugo Eckener. The ship landed at Lakehurst, October 15, 1924, after flying the 5066-mile trip from Friedrichshafen, Germany, in approximately eighty-one hours.

LUTHERANS ASK BETTER CLERGY

Ministry Teaching Called Haphazard at Convention

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 8. (AP)—The development of theological education in America was described as haphazard today by Rev. F. H. Knubel of New Rochelle, N. Y., president of the United Lutheran Church in America. "Like Topsy," he told the church's convention, "it 'just grew.'" He pleaded for a stronger ministry.

Two movements were suggested by the speaker as a solution for the problem, first, self-appraisal by pastors to determine how they can increase their service and second, that an official body of the church make a thorough analysis of training methods and recommend necessary changes.

Such an investigatorial body, he said, might well be organized by the executive board of the church, its board of education and presidents of the thirty-three synods.

CANADA LIQUOR LEAKS SHIFTED

Rum Smuggling Transfers to Atlantic Seaboard

Dominion's Act Dries Up Great Lakes Region

New Law Will Be Aimed at Coastwise Vessels

TORONTO (Ont.) Oct. 8. (AP)—The Toronto Globe today published the following dispatch from Ottawa:

Thwarted on the Detroit River and the Great Lakes by the liquor export act, Canadian liquor exporters are making increasing use of St. Pierre-Miquelon base for illicit shipments of whisky into the United States.

The traffic between Ontario and Quebec distillers and the French islands off Newfoundland has reached such proportions that shipments of intoxicating beverages from Canada to St. Pierre-Miquelon in the month of August alone exceeded $1,200,000, of half as much as the exports for the whole calendar year of 1929. Exports during June, July and August, the first three months since the rum-running across the Detroit River and the Great Lakes was stopped, aggregated $2,442,000, or more than the total exports for the calendar year 1929, when exports of whisky from Canada to St. Pierre-Miquelon totaled $2,101,885.

Collectors of national revenue throughout Canada have been advised by Robert W. Breadner, Commissioner of Customs, of the passing of an order-in-council amending the customs regulations with respect to coastwise vessels carrying as cargo wines, spiritous and fermented malt liquors.

The Minister of National Revenue, Hon. Edmond B. Ryckman, submitted to the Cabinet the order, which has been approved by the Governor-in-Council, to place coastwise shipping on the same footing as vessels clearing for a foreign port when carrying intoxicating liquor. The new order will curb the business of rum-runners on the Great Lakes, who had already been pretty effectively stopped by the liquor export act submitted to Parliament at the last regular session by Mackenzie King.

WASHINGTON INCREASES DRY FORCES ON COAST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—Shift of liquor smuggling activities from points along the Canadian border to the Atlantic seaboard, with St. Pierre and Miquelon as the base, has caused a strengthening of customs forces along the North Atlantic Coast.

The recently enacted Canadian law prohibiting liquor clearances to this country accounts for the change.

The Prohibition Bureau recently announced liquor smuggled into the United States in the fiscal year 1930 totaled 4,884,000 gallons, of which 1,000,000 gallons came from St. Pierre and Miquelon.

"A year in jail for contempt of court," said Judge Lyle.

EMPIRE TALKS TARIFF WALLS

British Dominions in Favor of Close Corporation

Stand of England Expected to Be Shown Today

"Economic Blizzard" Raging, Home Delegate Says

LONDON, Oct. 8. (AP)—Great Britain's imperial conference made plans today to build high tariff walls around the United Kingdom and the dominions beyond the seas as a protective measure against the "economic blizzard" that has hit the world.

It was J. H. Thomas, for the home government, who called the present depression a blizzard when he opened today's session, but it was Premier Bennett of Canada who took the center of the conference stage.

Mr. Bennett quickly aroused interest with a definite proposal of 10 per cent additional preference in the Canadian market for the mother country and for other empire units which will return the favor.

INVITES NATIONS

Moreover, the Canadian Prime Minister invited the empire delegates to meet in Ottawa next spring as guests of the Canadian people for the purpose of building a comprehensive system of British Empire preferential tariffs.

Bennett spoke following Mr. Thomas, who had inaugurated the empire economic survey. Spokesmen of other empire units—Australia, South Africa, Newfoundland, the Irish Free State and India—one after another approved the general principle of empire preference.

STAND TO BE TOLD

Mr. Thomas merely invited the empire units to give their views without disclosing what the home government will do. This is expected to be revealed tomorrow, but not without the possibility of conflict within the Labor government ranks if Chancellor Snowden is urged to surrender his free-trade convictions in favor of the Dominion views.

The Canadian Premier was emphatic in declaring empire preference does not mean empire free trade.

URGES ACTION

Speaking of causes of the present world-wide business depression and urging the empire delegates to do something to alleviate the situation, Mr. Thomas said: "There are people in Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa who are suffering today and who are building up their hopes that something will emerge from this conference."

He recalled that economic experts, bankers and business men have declared that overproduction is the cause of all the trouble. "We are forced," he added, "to say that people are hungry because there is too much wheat in the world; that people are going without clotnes because too much cotton is being grown—in short that there is all of this misery not because there is a shortage but because there is too much. That is wrong; that is one of the problems we must tackle."

HOW GROW OLD? BE CAKE-EATER!

Chicago Woman 98 Years of Age Has Simple Secret: Gorge on Pastry

CHICAGO, Oct. 8. (AP)—Mrs. Rosie Schenk's prescription for longevity is cake — fruit, spice, lemon, any kind, just so it's cake.

Mrs. Schenk was 98 years of age yesterday and people asked her how she accounted for it. Her answer was "cake."

Fruit cake, devil's food and banana cake, she said, are good for what ails you. Chocolate eclairs and cream puffs make for sprightliness. Angel food encourages youthfulness.

South America Unchanged, Report Declares

England in Less Favorable Position Than Others

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—A trend "toward economic improvement in many countries" was declared by the Commerce Department today to be shown in special advices from its representatives. Conditions in South America were reported unchanged.

"Steady slow progress continues in the Irish Free State; there has been a reduction in the unfavorable trade balance but agriculture is reported affected by excessive rains," the summary said.

"Italian business showed somewhat greater optimism, based on the belief that depression has passed; unemployment is greater than at this time last year, but increased work on government-manned improvement schemes is expected in the fall.

"No amelioration has occurred in British trade conditions and the lack of business confidence has been emphasized by the unfavorable government outlook; unemployment has increased further.

"Conditions in Europe are increasingly difficult. Good crops have failed to improve general economic conditions in Turkey.

"Heavy rains in Argentina have prevented improvement in the cereal and livestock output. No business improvement has occurred in Brazil.

"The Mexican President has announced his intention to relinquish control over customs duty; faster railway service to United States points has been inaugurated.

"Cotton spinning and weaving activity in Japan has increased slightly in response to better conditions in China."

CHINESE SILVER LOAN ADVISED

Pittman Reports Suggestion of Subcommittee

Powers May Lend Hundreds of Millions of Ounces

Nevada Senator Says Trade Would Be Revived

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 8. (AP)—A recommendation for an international loan of several hundred million ounces of silver to China as a means of stabilization of oriental trade and the pacification of that country is under consideration by the Senate subcommittee on foreign relations, it was revealed here today by Senator Pittman of Nevada, its chairman.

Addressing the Salt Lake Chamberr of Commerce, he reported the tentative findings of the subcommittee, which held hearings in Washington and principal Pacific Coast cities on commercial relations with China. Testimony of bankers, manufacturers, exporters, importers and others familiar with the political and commercial history of China was heard.

EXPORTS FALL OFF

"The committee is considering the recommendation, through its report to the Senate, of a plan to pacify China, finance the national government and place the 450,000,000 of Chinese people in the peaceful pursuits of industry rather than the destructive enterprise of war," Senator Pittman said. "Some constructive action is essential, because our exports to China, including wheat, lumber, automobiles and other manufactures, have fallen off over 50 per cent in the last seven or eight months.

"The plan anticipates joint action of China, Great Britain, France, Japan, the United States and other interested governments. A silver pool would be organized by such governments, making available several hundred million ounces of silver to be advanced to the Chinese national government as and when needed for peaceful purposes as approved by a joint commission of such lending powers, such as expenditures for roads, transportation and restoration of men and women to their homes and employment, and to remove present famine conditions.

MEASURE IN OUNCES

"The agreement probably would have to contain provisions that would bring the four dominant war lords of China, who now control vast armies and areas, into the national government to participate in its administration, the advances of loans to be made to be measured in ounces and not in values, and to be repaid, principal and interest, in ounces of silver.

"According to the testimony of witnesses qualified to express an opinion, such a plan would be agreeable to the national government, the four war lords and the people of China. The plan, in the opinion of such witnesses, would result in the immediate pacification of China, the establishment of control of the national government over the whole of China, the opening up of the vast interior and the revivification of all industry.

INCREASE COMMERCE

"Such an accomplishment, so these witnesses testify, would increase our commerce with China tenfold, would consume almost immediately our entire surplus of wheat and would greatly reduce our surplus of lumber, automobiles and other manufactures. China, under such conditions, it is contended by all of such witnesses, could use more silver than is now available from the total production of all of the mines producing silver in the world.

"This would naturally have a tendency to increase the price of silver and the purchasing power of that metal, which is the only money or purchasing medium of China, as well as many other countries. In fact, in passing I may say that over half of the people of the world have no other money than silver, and such increase in the purchasing prices of silver would increase the purchasing power of all other countries to the great benefit of our exports.

HOOVER MUST APPROVE

"The price of silver, of course, would change, but it would range within smaller limits and such demand would undoubtedly hold the price and purchasing power throughout the world at such a limit as to insure prosperity in China and all other silver-using countries. It is probable such an agreement would include provisions against the unreasonable dumping of silver on the market of the world derived from the melting up or debasement of existing silver coins.

"Of course, after the Senate has approved a resolution containing any such plan it would then have to go to the President of the United States to be consummated into an agreement if the plan met his approval. Discussion by the President of such an agreement would be very simple, as the ambassadors, ministers and other representatives of all of such powers are permanently located in Washington city. Any such agreement, which would be called a treaty, would be instantly ratified by the United States Senate, as it would have already approved the plan."

Soviet Protests Armed Raids of White Russians

MOSCOW, Oct. 8. (AP)—The soviet consul at Harbin, M. Znamensky, today handed Marshal Chang Hsues-Liang a note protesting against antisoviet activities of White Russians on the Chinese Eastern Railway and demanding Chinese authorities take immediate measures to terminate such activities.

Referring to the Peiping-Mukden agreements of 1924, and also Article IV of the Khabarovsk protocol, the note called the attention of the Manchurian war lord to the forays of armed White guards in his province, asserting that they "terrorize employees of the Chinese Eastern Railway and rob and murder peaceful soviet and Chinese citizens."

The soviet government warned Chang Hsueh-Liang such provocations endanger peace.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS (Mo.) Oct. 8. (AP)—E. L. Morse, veteran Republican leader of Missouri, will be buried here Sunday after a funeral oration delivered by former Senator James A. Reed.

Although they belonged to opposing political parties, "Liv" Morse and "Jim" Reed were friends for many years. It was Morse's wish that Reed deliver the eulogy at his funeral.

BERLIN RETIRES ITS MAYOR AFTER INQUIRY

BERLIN, Oct. 8. (AP)—The city of Berlin today retired Lord Mayor Gustav Boess on a pension of about $7500 annually "for reasons of health." The decision leading to his retirement came only after his administration had been subjected to a searching investigation as a consequence of charges of favoritism in letting of municipal contracts. The scandal arose while he was visiting in the United States about a year ago. Most of the charges which concerned him personally he disproved.

CHICAGO CRIME ANALYSIS MADE

Col. Randolph Offers Ideas on Lawlessness Cause

Illegal Liquor Forces Get Portion of Blame

Union Labor Agents Hit for Business Coercion

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. (AP)—The underlying causes of crime in Chicago are two, Col. Robert I. Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce and the man who appointed the "secret six" crime committee of that body, told a New York Board of Trade luncheon meeting today.

"The first," he said, "is the effect of the prohibition law. The second, more difficult to describe or define, is the increasing tendency or willingness on the part of many business men and institutions, regarded and regarding themselves as decent citizens, to purchase special privileges, to violate all law to procure unfair weapons in the increasing competition of our economic life."

Illegal profits made through the sale of liquor are the meat on which the crime octopus feeds, he said.

"An army of thieves, thugs, gunmen and rascals has been built up in the last twelve years, and government has broken down in this country because respectable citizens by the millions pay a constantly mounting tribute to those robber barons for stuff they wouldn't drink if it was lawful," he continued.

"We had crime a-plenty when liquor was lawful, of course, and the breeding spots of vice and crime were nearly always to be found in tough saloons, but the lawful liquor trade did not have to support the vast organization of criminals that now gets its sinews of war against society from the smuggling, manufacture and distribution of contraband beer and booze. No other form of criminality is so universally condoned or so liberally supported.

The building up of spurious "business associations" for obtaining special privileges and price control of certain markets, Col. Randolph declared, has led to a system which preys alike on the consumer, the laborer and the honest business man.

Dishonest business agents of labor unions have seized a power never intended for them, he charged, calling on the "rank ond file of the union labor" to purge their organizations of such men.

CALIFORNIAN SWINDLED AS HE GOES TO CHURCH

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 8. (AP) C. J. O'Connor of Culver City, Cal., is looking for two men he met in church. He is also looking for $1000 he says they took from him in a horse-race swindle.

The California man, he told police here, was seeking a church of his denomination on a recent Sunday morning and inquired the way of a well-dressed stranger. The latter affably volunteered to take him there and en route they passed another fashionably dressed man, whom his chance acquaintance informed him was becoming wealthy through a horse-race syndicate.

When he arrived at church it turned out the third man also was attending services there, and he agreed to let O'Connor in on the syndicate. Next morning O'Connor turned over his $1000, and that's the last he's seen of it, or his new-found friends, either.

LAWYERS TO ATTACK DRY LAW TODAY

Test Case Based on Plea Amendment Was Ratified in Wrong Manner

TRENTON (N. J.) Oct. 8. (AP)—A group of New York and New Jersey lawyers will attack the constitutionality of the Eighteenth Amendment before Judge Clark in Federal Court tomorrow, raising a point they believe has been overlooked in previous tests.

Their ground for attack is the contention that the amendment, depriving the people of reserved rights, was not legally adopted because ratified by the legislatures instead of the people assembled in State constitutional conventions.

The lawyers include Daniel F. Cohalan, chairman of the special committee of the New York County Lawyers' Association studying the Eighteenth Amendment; Seldon Bacon, member of the committee; Julius Henry Cohen, member of the committee and chairman of the committee on constitutional amendments of the New York City Bar; Prof. Leslie J. Thompkins, head of New York University Law School, and Frederic M. P. Pearse, Newark, formerly Assistant Federal Attorney.

The case of William Sprague, Sussex county farmer, will form the basis for the test. Pearse will open the case by pleading Sprague not guilty.

FRENCH BOY TO CONTEST IN ORATORY

Andre Pierre Fioux Has Led Nation in Forensics; Second in History

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (Exclusive)—France, whose spokesman won the championship two years ago, will seek victory in the International Oratorical Contest finals here Saturday, the 25th inst., with Andre Pierre Fioux, winner of its national finals.

Young Fioux, who is 18 years of age, is a student of the Lyce Clermont-Ferrand and he comes to the contest as a formidable contender, since the French language has won the finals for the last two years, France itself taking the victory two years ago and a French-Canadian winning for the Dominion last year. Fioux won the second prize in a history contest among all the schools of France last July.

In his contest participation Fioux is speaking on "Liberty, Equality and Fraternity."

One Arrested in Robbery of Mrs. Thompson

CHICAGO, Oct. 8. (AP)—A man named Sam Battaglia, described as having a "baby face," was being held tonight, heavily guarded, as one of the robbers who held up Mrs. William Hale Thompson, wife of the Mayor, Monday night.

Police Commissioner Alcock announced Battaglia had been identified as one of the robbers by Policeman O'Malley, who was acting as Mrs. Thompson's chauffeur at the time of the robbery.

Battaglia was arrested with William Carr, less than two days after the robbery, in which jewelry valued at $15,500 was taken from Mrs. Thompson. None of the jewelry has been recovered.

POLITICIAN KILLS SELF

CHICAGO, Oct. 8. (AP)—Fred Mann, widely known in Chicago's night life, politics and sports, was found dead on a bench in Lincoln Park today. A farewell note and a .32-caliber pistol in his hands led police to pronounce the case a suicide.

It is Studebaker's deliberate judgment that free wheeling

is the greatest development in automotive engineering since the self starter

Why America is going free wheeling

MOMENTUM is generated by every automobile. But until Studebaker developed Free Wheeling with positive gear control it was wasted. Not only was it wasted, but in the process caused wear and tear on engine, propeller shaft, universal joints, clutch, transmission, differential and rear axle. Not only that but it pumped unwanted oil and gasoline through the engine—more waste.

CUTS OPERATING COSTS—Free Wheeling puts momentum to work—under control. It saves 12% to 20% in gas and oil. It adds immeasurably to chassis life and cuts repair bills. The engine works only 8 miles while the car travels 10. Free Wheeling merits a slogan like that with which coaster-brake bicycles made obsolete all cycles not so equipped: "Ride all day—pedal halfway." But even if Free Wheeling cost more instead of less—America would go Free Wheeling.

BETTER PERFORMANCE—Free Wheeling gives the driver a new and thrilling sensation of freedom of movement. And it results in undreamed-of ease of shifting. You may move the gearshift lever back and forth between high and second at any car speed, without touching the clutch.

QUIET—Even in second you may glide smoothly forward without a sound.

SAFETY—The full braking power of the engine is instantly and easily available even at high speeds.

LOW ONE-PROFIT PRICES—Those who are driving Free Wheeling Studebaker Eights will tell you that they would demand this great engineering advancement even if it cost more and even if there were no savings in cost of operation. But Studebaker Eights cost less to operate and they are built on the famous Studebaker One-Profit basis—built to the standards of quality established by Studebaker through 78 years.

IN our announcement advertising we said, Free Wheeling under positive gear control is the greatest development in automotive engineering since the self starter was introduced nineteen years ago.

The American public is confirming it by purchases of Studebaker cars. Here are the facts:

JULY

Free Wheeling Commanders and Presidents were announced July 10th and Studebaker jumped to 6th place in number of new cars registered in July.

AUGUST

Other manufacturers either announced new models or reduced prices in July and August, but Studebaker advanced to 5th place among the 45 makes of new cars registered in August.

SEPTEMBER

On September 18th a new Dictator Eight with Free Wheeling was announced and Studebaker ranks fourth in some of the few states from which registration reports have been received.

These other features of the new Studebaker Eights would put them ahead of all competition even without Free Wheeling.

A new deal for todays dollar!

NASH

Announces . . .

3 new EIGHTS and a new SIX

NEVER was such motor car quality offered at prices so sensationally low. The literally startling difference becomes at once apparent when you contrast the prices of the new and finer Nash series, with prices of corresponding models a year ago.

Coming at this time, these wholly remarkable values constitute an achievement of special import, not only to those who buy—but to those who manufacture motor cars, as well.

This unique example in value-giving was planned last November. At that time, C. W. Nash and the strong group of executives surrounding him, clearly foresaw present conditions. They at once began to design cars affording value so great, so unmistakable, as to overcome all buying reluctance.

The result is instantly apparent. Even casual inspection of the four new Nash cars establishes the fact that nothing even remotely approaching them in downright dollar value has ever been available in their respective price fields.

The low non-productive Nash overhead, the fact that Nash operates entirely without the heavy financial burden of borrowed capital, and the foresightedness of the Nash organization, alone enable Nash to offer so much for so little.

These three factors have combined to produce in these cars beauty and luxury and performance so notable, at prices so low by contrast, as to win for Nash a still larger place in the minds and the hearts of the motoring public.

Whatever style of car you desire, there is a Nash suited to your needs. Come in at once—drive one of these thrilling new cars—let us appraise your present car.

SENSATIONALLY PRICED!

STUDY THESE SENSATIONAL PRICES!

Compare what is probably the most remarkable achievement of Nash in greater value-giving—the New Six—with the Single Six it succeeds. The New Six offers a multitude of superiorities—at prices which range from $160 to $140 below the prices of the Single Six.

AGRICULTURAL BUDGET FIGURED

G. H. Hecke, State Director, at Riverside Conference

Experiment Station, School and Grower Represented

Recommendations Will Be Put in Final Draft

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 8.—Representatives of California's growers' organizations, State schools and experiment stations, today conferred with G. H. Hecke, State director of agriculture, as to anticipated needs for the fiscal year of 1931-32, in a conference at the University of California citrus experiment station here.

Hecke, in turn, presented to the representatives of the various organizations, who comprise the California agricultural legislative committee, the tentative budget for the fiscal year in question and the various items, providing for maintenance of the schools and continuance of quarantine and pest control throughout the State, which were submitted to considerable discussion.

NO DETAILS TOLD

The recommendations growing out of the conference will be considered in the drafting of the final budget which will be submitted to the next session of the Legislature and become effective July 1, 1931, when passed. Because the budget still is in a tentative state, no detailed report of its contents was available following the conference. It is understood to provide for a much-broadened program in many lines of protective and corrective measures executed by the State Department.

Generous treatment is reported to be accorded the University of California citrus experiment station here in the appropriations for the year.

Nearly fifty officials and representatives of organizations receiving direct or indirect aid from the State Department were in attendance at the budget session.

A. C. Hardison, Santa Paula, representing, with two other men, the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, was named chairman of the conference, and Ralph H. Taylor of Sacramento, executive secretary of the agricultural legislative committee, was chosen acting secretary.

MANY LEADERS PRESENT

Among others present were: C. B. Hutchison, dean of the State College of Agriculture at Davis; W. C. Jacobsen, chief of the Bureau of Plant Quarantine of the State Department; H. W. Levers, chief accountant under Hecke, J. A. Smiley, Orange, regional director of the California Farm Bureau Federation, who also represented the walnut industry; H. J. Ramsey and R. S. Woglum, both of Los Angeles, for the California Fruit Exchange; A. J. McFadden, Sacramento, California Fruit Exchange; E. C. Dutton and G. B. Hodgkin, for the Avocado Growers; Bruce S. Boyer, T. H. Rosenberger and Donald Mitchell, Coachella Valley, for Deglet Noor Date Growers' Association; J. T. Culbertson, San Fernando, nurseryman; Glen Blackman, Rvierside, and R. Hasten of Garden Grove, lemon growers, and Dr. George P. Clements, chairman of the agricultural committee, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Adams, Centenarian of Pasadena, Dies

PASADENA, Oct. 8.—Funeral services for Mrs. Eliza Jane Adams, whose hundredth birthday was celebrated August 29, will be conducted in Galesburg, Mich., her former home, it was announced today by Turner and Stevens Company. Mrs. Adams died suddenly last night at her home, 545 East Claremont street.

She was born in Ulster county, New York, and in 1836 accompanied her family to Kalamazoo county, Michigan, where she attended the Cedar Park Seminary.

She was married to the late H. Dale Adams, who was credited with inducing Gov. Bagley of Michigan to set aside Arbor Day for special observance.

For more than forty years, Mr. and Mrs. Adams resided in Galesburg, where she was one of the founders of women's organizations in that city.

On the occasion of her recent birthday, she declared that she had never joined a church because she "had never been enough of a hypocrite" to think she could love her neighbor like herself. A modern in religion, she was a conservative regarding women's dress and place in society.

She leaves one living child, D. B. Adams of Albany, Or., twelve grandchildren, four great-grandsons and eight great-granddaughters.

FORMER STUDENT OF REDLANDS EXPIRES

REDLANDS, Oct. 8.—Word was received here today of the death of Miss Fern Marzolf, 21 years of age, a former student at the University of Redlands, at her home in Nauvoo, Ill. Miss Marzolf was a student here for two years and would have been a senior here this year had not poor health prevented her return to school. She leaves her parents, a sister, and a brother, in Nauvoo, and one brother in Mason, Mo. Miss Marzolf was an exceptional student, winning the highest honors and receiving the faculty scholarship for last year. She was secretary of Delta Alpha scholastic fraternity and was pledged to Sigma Tau Delta, English honorary group, at the beginning of her junior year. Previous to coming to Redlands she had been in school at Bardley College, Peoria, Ill., for one year.

COLLEGIAN SPEAKERS IN ELECTION

Prof. Joseph H. Baccus of Redlands Chosen to Head Southland Group

REDLANDS, Oct. 8.—Prof. Joseph H. Baccus, of the University of Redlands, was elected president and William W. Little, student body representative of the university, was chosen secretary-treasurer of the Southern California intercollegiate public-speaking conference which was held on the 4th inst. at Founders' Hall, La Verne College, at the annual meeting. The other officer chosen for the coming year was Prof. Eugene Knox of Whittier College as vice-president.

PROF. JOSEPH H. BACCUS.

The Pi Kappa Delta question was adopted as the conference debate question for the coming season. The official wording of this question is: "Resolved, that the nations should adopt a policy of free trade." Considering the recent steps taken by the United States along this line, the arguments presented on the case should be of interest to all economists and students of the tariff situation.

The conference oratorical contest is to be held at Occidental College, with a tentative date of April 23 or 24. The conference declamation contest will be at Redlands on May 7 or 8. The material used in the contest will be taken from modern poetry since 1900. Each reading will be timed for twelve minutes.

The conference extemporaneous speaking contest is to be held at the California Institute of Technology November 20 or 21. Current topics from "Time" of the 6th inst. to November 20 will be selected for the extempore contest.

"Resolved: That installment buying is detrimental to the American Public," is the freshman debate question. The frosh debates will be the last week of April and the first two weeks of May. Varsity debates have been set for the month of February and the first two weeks of March.

The following colleges and universities were represented: The University of Redlands, Whittier College, La Verne College, California Institute of Technology, Occidental College and Southwestern University.

Dr. Emmons in Resignation of Council Post

ONTARIO, Oct. 8.—Having served the city of Ontario for nearly six years as a member of City Council, and two years yet remaining on his term of office, Dr. Calvert L. Emmons has tendered his resignation to Mayor Francis P. Williams, and Council has accepted it, Mayor Williams announced today.

Dr. Emmons declared in handing in his resignation that pressure of business and other civic affairs prompted him to take such action. He has held the position of city health officer for years, and is now carrying on an extensive public health program, which demands considerable time.

Upon acceptance of the resignation Council set about to name a successor, and the choice fell upon Charles E. Mead, 1004 North Euclid avenue, prominently identified with the Bank of Italy.

Mead has lived here for ten years, coming here from Colton where he had served on the Council board and been prominent in civic affairs.

For six years Mead engaged in the drug business here, and since then has been identified with banking.

In accepting the resignation from Dr. Emmons, City Council members expressed regret at his leaving the board, and Mayor Francis Williams thanked him extensively for his co-operation with the members.

Dr. Emmons was a member of the finance committee.

LENNOX YOUTH HELD ON VARIED CHARGES

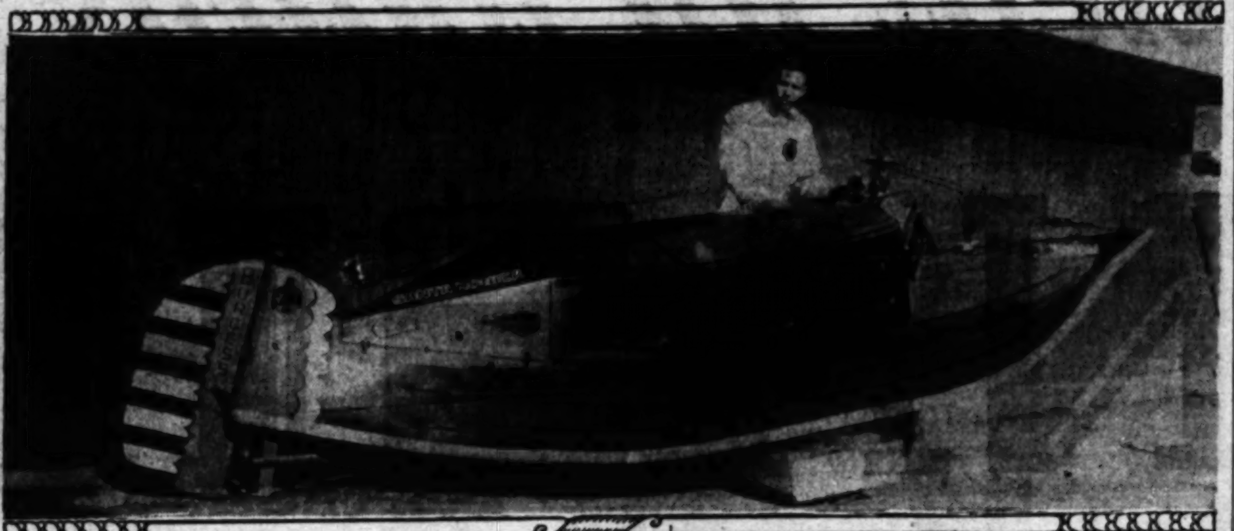
MANHATTAN BEACH, Oct. 8.—Don Collins, 20-year-old Lenox youth, was arrested here last night by police officer Paul Whitehead, and turned over to Inglewood police who have been looking for him on a list of charges which are all out of proportion to his years. Collins, who gave his name as Floyd Derry, had a car in his possession, asserted to be stolen, and is charged by the Inglewood officers with two counts of stolen cars, two fictitious check charges and one for burglary.

INHALATOR SQUAD'S WORK SEEMS IN VAIN

ALTADENA, Oct. 8.—Apparently restored to life yesterday through efforts of the local fire department's squad, an infant son born early yesterday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Paul DeRuff of 2004 North Fair Oaks avenue, suffered a relapse today and is reported in a dying condition. A heart weakness is responsible for the baby's condition, according to physicians. An emergency operation, injection of blood, and continuous use of artificial respiration, are reported to have failed to bring the desired results.

MOTOR BOAT OF ODD DESIGN BOUND FOR ISLAND

Craft Resembling Seaplane Pontoon Expected to Make Honolulu



Sergt. William Burgess of United States Air Reserve and His Twenty-one-Foot Motor Boat, the Miss Iona, Designed Along New Lines

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 8.—From Santa Monica Bay to Honolulu in a twenty-one-foot motor boat of a design making it resemble the pontoon of certain seaplanes, steered by a robot when the lone human occupant sleeps and negotiating the perilous jaunt across 2227 miles of the Pacific Ocean in approximately three and a half days, is the adventure for which Sergt. William Burgess, aviator attached to the Four Hundred and Seventy-sixth Air Reserve Squadron, has been working behind closed doors in his garage at 1150 Fifth street, this city, during the past sixteen months.

His tiny but beautifully built craft, the Miss Iona, has been designed by the young flyer to reduce to a minimum both water and air resistance. It has water-tight compartments both fore and aft.

Built of airplane plywood, it has a forty-four-inch beam and thirty-six-inch draft. It is fitted at its tapered stern with a rudder similar to those used on airplanes, so attached that two-thirds of it will stand out of the water.

When young Burgess sleeps during his speedy cruise, his craft is designed to keep on skimming over the surface of the sea in charge of a mechanical pilot. The ingenious aviator has invented a robot which will keep the Miss Iona on her course when her sole human occupant slumbers.

A radio transmitter and receiving set are other features installed aboard the tiny craft, together with a carbon tetrachloride fire extinguisher of the airplane kind. The motor boat's cruising speed is between twenty-five and thirty miles an hour.

The craft will be capable of a speed of forty miles an hour, Burgess estimates, when he has installed a Universal Bluejacket motor, which is practically vibrationless, and which he is now trying to finance. If he is able to obtain this motor, he says, he will push off some time next spring or summer in the Miss Iona.

DENVER GIRL HEARS CALL OF SCREEN

But Ruby McDaniels Gets Only to Alhambra Before She's Headed Off

ALHAMBRA, Oct. 8.—With her white sport shoes badly worn and presenting altogether a bedraggled appearance, a 15-year-old Denver girl, whom the lights of Hollywood and dreams of a screen career had beckoned, came to the end of her rainbow here late last night. She was found by police wandering in an exhausted condition at Garfield avenue and Main street shortly after midnight and was taken to police headquarters. She said her name was Ruby McDaniels.

After she had been given food and a warm bath, she told Police Matron Rose Gruss that she had left her home in Denver early last week and with another girl, who, she said, was Mary Butterworth, set out for Hollywood via the hitch-hike route. Arriving in El Paso, she said, her friend became tired of traveling and chose a career in a restaurant instead of forging on toward the film capital. Ruby started out from that point alone.

Motorists gave her rides most of the way, she declared, but there was plenty of walking, even then. When stopped by the police here she thought she had arrived in Hollywood and looked vainly around the scene for the studios.

Ruby was turned over to the county juvenile authorities today.

Plan Broached for Controlling Wayside Stands

REDLANDS, Oct. 8.—E. A. Moore, president of the Redlands Planning Commission, and member of the County Planning Board, today presented to the board a plan for controlling the small stands that are springing up along all the main highways of the county and are so often unsightly.

The plan advanced by Moore would be the passage of a county ordinance requiring that such stands must cost so much and that the plans for the same must be presented to a board for approval. In this way he believes that the unsightly places can be kept from the highways.

Moore told members of the board there is no doubt but that main highways will continue to have more and more of these places where fruits and various articles are sold. If they are required to come up to a certain standard in architecture and appearance then it will encourage only those who are anxious to have an attractive and worth-while business, he declares.

Moore believes the ordinance could also control to a large extent the placing of signs along the highway.

More Aid for Maricopa Road to Be Sought

VENTURA, Oct. 8.—A plea for more financial aid for the Maricopa highway will be made to B. B. Meek, director of the State Department of Public Works by the tri-county highway board within two weeks, the board decided at its meeting here today following a long-distance conversation with Meek at Sacramento.

The board members either will call upon Meek in his Sacramento offices the 20th inst., or will appear before him and the State Highway Commission at the latter's meeting the 23rd inst. in San Diego.

AGED PRIEST DIES IN MONASTERY HOME

MONTEBELLO, Oct. 8.—Funeral services were conducted at 10 a.m. today at St. Benedict's Catholic Church, for Rev. Dom Hillaire Cassal, 82 years of age, who died unexpectedly at St. Vincent's Hospital Monday. Interment will be at Calvary Cemetery. He was born at Braumath, Alsace Lorraine, France, and was ordained to priesthood in 1872. He came to the United States in 1894. In 1912 Father Hillaire came to Montebello and acted as instructor in moral theology at the Benedictine Monastery. In 1927 he retired from active duties and has since then remained at the local monastery.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGED

L. H. Wadsworth of Los Angeles Held Responsible by Coroner's Jury for Death of School-Teacher

ONTARIO, Oct. 8.—L. H. Wadsworth, Los Angeles, must face a charge of manslaughter, following the death Monday morning of Miss Gloria Lopez, 28-year-old member of Chaffey Union High School faculty, caused by a crash on Arrow Route east of Upland. A Coroner's jury investigating the death held Wadsworth responsible, and the District Attorney's office at once issued a complaint charging manslaughter.

According to testimony given at the inquest held at Draper's chapel here, Wadsworth failed to stop his automobile at an intersection "stop" sign at the Oleander-street crossing. His automobile struck the rear of the car driven by Miss Lopez, whirling it about. Miss Lopez was thrown from her automobile and hurled into a tree, and death was instantaneous.

The Coroner's verdict was that Miss Lopez's death came "from a fractured skull, caused by her car being struck by the car of L. H. Wadsworth, and said collision occurred through negligence on the part of L. H. Wadsworth."

Wadsworth refused to make any statement or to testify from the witness stand. His son-in-law, R. M. Thornest, who was with Wadsworth at the time of the accident, testified that Wadsworth's car was not stopped at the intersection with Arrow Route. Constable T. C. McDonald of Fontana, testified the intersection is a boulevard stop, and is so designated by signs.

Archie Moore, also of Chaffey faculty, on the way to Fontana to teach, testified he was following closely behind Miss Lopez's car, and that Wadsworth's machine was traveling "swiftly" when it entered Arrow Route. He was the first to reach the side of Miss Lopez, and she was dead when he picked her up, Moore testified. Her head was crushed.

The inquest was conducted by Deputy County Coroner D. F. Ralphs and Dist.-Atty. George H. Johnson conducted the examination of witnesses.

Miss Lopez enjoyed a wide circle of friends in Chaffey district, having worked among Mexican and Spanish-speaking people of the district for several years.

Through her own efforts she worked her way through Chaffey Junior College, and was on the teaching staff of the school at the time of her death. She was on the way to Fontana to teach Spanish.

Her father died two years ago, and Miss Lopez was the support of the family.

COUNTY ASKED TO AID STORM-DRAIN WORK

SAN FERNANDO, Oct. 8. — The county flood-control department will be requested to allocate funds with which to help pay the expenses of enlarging the storm drain on Eighth street here, to carry off flood waters from May Canyon into the Pacoima Wash. The City Council has decided that the drain should be greatly enlarged and improved in order to adequately handle the overflow water coming from May Canyon during the rainy season. The ditch was constructed several years ago, but because of neglect, has become filled with silt and sand, making it useless as a storm drain. The proposed improvement includes connecting the ditch with the channel and check dam reservoirs recently completed by the county flood-control department above Foothill Boulevard. All overflow water would then be carried through the ditch into the Pacoima Wash at Eighth street.

JUDGE SAYS HE HAS "NO KICKS"

Santa Barbara Justice in Commentary on Culprits' Usual Point of View

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 8. Most violators of the law are honest, according to Justice of the Peace Jacob Shoup. Last month, he took in $1531 in fines and he reported he had "no kicks."

"Those whom I fined made no excuses and admitted their minor offenses easily enough," he said. "There are a few violators of the law who on occasion try to make excuses but the general run admit that they committed the violation of the law with which they are charged, pay the fine and some times vow not to do it again."

Valley's Baby Lima Harvest Nears Finish

RESEDA, Oct. 8.—About 85 per cent of the San Fernando Valley baby lima-bean harvest has been completed, it is reported today by John H. Walters, manager of the Valley Bean Growers' Association, who also states that the 10,500 acres planted this season will yield about fifteen to eighteen sacks to the acre.

Some of the new harvest of the beans already have passed through the association warehouses and have been shipped to markets in the southern States, where each year about 90 per cent of the valley crop is consumed.

At present there are about twenty harvesting-machines at work in the valley area, cleaning up on the rest of the crop. As a first estimate it is now believed that the total crop this year will amount to about 16,000,000 pounds which at 10 cents a pound will make the baby-lima harvest worth $1,600,000. Within recent years this has been something near the price. This year, however, it is believed the price will be somewhat lower as present bean markets are weak, though not without the prospect of picking up later in the year, Walters states.

Fifteen acres, as an experiment, was planted to Hopi beans in the valley this year, by Reese Brothers. This bean is something on the order of the baby lima "butter bean." It has higher productive qualities, and appears to be especially adapted to growth and cultivation in this section. So well has the experiments proved this season that growers here, in the Van Nuys district and in the western valley area report that within the next few years the Hopi bean may take the place of the present baby lima as a whole-valley crop. The bean gets its name from the Hopi Indians who are said to have brought it to perfection in the dry-farm regions of Arizona.

QUARRYMAN HIT BY FALLING STONE DIES

SANTA MARIA, Oct. 8. — His head split open by a boulder which fell from a ledge in the rock quarry near Honda, Leonardo Marinao, 47 years of age, died in the Santa Maria Hospital today after hovering between life and death since last Saturday. Coroner E. G. Dodge conducted an inquest here into the death. The Coroner's jury found death was the result of an accident. Marinao was injured last Saturday afternoon while working in the quarry. A huge boulder, described by workmen as being at least a foot square, fell on him, striking him on the head. The boulder fell some 100 feet, workmen said. He was taken to the Santa Maria Hospital, but never regained consciousness. He leaves relatives in San Francisco. His body is to be sent there, according to Coroner Dodge.

Secret of Aged Man's Past Life Dies With Him

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 8.—With the passing of an old man in the Orange County Hospital all past secrets of his life have gone with him. Up to the last breath that he drew he would not tell whence he came or who his people are or were. Nurses and doctors in attendance urged the dying man to tell them something of himself but his lips were always sealed. The only information he gave was a name and perhaps that was only borrowed. He stated that thirty-five years ago he had a brother living in New York, but would not disclose this relative's name.

Enis Roper, about 75 years of age, was found last winter during a severe cold spell lying in an abandoned barn. When the police officers here found him he was ill with cold and hunger. He was lying on old sacks, covered by others. The officers called the health department and he was taken to the Santa Ana hospital where he died today.

The body is at the Dixon Funeral Home here. The remains will be buried in the Potter's field.

REX CLARK GRANTED HIS DIVORCE

Owner of Lake Norconian Club Given Interlocutory Decree at Riverside

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 8.—Interlocutory decree of divorce today was granted Rex. B. Clark, wealthy owner of the huge Lake Norconian Club, from Mrs. Grace Scripps Clark. Plaintiff charges desertion on May 16, 1929. Mrs. Clark filed an answer which denied the charge.

What is considered a new record for speed in divorce actions in Riverside county courts was made in the case today. Clark's complaint, the answer of Mrs. Clark, and their stipulation for an immediate hearing, were filed shortly after 11 o'clock this morning. The case was heard by Judge G. R. Freeman in Superior Court at 1 p.m. Before 1:30 o'clock the judgment had been entered.

Both parties to the action, as well as one of the sons of the couple, testified in the hearing.

In granting the decree of divorce, the court held that the settlement will be final in the determination of mutual property rights and obligations. Final decree of divorce may be obtained in one year.

Both Clark and his wife were in the office of County Clerk D. G. Clayton, accompanied by their attorneys, to file the papers this morning. They appeared on pleasant terms.

Clark was represented by Attorneys Fredericks, Hanna and Martin of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Clark by Attorneys Hahn & Hahn of that city.

According to the complaint, there is no community property, and a settlement of their financial affairs was agreed upon by the couple September 24, in Los Angeles. In this they mutually released each other from all liability and obligations to pay alimony or support.

The couple married September 4, 1901, at Detroit. There are three children, Rex Scripps Clark, William Scripps Clark and Ellen Virginia Clark.

Clark asked the court to grant the divorce and also to confirm the contract of property settlement. Mrs. Clark is a member of the well-known California Scripps family.

Battle Practice in Air to Be at Santa Barbara

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 8.—Santa Barbara residents will get a glimpse of air-battle maneuvers within the next two or three weeks if the plans of reserve and army officers of the United States Army field in Long Beach materialize.

Capt. P. N. Hollowell received word yesterday to expect between twenty and twenty-five planes with Reserve Army and Regular Army pilots on the week-end of the 25th inst. or November 1.

There will be two squadrons of planes in flights of three on the trip which will be what is known as a "tactical move." Battle maneuvers probably will be held by the two squadrons over the Santa Barbara-Goleta airport where they are expected to land, according to Capt. Hollowell.

It is expected that one of the squadrons will be a pursuit group and the other will be a combat group. The pilots and assistants will spend the week-end in Santa Barbara.

They will be entertained by Capt. Hollowell and a group of local residents who have made friends with the flyers in their former trips to the city. The reserve flyers have flown to Santa Barbara two or three times within the past few months on practice flights. The group came here to assist in the Fourth of July celebration last summer.

HUNTINGTON BEACH TO HAVE BETTER WATER

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 8. The American States Water Service Corporation is planning to spend between $25,000 and $30,000 on the improvement of its water system here, it was made known yesterday. New wells will be drilled so that the city can be provided with better water. It will mean the laying of new water mains in the district. Many oil wells have been drilled in the Huntington Beach field and the water used for drinking purposes has been polluted with minerals. City Councilman Bayard Butcher, local pharmacist, has been making a survey of the water condition. Dr. H. K. Sutherland of the County Health Department has examined the water frequently and asserts that it is pure, but contains minerals which make the water less palatable.

Chief Scott after getting a description of the couple detailed officers to find the suspects.

UNION REPORTS INCOME ON OIL

Net for Nine Months Given as $8,000,000

Dividend Requirements Met by 34-Cent Margin

Quarterly in Stock and Cash Extra Announced

Covering dividend requirements by the satisfactory margin of 34 cents a share, the Union Oil Company of California yesterday reported net earnings for the first nine months in 1930 of $8,000,000, or $1.84 a share on 4,345,120 shares outstanding as of September 30, last.

L. P. St. Clair, president, also announced the declaration of the regular cash dividend of 50 cents a share and the quarterly stock dividend of 1 per cent, both payable November 10 to stock of record the 18th inst. Mr. St. Clair also announced that the question of stock dividends in the future will be considered by the directors at the close of each fiscal year.

Net earnings of $8,000,000 after all charges, including depletion, depreciation, drilling expenditures, taxes and provident fund, compare with $12,000,000 for the first nine months of 1929, when earnings were equivalent to $2.94 on 4,082,068 shares. In the same period of 1928 the company earned $8,550,000, or $2.25 a share on 3,794,540 shares.

WRITE-OFF GIVEN

For depreciation, depletion and drilling expenditures the company charged off more than the amount reported as net income, or $8,500,000, equal to $1.96 a share. In the same period of 1929 the charge totaled $11,100,000, or $2.72 a share, and $7,550,000, or $1.99 a share, in the first nine months of 1928.

Illustrating the difficulties under which petroleum companies worked in the nine months' period, the Union Oil report shows a substantial increase in the volume of products sold, but a decrease in the monetary value. Products sold totaled 29,300,000 barrels, compared with 28,600,000 in the same period of 1929, while the value dropped from $77,750,000 in 1929 to $67,400,000 in 1930.

COMPETITION CUTS

"Competition on the Pacific Coast," the report states, "materially lowered the price for gasoline during about one-third of the last six months' period, profits being further reduced by the higher prices paid for refining crude since last March. However, effective September 15, last, the prices of crude oil in California were reduced an average of 10 cents per barrel and the price for gasoline increased 1 cent per gallon throughout the Pacific Coast territory. The conservation program, initiated in California in the fall of last year, has resulted in the company not receiving the same benefits from flush production this year as during the first nine months of 1929."

Production, subject to royalty, of crude oil and natural gasoline approximated 13,900,000 barrels, as compared with 17,200,000 barrels for the nine months of last year. The company at present is producing and purchasing 100,000 barrels of crude oil and natural gasoline daily. Daily average production, subject to royalty, of crude oil and natural gasoline from 495 wells is about 47,000 barrels. In addition, 375 wells capable of producing about 47,500 barrels daily are shut in.

SALES DECLINE

Sales for the nine months amounted to $67,400,000, a decrease of $350,000 from the same period of last year.

Current assets, according to the report, totaled $78,500,000, an increase of $9,700,000 over December 31, last. Current assets at September 30, last, were more than eight to one of current liabilities.

Current liabilities of about $9,700,000 represented a decrease of $250,000 from December 31, last. Total indebtedness, however, increased $12,950,000 during the period as the result of the issuance of $15,000,000 fifteen-year 5 per cent debentures. The remaining first mortgage 5 per cent bonds outstanding, amounting to $1,082,000, were retired, and $907,000 was paid on purchase obligations.

Concerning general conditions in the industry, Mr. St. Clair comments in this fashion:

"A more stable condition appears to be gradually developing throughout the industry. Drilling wells in California have decreased from 663 in February, 1929, to 470 at September 30, last. California crude oil output on September 30 was approximately 590,000 barrels a day, as compared with 878,000 barrels daily average during the peak month of August, 1929. The production of crude oil in the United States at the end of September, last, was averaging about 2,390,000 barrels a day, a decrease of 587,000 barrels from the peak of 2,977,000 barrels in August, 1929. DIVIDEND PAYMENTS RUN HIGH

Total for Nine Months on Local Mart Listings Up 10 Per Cent on 1929

More than $160,000,000 was paid out in cash dividends to holders of stocks listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange during the first nine months this year, a volume 10 per cent greater than last year and 31 per cent larger than two years ago, F. E. Sanford, secretary and manager, announced yesterday.

This record has been reached despite the passing of dividends by eight companies affecting ten issues during the period and in the face of a decrease of 3 per cent in the number of companies and 8 per cent in the number of issues listed on the board, Mr. Sanford pointed out.

The companies that have ploughed back earnings to build up cash resources and working capital by omitting regular payments have increased the equity behind their shares by $5,557,551 to date, according to the stock market's compilation.

While transactions on the exchange for the first nine months this year totaled 7,067,041 shares with a market valuation of $196,754,871, against 12,067,041 shares a year ago, valued at $336,195,168, the dealings were spread more widely throughout the various industrial groups.

Statistics of the market show that whereas last year trading in petroleum issues accounted for more than 66 per cent of the total market turnover, this year the group contributed but 29.7 per cent, which is still the greatest proportion for any division of the exchange.

Miscellaneous issues traded to the extent of 28 per cent of the total turnover against only 9.6 per cent last year. Transactions in public utility stocks increased from 7 per cent to 10 per cent of the total market trading.

Bond sales for the nine months totaled $2,671,500 against $807,000 last year.

Stock Payment for Bus Lines May Be Omitted

C. F. Wren, president of Pickwick Corporation, will recommend passing dividends on the common stock at the meeting of the board scheduled for tomorrow, it was learned yesterday. Three months ago the company paid 2 per cent in stock in lieu of the regular cash payment of 20 cents quarterly on the $10 par value shares. It is understood that omission will be recommended in view of the deflated market value of the stock.

Net earnings in July and August of the Pacific Greyhound lines operating throughout the Pacific Coast and of which Pickwick owns a one-third interest were equal to the results obtained in the same months a year ago, officials of the company stated. This was attributed to a reduction of operating expenses and consolidation economies.

Pickwick's three broadcasting stations, KTAB in San Francisco, KTM in Los Angeles and KGB in San Diego have been grouped in a chain network of nine Coast stations under United Broadcasting Company, formation of which was announced yesterday. Pickwick retains ownership of its stations under the new hook-up, it was stated.

OIL LAND SALES BUILD CASH

Policy of Selling Interests in Desirable Acreage Helpful to Many Companies; Amerada Illustration

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Oil companies fortunately located on proven lands on which new wells are allowed under the curtailment program are doing a brisk business in the sale of acreage or undivided interests. These transactions permit the selling companies to build up cash positions at a time when cash is especially desirable, and enable the purchasing companies to obtain a seat in the front row of legalized drilling activity.

Kettleman Hills land transactions have been active as the result of new wells opening up extensions of the field. In normal times it is doubtful if the companies early in the field would consider sales or partnership arrangements, but the situation evidently is working out satisfactorily to the ends of both the buyer and the seller.

BENEFITS SHOWN

Amerada Corporation, which last week entered into a land deal at Kettleman with the Union Oil Company, is an illustration of the benefits accruing to the seller of well-located oil lands. The cash proceeds from this deal, together with a similar transaction last year in the Mid-Continent, place this company in a strong liquid position at a time when many small companies are somewhat pressed financially.

Amerada takes the position, in explaining the motives behind its sale of undivided interests, that such transactions should not be considered as liquidation of capital assets. The oil business, it is pointed out, involves constant liquidation of properties through production, which amounts to the same thing as sale of proven lands.

In its Union Oil deal Amerada receives $8,000,000 for an undivided half interest in 160 acres, half of the proceeds in cash and the other half from 80 per cent of the Union's share of the production. Last year Amerada sold an undivided half interest in Mid-Continent acreage to Standard of Indiana for $10,000,000, one-half in cash and the other half from production.

PROFIT LARGE

The Union Oil deal represents an immediate profit, according to the company, of approximately $4.20 a share on America's outstanding stock, and a future profit of $4,000,000 from oil. The lease cost Amerada $200,000 in cash and $200,000 from one-half the first oil produced.

Including the Union Oil proceeds, Amerada is able to report net current assets of approximately $12 a share, of which cash and negotiable paper are the equivalent to $10 a share. In addition, contingent amounts receivable from Standard of Indiana and Union Oil from oil and gas production approximate $8,000,000, or $9 a share. The contingent assets are now carried on the books at $1.

The Richfield Oil Company is another standing to profit from the sale of acreage interests. Its Lost Hills holdings have already yielded a cash profit from the Standard Oil Company and other deals may be worked out along the same lines.

Local Building Gain Shown by Straus Survey

Continued improvement in the building industry locally is revealed in figures on building permits in ten representative California cities during September, just compiled by S. W. Straus & Co. These show a total of $13,100,133, compared with $11,894,658 for the previous month, an increase of slightly more than 10 per cent, and a decrease of less than 6 per cent from the September, 1929, total of $13,929,370.

Both Los Angeles and San Francisco showed increases in September over August and over the 1929 month. Los Angeles permits totaled $6,662,761, compared with $6,494,577 in August and $6,629,710 in September of last year. San Francisco permits totaled $1,950,831, against $1,242,128 in August and $1,842,615 in September, 1929. Long Beach permits jumped from $1,201,535 in August to $1,962,190, as against $1,044,085 in September, 1929.

Building permits issued during September, compared with the preceding month and the same period a year ago, follow:

Output of Pig Iron Lowest in Past Six Years

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Declining 6.8 per cent, pig-iron production in September reached the lowest rate since the same month in 1924 with a total output of 2,276,770 tons and a daily average of 75,890 tons, compared with 2,523,921 tons, or 81,417 tons daily in August, according to the Iron Age.

Eighteen furnaces were blown out last month and two were lighted, making a net loss of sixteen, bringing the total number of stacks in blast down to 123, or sixty-two fewer than on April 1, last, when the uninterrupted recession began. This sharp curtailment, bringing production into closer step with consumption, is a source of encouragement and the final stage of adjustment during which the accumulated stocks will be disposed has now been entered.

Steel ingot production also showed a reduction in September, declining 7.3 per cent from August and more than canceling that month's gain over July. Steel ingot output for the country at large averages close to 58 per cent compared with 61 per cent a week ago.

Scrap, always a closely watched barometer, has developed further weakness. Heavy melting grade at Pittsburgh has declined 50 cents a ton for the second time in as many weeks, while recessions of 50 cents at Chicago and St. Louis and 25 cents at Cleveland indicate that the trend is no longer localized.

CARLOADINGS OFF

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Pennsylvania Railroad reported today carloadings for the week ended the 4th inst. of 147,270, against 144,134 cars the previous week and 183,594 a year ago. Loadings since January 1, last, totaled 5,694,042 cars against 6,640,648 last year.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. (AP)—The government cotton crop report was preceded by a decline and followed by an advance here today.

There was considerable liquidation and some southern selling early which sent prices into new low ground for the season before trading was suspended to receive the government report and when business was resumed the market advanced on active covering or rebuying. New December rallied to 10.38 and March to 10.69, making net gains of about 14 to 17 points, but these prices brought out a little more selling and later fluctuations were irregular.

MARKET SITUATION CLOUDY

Traders' Attention Centers on Question of Holding Above Resistance Point of Last November

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The stock market may be convalescing, but it's still pretty sick. Scan the record of some stock market favorites a year ago and today.

The United Corporation sold for $65 a share one year ago, now it's $26; General Electric $90 then, now $60; Radio was $88, now $25; International Nickel $52, now $20; American Foreign Power $161, now $47; Montgomery Ward $112, now $25; American Telephone and Telegraph $291, now $200.

These are but a few. It's better to consider the averages, for they tell a composite rounded story.

Last fall the Dow-Jones industrial averages in the lows of November were carried down to 198.69. They recovered and moved up gradually until June, last, when, in another stock drop, the averages moved back to 211.84. On September 30, in the last break, they moved down to 204.90. Last Monday they were down to 202.76.

Will stocks break their average resistance point of last November? They are within 4.07 points of it now.

That's the question every trader would give a lot to know. Watch it closely in the next few days.

The New York Stock Exchange, in taking official notice of the so-called "oversold" condition, has started an investigation through its business conduct committee.

Public agitation against short selling is growing. If the stock exchange does not correct the abuse of the bear raids it will be done by outside groups who may wreck the whole machinery by attempting to correct something that they are not familiar with.

It's unfortunate that such action was not started a year ago. Now it's like closing the barn door after the horse is stolen. The temper of the American people is such that it would take but very little more to start a real drive against short selling of all kinds, making no discrimination against hedging or any other form of legitimate selling and this would be unfortunate in the extreme.

"I have sixteen standard stocks, all of which, on the market, show a loss to me, but I am selling none of them. This is a buyer's and not a seller's market," said one of the wisest Wall-street operators to me yesterday.

"Many people expect another big drop. Do you?"

"I'll answer that by saying that I believe, like Henry Clews, the old Wall-street banker, who in times like these always used to remark that, 'One cannot cut off a dog's tail twice.' That's how I feel about it now. Some stocks, compared with the highs of last year, look awfully low now. But if you compare them with what they were a year or two before, they look reasonable."

There are forces moving into the wheat market that may have a very vital effect on stock exchange prices.

If the wheat situation is taken in hand, and prices stiffen, it may be the beginning of the stabilizing movement in raw materials.

So one should not confine his interest to the stock market. Watch the price of wheat, too! It may point to something real.

Pacific Finance to Discontinue Stock Dividend

Following the previously announced recommendation of Lee A. Phillips, president of Pacific Finance Corporation, the directors of the company have unanimously voted to discontinue the stock dividend which has been paid on the common stock during the past year and a half, the company announced yesterday.

In a letter to stockholders, Mr. Phillips said: "The business of your corporation requires, at all times, borrowings not only at banks but through the issuance of commercial paper and long-term funded indebtedness. The stock dividend policy of the corporation was inaugurated for the purpose of capitalizing the surplus earnings of the company, thus retaining all available capital in the treasury for enlargement of business operations and curtailing our borrowing requirements.

"During 1929, the capital structure of the corporation was substantially increased through the sale of additional common stock and the conversion into common stock of outstanding notes, thus making additional operating capital unnecessary. As a result, the further continuance of the stock dividend is not warranted. Present earnings justify the continuance of the present annual cash dividend on the common stock of $1.32 per share. Hereafter, it will be the policy of the corporation to increase the cash dividend as earnings warrant."

County Sewer Bonds Awarded

Anglo-London-Paris Company and the First Detroit Company, Inc., yesterday were awarded an issue of $350,000 Los Angeles county sanitation district No. 2 bonds bearing 4 3-4 per cent interest on a bid of $7110 premium. Previous sewer district bonds have borne interest as high as 5 1-2 per cent, later dropping to 5 per cent and now to 4 3-4 per cent, reflecting the improved demand for municipal bonds. The reduction in interest means a saving of $45,000 to the district.

Proceeds of the issue sold yesterday will be used for the building of main trunk-line sewers in the area which will be a part of the metropolitan sewer district. District No. 2 embraces the territory in which Montebello and Belvedere are situated.

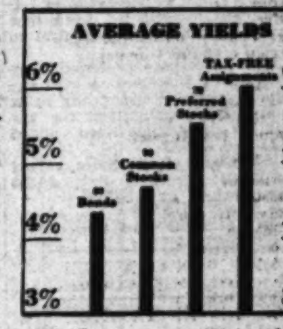
6% TAX FREE

Is An Unusual Yield These Days

THE CHART indicates the low average rate of yield now available on prime stocks and bonds subject to income taxes. Surely in such a market, no investor can afford to overlook the high degree of security and liberal 6% tax-free return offered by District Bond Company Improvement Bond Assignments.



These Assignments are in effect an investment trust composed of selected California municipal improvement bonds deposited with a Trustee. Through this medium, the investor may enjoy the broad diversification and high tax-free yield of such securities without the inconvenience of holding many small bonds.

These Assignments are available for periods of 3 to 10 years in any multiple of $100. Payment of principal and interest on the deposited bonds is guaranteed by the District Bond Company.

An inquiry will bring full details without obligation.

Jersey Central Power & Light,
Mountain States Power,
Pacific Gas & Electric,
Pacific Lighting,

Mr. A. V. Wainright, President of the Corporation, summarizes his attached letter as follows:

BUSINESS AND TERRITORY: Pacific Freight Lines Corporation, Ltd., through local motor freight operating companies, furnishes daily overnight "express service at freight rates" to 222 important cities and towns in California including Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Richmond, Fresno, Bakersfield, San Diego, Santa Barbara, Oceanside, San Clemente, Ventura, Oxnard, San Bernardino, and other important motor freight producing areas in Imperial and San Joaquin Valleys. The Corporation upon completion of the present financing will operate 16 subsidiary companies, serving a population estimated at 3,000,000 operating over 1,060 miles of highways. Over 76% of the Corporation's earnings are derived from operations which are under the jurisdiction of the Railroad Commission of the State of California. The Corporation is one of the largest freight transportation systems in the United States.

EARNINGS: Consolidated Earnings for the year ended May 31st, 1930, as reported by Messrs. Barrow, Wade, Guthrie & Co., Accountants and Auditors, including earnings of subsidiaries under contract and being acquired, and after adjustment of maintenance and depreciation to 15 per cent of gross operating revenues, and giving effect to non-recurring charges of $121,983.72, already realized, and after giving effect to further increases, as estimated by the management, due to non-recurring charges of $96,751.00 expected to be realized within the next sixty days, and $100,546.28 representing freight rate increases approved by the California Railroad Commission, the elimination of duplicated services and facilities, reduced ferry tolls and other operating economies, are as follows:

Gross Operating Revenues	$3,006,954.82
Non-Operating Income	77,847.95
	$3,084,802.77
Operating Expenses, Maintenance and Taxes (other than Federal Income Taxes)	2,139,762.50
Net Earnings	945,040.27
Prior charges, comprising Interest, Depreciation and Federal Income Taxes.	399,668.39
Balance available for Dividends	$ 545,373.88
Annual Dividend Requirements on 65,000 shares $1.75 Cumulative Participating Preferred Stock (this issue)	$ 113,750.00

Based on 65,000 shares of Cumulative Participating Preferred Stock, Series A, to be outstanding in the hands of the public, the balance after Depreciation and Federal Taxes as shown above is at the rate of 4.79 times annual dividend requirement, equivalent to $8.39 per share. Based on May 31st, 1930 Balance Sheet, after giving effect to this financing, the equity per share is $65.53.

RAILROAD COMMISSION: The Railroad Commission of the State of California assumes jurisdiction over motor freight companies as in the case of railroads, gas, electric or other public utility enterprises, and grants a certificate of convenience for the operation of these motor freight lines, thus eliminating destructive competition and lending greater stability to the investment.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Proceeds from the sale of this stock will be used in payment in part for properties recently acquired and under contract, for additions thereto since acquisition and for other corporate purposes.

MANAGEMENT: The wholly owned subsidiaries of the Corporation are under the supervision and management of the United States Engineering Corporation, composed of an experienced and nationally known personnel which has successfully demonstrated its ability in the management and development of public utility properties.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Security-First National Bank Heads Stock Turnover; General Market Ends Unsettled

Professional operators for the decline suddenly directed their attention to the Security-First National Bank on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday and launched an attempt to drive the stock into the lower depths. With a sales volume that led the entire market the stock broke through 100 to hit a new low at 99¾ only to unleash a buying wave that carried quotations up to 100½, to record a net gain of one-half for the session. Market valuation of the transactions exceeded $340,000.

The balance of the market on a more or less casual turnover, was allowed to drift lower in the earlier part of the session, but toward the close displayed a firming tendency which left the list with a scattering of small fractional gains and losses.

Action of the Southern California Edison Company was typical of the market generally. The stock sold down to a new low at 52 1-4 in the morning and late in the day rallied to close at 52 3-4, off 1-8 net. Transamerica dipped to 19 3-8 and finished at 19 5-8, off 1-4 net.

Union Oil and Union Associates acted in a similar fashion on a smaller turnover than usual. The former closed at 33 1-2, off 1-8 and the latter at 32 3-4, up 1-8. Standard of California yielded 1-2 to 55. Richfield, with a turnover of 4400 shares was quieter than in recent sessions and after striking 8 1-8, finished at 8 1-4, down 1-4 net. Rio Grande dipped 1-8 to 9 7-8, while Pacific Western gained 1-4 to 14 1-4. Macmillan dropped 1-2 to a new low at 7 and Gilmore held firm to 18.

Lincoln Mortgage preferred sunk 1-2 to a new bottom at 4 with the common issue holding steady to 20 cents. Emsco maintained the low at 12 1-2 and Claude Neon added 1-2 to end at 23.

Sales totaled 18,687 shares, valued at $753,173; previous day, 26,465 shares, valued at $754,347.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8. (AP)—The heavy artilleries of the bear hitters continued to knock the stock market stars for further records today. New marks for the year included cellar prices for stocks in most of the larger groups. With lower prices went lower exchange turnover of 19,445 shares, bringing less than $623,000.

Among the six new lows Magnin preferred lost 3 points to hit 95, and Hawaiian Pineapple went down 1½ to 46. Pacific Lighting was in uncharted low territory at 71.

Consolidated Chemical closed off a point. There were a few fractional gains in the utility and industrials.

All the oil stocks closed lower. Union Associates on a half-point slip hit a new low at 32½.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. (AP)—Latin-American bonds slid down to unprecedented prices for the year today with losses ranging from 1 to 11 points. Foreign bonds were generally lower and domestic issues lost ground.

The decline of Latin-Americans was less severe, but there was no let-up in the liquidation of Brazilian bonds.

Brazil 6½s of 1926-1957 tumbled 9 points, and the 6½s of 1927-1957 were down 11.

Losses among Brazilians also included: Rio de Janeiro 6½s and 8s, down 8 and 9 points, respectively, and Minas Geraes 6½s of 1958, 9. Chile 6s of February, 1961, and Bolivian 8s slumped 8 points each.

Nearly all German bonds moved lower. Railroad bonds were irregularly lower. Utilities were steady.

United States governments were moderately active and slightly lower.

If last price omitted, low and last are same. If low and last are omitted, high, low and last are same.

SIMPLIFYING YOUR INHERITANCE TAX

EVERY investor owes it to his family and heirs to arrange his investments so as to avoid multiple inheritance taxation. Massachusetts Investors Trust offers the ideal means of owning diversified common stocks without attendant inheritance tax problems. These shares are exempt in the opinion of Counsel from all State Inheritance Taxes except in the state of residence, whereas an estate invested in the same 140 corporations separately would be subject to Inheritance Taxes in most of the 48 states. Large estates frequently have to borrow great sums of money to meet the enormous death duties levied upon them—but the Inheritance Taxes on relatively small estates may be actually an even greater burden, and entail considerable hardship for survivors. All such difficulties are avoided when the estate is invested in Massachusetts Investors Trust Shares.

Massachusetts Investors Trust

Aside from the standpoint of Inheritance Taxes, Massachusetts Investors Trust offers one of the best possible investments for your funds. Send today for complete 15-page booklet.

His Vision . . .
Was Fulfilled

Alexander Graham Bell wrote on March 25, 1878, when the telephone was in its infancy, "I believe, in the future, wires will unite . . . different cities . . . and a man in one part of the country may communicate by word of mouth with another in a different place."

Bell's prophecy of a nation made into one great neighborhood through telephonic communication has been realized beyond his most visionary dreams. His invention has been developed so marvelously that all sections of the country are interconnected by telephone wires, and millions of telephones abroad are linked with America's nation-wide system.

Today the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which controls the Western Electric Company, is the parent company of the four-billion-dollar Bell System, which serves every state in the Union through twenty-four operating companies.

"American Tel. and Tel." is regarded everywhere as the world's premier public utility. It is only one of 50 strong, dividend-paying securities behind —

. . . THAT is the Edison Company!

HOMES

423,000 residences are supplied directly from Edison lines. 200,000 more are served indirectly through other agencies such as the Los Angeles Bureau of Power and Light, which buys two-thirds of its current from the Edison Company.

Edison residential rates were voluntarily reduced November 2, 1929. At the same time the Edison wholesale rate to the Los Angeles Bureau of Power and Light was voluntarily reduced.

INDUSTRY

631,000 horsepower is supplied by the Edison Company to California industrial plants—for manufacturing rubber, steel, cement, furniture, machinery and those other products which have made this a region of great industrial activity.

Industrial power rates were reduced January 1, 1930.

AGRICULTURE

325,00 horsepower is supplied by the Edison Company to 40,000 farms in Central and Southern California for the irrigation of 1,200,000 acres, for general power purposes and for complete domestic service.

Agricultural rates were voluntarily reduced April 1, 1929.

FOUR MILLIONS FOR TAXES

More than ten per cent of the Edison Company's collections from consumers is paid out in taxes. During 1930 this will exceed four million dollars.

OWNED BY THOSE IT SERVES

These five words tell the story of Edison success—a business owned by 123,000 customer stockholders.

Wheat Futures Point Down on Bearish Mart

CHICAGO, Oct. 8. (AP)—Grain prices succumbed today to the influence of breaks in the stock market, and finished flat at virtually the day's lowest level. Contributing to the downward course of wheat values were reports rains had improved Southern Hemisphere crop prospects, and also Russia was shipping wheat out of her northern ports as well as by way of the Black Sea. Wheat price rallies that accompanied news of threshing delays and damage to crops in Canada failed to last.

Closing quotations on wheat were heavy ⅜@1⅛c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed unchanged to 1⅛c down, oats ⅛@¾c off, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 15c.

Sympathy with stock market weakness showed itself most conspicuously in the wheat pit after word came United States Steel shares had sold at new low record prices. Before this period, the wheat market had shown notable rallying power.

Corn and oats went lower with wheat. Provisions owed their upturns more or less to an upward tilt of hog values.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Out of estimated receipts of 450, a five-car shipment reported due did not arrive until late. There were 565 head or 16 loads held over from Tuesday. Fresh receipts carried five loads well fleshed intermountain steers in addition to some southwestern stock. Holdovers were mostly Mexican type steers. The market on steers was slightly lower and most sales of the stock looked about steady. Bulls were scarce and steady.

The steer top was 8.25 on a load low good 900-pound intermountain steers. Four loads of nearly as good quality, but scaling 1130 to 1187 pounds, were bought at 7.75@7.85 and one load at 7.35. Several loads holdover Mexican steers sold at 6.00 and common dairy types down to 5.00. Late Tuesday some northern feeder steers went out at 6.50. Three loads Imperial Mexican steers which arrived late sold at 6.50 and one load at 6.25.

A few fat dairy type cows reached 6.00 and a load low good 1122-pound holdover northern cows, 5.65, and another load 5.50. Most common and medium lots ranged at 4.75@5.50, and low cutters and cutters, 2.25@4.50. A few good bulls reached 6.25, with medium grades down to 4.75.

CALVES—The market was steady with a few choice milk vealers up to 12.00 and medium to good lots, 9.50@11.00. A short load 282-pound Texas calves of mediocre quality scaled at 8.00 and common at 6.50.

HOGS—One load Colorado butchers was offered which sold on a slightly lower basis. The load which averaged around 170 pounds, weighed at 11.15 and a few local butchers at 10.00@10.75. A few lots packing sows at 8.75 were steady.

SHEEP—No sheep or lambs arrived and quotations were carried nominally unchanged.

he first twenty-four-hour gauge the Belridge Oil Company's No. in the North Belridge district indicates that the new deep producer flowing at the rate of 2790 barrels of 46-deg. gravity oil per day, along with 50,000,000 cubic feet of gas from a depth of 5473 feet.

Belridge's No. 15 was turned into the tank early yesterday and field reports indicate that it is gradually cleaning up and may be yielding more than 3000 barrels daily within a day or two.

Completion of this well is believed to have opened a vast area for future prospecting, which extends from the McKittrick district to the Kettleman Hills oil field. Major oil companies holding considerable acreage in the vicinity of the new well remain conservative in their estimates but point out that the importance of the deep project is attested by the offsetting property controlled by the Richfield, Continental and Union Oil companies, and the fact that much acreage belonging to Belridge now is considered proven.

All of the Belridge Oil Company's holdings in both the south and north Belridge district are owned in fee. This will permit of unlimited operating in the event that the company decides to increase its activity. It is understood that the operators there will observe the state-wide curtailment program and endeavor to limit drilling activities.

A new well has just been brought in by the Union Oil Company at Kreyenhagen Flat—the company's Son No. 2 completed for 200 barrels of [illegible]-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 3500 feet. It is near Union's Rouchin No. 4, a deep test recently suspended with bottom of the hole at 7836 feet and not far from the Wellington Oil Company's No. 4 drilling ahead in sand and brown shale below [illegible] feet.

Making Deep Test

Having brought in seven shallow producers in the Erburu district [illegible] miles west of the Elwood field, General Petroleum Corporation's Erburu No. 8 will be a deep test of that district. Yesterday it was drilling below 2100 feet and will probably go to at least 3000 feet before a production test is attempted. Pending results of Erburu No. 8, General has suspended operations on Erburu No. 9 and No. 10.

Cemented

The Barnsdall Oil Company has cemented Trust No. 2 in the Rosecrans field. This project completed a week ago for 700 barrels of 37-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of [illegible] feet and water came in around the shoe. The company's latest producer is a short distance south of its Trust No. 1 and extends the proven area on the easterly flank of the lease.

Permit Granted

A permit has been granted to the Superior Oil Company for construction of an absorption plant in the easterly portion of the Huntington Beach field to treat its anticipated gas-flow.

On Section 29, 21-17 on the north flank of the Kettleman Hills oil field, Superior is building a casinghead gasoline plant to handle gas coming from its Huffman No. 1. It is expected to be completed in about thirty days.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: New business is not developing in large volume in the iron and steel market. Here and there fair buying is reported but consumers for the most part are restricting purchases to immediate requirements. Despite the absence of large forward buying a firmer price tone is developing in the market and while concessions still are being made on attractive business producers appear to be taking a firmer stand.

APPEAL IN PORT TITLE CASE DUE

Commission Will Carry Case to Supreme Court

West Basin "Keystone" Strip Ownership at Stake

Fight for Banning Property Long on Calendar

BY WALDO DRAKE

Preparations to carry its fight to retain title to the West Basin "keystone" to the State Supreme Court were begun yesterday by the Harbor Department, following decision by Superior Judge Tryon on the 3rd inst., that the Banning estate, under an old option never exercised, still retains potential title to the four-tenths-of-an-acre strip at the head of the southwest arm of West Basin. At yesterday's meeting, the Board of Harbor Commissioners authorized Assistant City Attorney H. H. Harris to appeal the case to the Supreme Court.

Judge Tryon's decision follows seven years of intermittent litigation, or since the city agreed to purchase the strip for $14,000, at the rate of $35,000 per acre. In March, 1923, the land in that area of the then undeveloped West Basin was apportioned in three parts between Lucy Banning Ross, Hancock Banning and Esperanza Sepulveda de Davis. Agreement was made then that a suit to determine title be filed and that if the court ruled that title rested with either Mrs. Ross or Mrs. Davis then Mr. Banning could exercise an option to purchase their portions, but that if title was deemed to rest with Mr. Banning the other parties could not exercise purchase option. This friendly suit was ultimately dismissed, however, and in December, 1923, Hancock Banning bought back Mrs. Davis's three acres.

The Banning estate, therefore, claims right to exercise the option to repurchase the .4-acre "keystone," which contention Judge Tryon's decision upholds. Mr. Harris says that the Harbor Department, on the other hand, claims title because the suit to determine title was, in the first place, too indefinite to be enforced and that, secondly, it was dismissed without decision.

The keystone is of high importance to the Harbor Department because the route for the proposed San Pedro-Wilmington marginal highway passes over the southwest slip and title to the waterfront at slip's head would facilitate closing of the channel for construction of the highway.

SHIPS HIT BY GALES OFF GULF OF CALIFORNIA

More ships arriving from the south report passing through a hurricane off the Gulf of California last Saturday. The Viking Star of the Blue Star Line, arriving in ballast late yesterday from United Kingdom, reported wallowing through a blow of better than seventy-five miles an hour. The American Hawaiian steamer Arizonan, in yesterday from the Atlantic Coast, experienced a sixty-mile wind, Capt. H. W. Dowling declared. The wind swept northward up Mexico and into the Gulf of California. Fears for local fish boats were alleviated when it was learned the tuna fleet is plying several hundred miles north of the gulf.

Financial encouragement for American freighters comparable with that now offered offshore passenger carriers is hoped for in bills to be presented during the short session of Congress, December to March, according to Capt. W. J. Petersen, manager of several marine service bureaus on the coast. He arrived from San Francisco for a monthly meeting yesterday of the local bureau, and will continue to San Diego today, where that bureau will hold its annual meeting and election. Capt. Petersen said the restoration of America's merchant marine justifies the creation of a full Cabinet post and separate department devoted exclusively to shipping. California's new State nautical school, he said, is delayed by lack of Federal funds to recondition and equip the school ship. It is understood the government had pledged upward of $100,000.

Lassco cabin liner Calawaii is due from Hawaii late today or early tomorrow with 120 passengers and a cargo of sugar, pineapples and general island freight. She will sail back the 11th inst., Lassco's schedule calling for quickened turns-around at Los Angeles till the end of the year.

Capt. Charles Lundquist, master of the Texas Oil Company's tanker California, died of heart failure at 4 p.m. the 7th inst., while sitting in a chair at a Long Beach hotel. He had just brought in his last command from Chile. Born sixty years ago in Sweden, he became an American master at 24 years of age, commanding the schooner Protection in Alaska gold-rush days. For years he piloted coastwise for the Great Northern Steamship Company, took American ships through submarine zones in the World War, then served in the Shipping Board fleet, the Olympic Steamship Company, and joined the present company in 1926. He is survived by his widow, due on the Lassco liner Yale today, and a son and a daughter. The body, now at Huddell & Bondwell mortuary, Long Beach, will be taken home to San Francisco for burial.

Space for mooring of the port's fishing fleet at Berths 115 to 116, in the West Basin, was requested of the Board of Harbor Commissioners yesterday by the Fishermen's Co-operative Association of San Pedro.

The plan would be a substitute for the $700,000 fish boat terminal at Fish Harbor, held in abeyance for lack of funds. If the request is approved by General Manager Burt Edwards, the greater portion of the fresh market fishing fleet will tie up in the West Basin. Construction of lockers and mooring facilities is asked by the fishermen.

Transfer of Fire Boat No. 3 to the head of the main channel was announced yesterday by the Fire Commission in requesting mooring space for the speedy craft at Berth 72. Ground space sufficient to construct quarters for the crew was also asked of the Harbor Department. The boat, used for dispatch work and in fighting small-boat fires, is now based on Terminal Island.

"Junior financing" sounds very well!

IN DIGNIFIED DAYS OF PROSPERITY . . . an undertaker became a mortician . . . while the lowly loan-shark became a financier of "Junior Securities" . . . though it now appears that both professions were dealing with a very lifeless subject.

These superfinanciers of Junior Securities are now trying to act as shock-absorbers for most of the foreclosures of Southern California. Few foreclosures of the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA have been made without wiping out heavy second mortgages, liens, equities and claims of various sorts—all called Junior Financing.

MOST OF THE APPRAISAL EXPERIENCE . . . of those engaged in Junior Financing . . . was based in whole, or in part, on "earning hopes" . . . and the fallacy of earnings as a basis for appraisal . . . of any kind of property . . . has been apparent to the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA . . . for 37½ years of actual experience.

We have had plenty of foreclosures ourselves upon properties on which we have loaned . . BUT, we have a record of $60,000 profit on $800,000 foreclosure sales in the past year and a half, to certify that our loaning judgment is still sound. We've been through FOUR periods of depression.

You've read our policies of economy through the entire cycle of prosperity. NOW do you agree with the old-fashioned, small-town principles of conservatism of the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA? Then you know why we hold three State of California records, with $3,400,000 paid-in capital, surplus and reserve, and $16,000,000 resources.

Yetta Stromberg in Appeal to Supreme Court

YUCAIPA, Oct. 8.—The appeal of Yetta Stromberg, convicted of Communist activities when she was found in charge of the Communist children's camp in the mountains above here, is to be carried to the United States Supreme Court, and preparations for this are now complete.

The clerk's office of the Fourth District Court of Appeals has just completed the comparing of documents in the case which are necessary in taking the appeal to the highest tribunal in the country. With the filing of a $250 costs bond by Attorney John Beardsley, representing the appellant, the records will be forwarded to the Supreme Court in Washington where the further hearing on the appeal will be either denied or granted.

Miss Stromberg with several others was tried before Judge Charles Allison on a charge of flying a red flag in opposition to government, and conspiracy. All were convicted, but the Appellate Court reversed judgment in all cases but that of Yetta Stromberg, who carried her appeal to the State Supreme Court but was denied a hearing. She is at liberty under $5000 cash bail.

Californio Estafado Camino de la Iglesia

SALT LAKE CITY, Octubre 8.—C. J. O'Connor, de Culver City (California) anda en busca de dos individuos a quienes conoció en la iglesia. Anda también tras una suma de $1000, que, según dice, le timaron esas personas por el sistema de las carreras de caballos.

Dijo el californio a la policía de ésta que buscaba el otro domingo una iglesia de su credo, y le preguntó a un desconocido bien vestido donde podría encontrarla. Este se ofreció amablemente a conducirlo, y camino de la iglesia, se cruzaron con otro individuo elegantemente vestido, de quien le dijo su acompañante que se estaba haciendo rico por medio de un sindicato de carreras de caballos.

Al llegar a la iglesia, se encontró con que el afortunado jugador asistía al servicio religioso. Puesto en contacto con él por agencias de su primer encuentro, el del sindicato convino en dejar a O'Connor formar parte del mismo mediante una suma de $1000, que O'Conner le entregó al día siguiente. El pobre timado no ha vuelto a ver ni sus mil dólares, ni a sus amigos de ocasión.

Contribuid Liberalmente a Llenar el Cofre de la Comunidad

He aquí lo que nos dice Milo W. Bekins sobre tan importante institución benéfica de Los Angeles: "A medida que sigue creciendo la ciudad de Los Angeles, aumenta la importancia del Cofre de la Comunidad, y se hace más necesario que este funcione perfectamente y reciba el apoyo más sincero y eficaz de todos los trabajadores y todos los hombres de negocios de esta metrópoli.

"Los problemas y compromisos del Cofre de la Comunidad son ahora mayores que nunca, y confío en que los ciudadanos acudan en masa a brindar su apoyo y sus donativos a los encargados de recaudar los fondos para el entrante año. Estoy absolutamente convencido de que es indispensable el Cofre de la Comunidad para que funcionen debidamente los establecimientos benéficos de Los Angeles."

¡Qué ratos tan felices pasaban todos juntos! They found where the best and biggest chestnuts grew; they played soldier on Rock Hill; they crossed the deepest part of the river on a narrow plank for a bridge, and rode the logs in the mill stream almost, but not quite, as far as the dam).

Sus compañeros de juegon fueron quienes enseñaron a Clara a patinar. En aquellos tiempos de escrupuloso recato solo los chicos tenían patines, pues se consideraban impropios para muchachas. Pero Clara resolvió aprender a patinar, y una oscura mañana de domingo, cuando todos dormían profundamente en su casa, oyó un silbo al pie de su ventana, se vistió con manos nerviosas y frías, y bajó con sigilo la escalera (It was the boy playmates who taught Clara how to skate. In those prim and proper days only boys owned skates, for it was thought unladylike for girls. But Clara made up her mind to learn to skate. So one dark Sunday morning, when all the house was sound asleep, she heard a whistle under her window, pulled on her clothes with cold, excited fingers, and crept downstairs).

HELBUSH FURNITURE ON BLOCK

Auction Will Mark Finale of Romance

Exquisite Art Pieces to be Sold
Mrs. Herman H. Helbush exhibits rare vase to be auctioned.

THE $30,000 worth of furnishings of the Los Angeles home of Herman H. Helbush, San Francisco and Los Angeles capitalist, will go on the auction block next Monday, it was learned last night. With it flickers out the last of the romance of the two who were married in the Bay City in 1922, were divorced with much sensation in 1924, were reconciled and lived here for six years, and then separated again.

The home is at 757 South Plymouth Boulevard. Auctioneer Lewis S. Hart, who will conduct the sale, said all of the seven-room house's furnishings will go on the block at 10:30 a.m. Monday. Among the articles are fine furniture, some imported; exquisite art pieces, fine rugs, silverware and other furnishings, he said.

"I have not yet laid all my plans," Mrs. Helbush said, "except that I am going back to San Francisco. Whether I shall remain there or after a while come back here I do not yet know."

The Plymouth Boulevard home has been Mrs. Helbush's since the family crash. Helbush made a fortune in real-estate operations in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

MOVE MADE FOR COUNTY SEPARATION

Council Orders Outline of Legal Steps Necessary for City Secession

Plans were inaugurated yesterday by the City Council to set up Los Angeles city as a separate county, with a consolidated city and county government on the order of San Francisco.

On recommendation of the Finance Committee, the Council instructed City Attorney Werner to outline the necessary legal steps for this procedure.

City and county consolidation has been projected several times, former Mayor Cryer and Mayor Porter both having suggested it in their annual messages, but this latest proposal is different. It would leave the municipalities and unincorporated portions of Los Angeles as they are, with the city itself as a county alone.

Long Beach many times has discussed the matter of breaking off from Los Angeles county. Authority for a separate county must be obtained from the Legislature.

Councilman Burns said that separation from the county will increase the city's revenue by $4,000,000 or more, as the county receives a proportion of the State gasoline tax and the license fees, but allocates to city projects only a small part of this income.

Aged Hunter's Body Found on Old Mine Road

The body of John Carter, 69 years of age, formerly of 161 East Fifty-fifth street, was found yesterday on an old mining road on Mt. Gleason.

Search for the man was begun yesterday morning when it was learned that he had left Acton the previous day on a deer-hunting expedition and had failed to return that night as expected. The body was found by Federal rangers.

Deputy Sheriffs Thompson, Fitzsimmons and Story of the Newhall Sheriff's substation last night aided in the removal of the body to the undertaking parlors of W. S. Mumaw in Lancaster. Officers expressed the belief that the man had died of a heart attack brought on by overexertion.

MANY BID FOR JAIL BUILDING

Low Offers for Erection of Structure and Furnishing It Total $208,205

Low bids for the construction of the new Lincoln Heights jail building, opened by the Board of Public Works yesterday, totaled $208,205 for the structure and facilities, including six contracts. There was a total of sixty-five bidders on all the contracts for the structure, for which the City Council has provided $350,000.

The Shuck Construction Company was lowest of seventeen bidders on the general contract at $129,458. F. C. Schilling was lowest of ten bidders on the plumbing contract at $31,637. The Consolidated Steel Company was lowest of five bidding on installation and furnishing of elevators, at $13,100.

Of eleven bidders on steel cells for the jail, Brombacher Iron Works was lowest with $24,730.80. Pohl-Brown Company was lowest of twelve on painting, with $5180, while the Electrical Lighting Supply Company was lowest of ten bidders on electrical work, at $4100.

The bids, which do not include demolition of buildings on the site, erection of boiler rooms and other work, were referred to City Construction Superintendent Brittain for survey and report. The contracts are to be awarded within a few days.

CAISSONS MAY CURB SEA

New Type Breakwater of Concrete Units Now Under Consideration for Harbor

A new type of breakwater on the Pacific Coast, composed of huge reinforced concrete caissons laid end to end and weighted until they rest on the bottom, is being considered for the 12,500-foot Los Angeles Harbor breakwater extension for which Congress appropriated $7,000,000, it was admitted yesterday by Maj. W. H. Lanagan, United States engineer for this district.

While plans for a sloping rock mound breakwater like that now extending from Point Fermin have been practically completed, according to Maj. Lanagan, the concrete caisson type is being given a thorough study because it may have qualities which will make it more efficient and attractive than the older type.

One of its advantages, he pointed out, would be that it would stop the slight surge which finds its way through the rock mound type. It has been found that a surge consisting of a rise and fall of but a few inches sometimes snaps the lines of large vessels berthed in the outer harbor, by causing them to move suddenly.

The district engineer pointed out that the concrete caisson type of breakwater is used at the entrance to the Welland Canal, joining Lakes Ontario and Erie, at Milwaukee, and at Muskegon, Mich. Data on these breakwaters is being collected and all plans are to be forwarded to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors at Washington for its consideration before the work is started.

Maj. Lanagan explained that the caissons would be built ashore and floated to position on their own buoyancy. They would be 100 feet long, fifty-five feet deep, fifty feet wide at the top and sixty feet wide at the bottom and would be filled with clay, sand or rock to sink

GROUP INDICTED IN JUICE SALE

California Vineyard Concern Accused by Government

Immense Sales of Potential Wine Charged to Nine

Federal Accusations Climax Long Investigation

Nine officials and employees of the California Vineyards Company and the organization itself were charged with a conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act in indictments returned yesterday by the Federal grand jury.

The indictment charges that the individuals engaged in a nation-wide selling scheme to realize a revenue from the sales of concentrated grape syrup, frozen grape juice and other grape products in violation of Federal laws.

An annual income of more than $5,000,000 from the asserted illegal sales to more than 250,000 customers in the Pacific Coast area alone is charged by prohibition officials, who have been conducting a lengthy inquiry into the ramifications of the concern. Headquarters, according to the authorities, are in Los Angeles and Chicago.

LIST OF ACCUSED

Named in the indictment on the conspiracy charges are California Vineyards Company, Carl A. Futter, president, Chicago; William J. Vaughan, former president, Chicago; Calvin George, secretary, Chicago; Zeno C. Futter, treasurer, Chicago; M. J. Futter, vice-president, Chicago.

Two Los Angeles salesmen, J. W. Loweberg and J. S. Payne, as well as A. G. Fredericks, warehouse manager here, are included in the true bill.

Local headquarters of the accused company is located in 818 Rowan Building, with warehousing at 1855 Industrial street. The head office is at 217 East Illinois street, Chicago, according to the indictments.

Orders to apprehend all the asserted conspirators were issued immediately after the grand jury findings, and bond in each instance was set at $500. Federal warrants for all the defendants are in the hands of United States marshals here and en route to Chicago.

DETAILED CHARGES

It is charged in the indictment that the company and the individuals conducted an extensive advertising campaign and sent much matter through the mails to customers assuring them of wine that would comply with the national prohibition act. It is estimated by the investigators that as much as 100,000 gallons of wine each month has been distributed throughout the Los Angeles area in the past two years by the defendant company.

U. S. Atty. McNabb indicated that the indictments were the result of an extensive investigation that has been under way for the past half-year. He said that the indictments and the charges against the grape-juice company are not in conflict in any way with the recent Washington ruling making it legal for home owners to manufacture home brew and wine in their own homes.

Some of the wine distributed by the company, according to the Federal authorities, after being "processed" according to instructions sent the buyers, has shown as high as 15 per cent alcohol. Prices for the ordinary "prepared" wine ranged from $2.50 to $5 per gallon, according to the indictment, while champagne and the better grades sold for about $10 per gallon.

THOUSAND VOLUMES GIVEN SINCE JULY

Approximately 1000 volumes have been presented to the medical library of the University of Southern California since July of this year, according to announcement by Margaret E. Campbell, librarian of the S.C. school of medicine. The university medical library, which has been established for two years, has been growing rapidly and plans are under way for the addition of professional publications of all kinds in the near future, including those from foreign countries, the librarian states.

MISS INGALLS SETS RECORD

Aviatrix Arrives From New York in 30 Hours and 27 Minutes and May Start Back Today

Setting the first transcontinental air mark from east to west for women, Laura Ingalls, 25-year-old St. Louis pilot, landed at Grand Central Air Terminal yesterday at 4:25 p.m., with an elapsed flying time of thirty hours and twenty-seven minutes from Roosevelt Field, Long Island.

"The last leg of the flight from Kingman, Ariz., here, was the worst I met," the aviatrix declared.

"Besides terrific headwinds there were up-and-down air draughts that I thought would bounce me out of the ship at times. Clouds and rain squalls did not help any, and I was glad to see Los Angeles loom up on the horizon.

"If my motor is all right, I will take off in the morning to set a mark going east for my sex to shoot at."

Nine stops were made since Miss Ingalls took off from Long Island last Sunday. Her flight was sanctioned by the National Aeronautic Association, and yesterday's mark is official.

The trip was made on Miss Ingall's own finances, and was sponsored by no company or organization. She explained that she "just wanted to hang up some records for women."

She flew the same D-H Moth light open biplane, powered with a four-cylinder Wright-Gypsy motor, in which she set a world's record for both men and women with 714 barrel rolls and a record for women with 980 loops.

Miss Ingalls is a transport pilot and has been flying two years. She took third place in the Dixie Air Derby last summer to the National Air Races. She is one of the smallest women flyers in the country—being five feet tall.

On her transcontinental hop she followed the airline route west from St. Louis. It was her first trip this side of that city. She was accompanied by a service Curtiss Robin plane piloted by Milford Sater and Ross Mahachek, with T. France as mechanic.

Miss Ingalls is making her headquarters at the Flying Club of California, as guest of Maj. C. C. Moseley.

HEAVY RAIN DESCENDS IN ANAHEIM

Fair and Continued Cool Weather Forecast for Los Angeles Today

In apparent defiance of the United States Weather Bureau's prediction of no rain for Los Angeles and vicinity for today, a heavy rain started late last night in Anaheim. There was a slight sprinkle there yesterday, the first of the season. Last year the first rain of the season was on September 30, when .54 of an inch was recorded.

The official forecast of the Weather Bureau, given last night, declared that fair weather with clouds at night would be the rule for today and that temperatures would continue low. Yesterday was cloudy and cool, but not a trace of rain fell in the city. The maximum temperature was 68 deg., against a normal high of 76.

The rainy season to date has yielded .01 of an inch of water against a normal of .31 and last year's record of .32 to a corresponding date.

FRAIL WOMAN PREFERS DEATH TO BEING BURDEN

Anna Taylor

A frail little woman, white haired and 80 years of age, laboring under the mistaken notion that she had become a burden to her sister with whom she had lived for forty-five years, deliberately lay down on the cold wet beach and waited for death to come in with the tide and take her away.

Just what happened after she closed her eyes and sobbed a prayer that Some One must have heard above the roar of the incoming surf, the authorities could not say. Her body was found yesterday in the ocean two miles north of Laguna Beach. It was identified as that of Miss Anna Taylor, sister of Mrs. Arthur Dates of 2319 West Thirtieth street, Los Angeles.

Dr. Elizabeth Tock, autopsy surgeon of Orange county, found that Miss Taylor had died of acute congestion of the lungs caused by shock and exposure. No water was found in the lungs.

"But she was not a burden—Annie never could have been," Mrs. Dates said at her home yesterday as tears filled her eyes. "She has lived with us in our home ever since we were married—forty-five years—and she had been like a mother to me. Recently, when I was elected president of the woman's club, she was so elated and she hoped that she would not be a burden to me. Oh, she never could have been!"

FLEET OUTLINES WINTER CRUISE

Spectacular Attack to Be Made on Canal

Battle to Test Worth of Ship Based Planes

Pacific Group to Sail South Early in February

Operating plans for the combined United States fleet in its winter concentration off Panama were announced yesterday aboard the U.S.S. Texas, flagship of the commander-in-chief, Admiral Jehu V. Chase. Maneuvers incident to the concentration will be the most comprehensive in peace-time naval history, 184 surface ships and 256 aircraft being engaged.

Chief interest centers on the spectacular attack to be made on the canal defenses about February 20 by the "enemy," or battle fleet, under command of Admiral Frank H. Schofield, in which the aerial arm is scheduled to be employed on a scale never before attempted. The Army will be assisted in defense of the waterway by the scouting fleet, under Vice-Admiral Arthur H. Willard, which will have just completed transit of the canal in expectation of the "enemy's" approach.

WILL SAIL FEBRUARY 7

Navy leaders believe that the massed attack upon the canal from the air by the hundreds of bombers, torpedo planes, fighters and scouts from the battle fleet aircraft carriers and dreadnaughts will definitely determine effectiveness of ship-based naval aircraft, both for silencing land fortifications and for screening the approach of a major fleet.

The battle fleet will sail from Los Angeles Harbor February 7, next, and after the canal attack is due to anchor in Panama Bay February 21. The Pacific armada will then remain at anchor for overhaul, supply, liberty and athletic competitions ashore until March 2, when the United States fleet concentration begins. All 184 ships and 256 planes will then combine under the flag of Admiral Chase for tactical exercises in the Pacific until March 20, the fleet, anchoring in Panama Bay over week-ends. From March 21 to 24, the United States fleet will be anchored at Panama, loading stores for the trip home and run off the all-Navy sports championships.

The battle fleet will depart for Los Angeles Harbor March 25, arriving here about April 7.

FORCE PRACTICE IN APRIL

The scouting fleet is scheduled to leave Hampton Roads January 10 for its winter quarters in the Guantanamo Bay-Gonaives area, remaining in Caribbean waters until February 3. It will sail February 4 for the canal and after transitting the waterway will begin the United States fleet problem February 13. Upon completion of these maneuvers, both forces will combine February 21, for the fleet concentration. The scouting fleet will leave Panama March 25 for Guantanamo Bay and Gonaives, where it will remain for spring training from March 31 until it sails for New England May 4.

The battle fleet, after its return in early April, will remain in port for the customary machinery overhaul and then put to sea to prepare for force practice, its culminative gunnery effort, which will probably be fired during the week of April 20. Force practice next spring will be of unusual importance in that the fleet for the first time in history will have nine battleships with an extreme main-battery range of 35,000 yards. These include the recently modernized Oklahoma and Nevada; the Pennsylvania and Arizona, now nearing completion of modernization at Norfolk and Philadelphia; and the five new battleships, West Virginia, Colorado, Maryland, Tennessee and California, all built with turret guns capable of 30-deg. elevation.

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR PICTURE WEEK

National Picture Week, starting tomorrow and lasting to the 20th inst., will be observed in Los Angeles by picture exhibits and talks in schools, art museums and women's clubs, the American Art Bureau yesterday announced through the California Art and Frame Company, Inc., of Los Angeles. The announcement adds good pictures in American homes are increasing in vogue, as shown by the purchase of fine prints.

COAST'S NAVY AID LAUDED

Admiral J. V. Chase Finds California Hospitable; Schofield Extols Value of Ships

California's friendliness toward the country's naval forces was contrasted with a spirit of hostility or, at least, lack of interest, manifest in other parts of the nation by Admiral J. V. Chase, commander-in-chief of the United States Fleet, at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday in the Biltmore.

Commenting that six and one-half years of the last nine years of his service have been on the West Coast, Admiral Chase said that he was pleased to come back here. His pleasure on returning to the Coast, he said, was increased especially by the friendliness of the Coast to the profession to which he has given forty-four years.

"Many seem to look upon the Navy as an expensive luxury," said Admiral Chase, expressing the hope that the Coast's generous attention to the Navy will arouse more interest in it.

Discussing the London naval treaty, which he viewed as a step toward a stable Navy commensurate with the dignity of the United States, Admiral Chase said that many are inclined to accuse naval officers of being "big navy" men. He said he can imagine no more false belief.

"All limitation," he said, "should be just and equitable. The greatest achievement of the London Treaty is that it placed a limitation on all classes of naval vessels. I personally believe that there are many inequalities, but I believe that these will be ironed out in time."

Admiral F. H. Schofield, commander-in-chief of the battle fleet, preceded Admiral Chase on the speaking program. He declared his belief that ships must always be the foundation of naval strength. He pointed out that aircraft must operate from naval vessels.

Smilingly classing himself with the old-timers who believe that a new invention does not revolutionize things, but only makes them more complicated, the speaker said

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

JUST as a matter of identification, the Embassy Club, where the free fight took place, is the sacred inner circle of Hollywood's upper ten—inaugurated as the habitat of a newly formed film aristocracy. When it was started the stars said they felt a necessity to have a place where they would be screened from the prying eyes of the public.

The wisdom and efficiency of the idea now become apparent. In a colony where divorces are so frequent it is most essential that there should be a place where divorced people can take a poke at each other with their fists.

Hollywood is probably the most highly civilized place on the map, and modern civilization provides every possible convenience.

NEGLECTED DRAMA

The unusual interest that attached to the sesquicentennial celebration of the Battle of King's Mountain suggests a great revival of interest in the Revolutionary War.

This is a period that has always been neglected by the movies. Once in a while they stage a picture showing Washington crossing the Delaware, but in general they avoid it as poison. The reason is clear; they are afraid of the wigs. It is very hard to get up much interest in a dashing war hero with a snow-colored pigtail dangling down his back.

At the same time one of the most interesting characters in American history is Francis Marion, the "Swamp Fox," who led a daredevil band of irregular cavalry in the mountain raids of the South. And I doubt if that youthful trooper bothered much about wigs.

BEHAVE, WILL, BEHAVE!

The Chamber of Commerce needs to take Will Rogers in hand. It has not been hot out here as he broadcasts to the world. We have just had a little unusual weather. Pipe down, William, pipe down! I got a couple of lots to sell!

FOREST FIRES

As usual, the careless smoker is blamed for the ten serious mountain fires in Northern California. I think that some other cause must be found for these disasters to our timber. Smokers cause some of them, but one has only to examine the rings of cut-down trees to see that there were terrible fires in the uncounted centuries before the first men came.

THE OPERA SEASON

The opera season did not seem to reflect a city enduring hard times—packed houses, beautiful gowns and fine cars.

There can be no question that the girls, all getting fixed up for the occasion, helped to bring our dull period to an end. A lot of money was put into circulation.

Three-fourths of this period of hard times has been mental. There is nothing that could do more to help conditions than a gay, lively winter—with a lot of football, social doings and frivolity. That grand ball on the eve of Waterloo showed a lot of brains and smart soldiering on the part of the Duke of Wellington.

THE R-101 DISASTER

If the great dirigible airships can't endure more battering than the R-101 they don't promise much as war weapons. I don't see what value they are, anyhow.

nistic activities in the schools and presented literature found on various school grounds. He said that he is now sponsoring legislation that would make good citizenship a requisite to graduation.

Thomas Elson, principal of Roosevelt High School since its opening in 1923, was next called. Elson recited many instances of asserted Communistic activities in his school which, he said, led him to make an investigation that convinced him organized efforts are being made in other schools. He named Hollywood and Manual Arts high schools among these and ventured the opinion that the activity probably extends to every school in the city.

One outstanding case cited by him was that of a pupil named Max Rosenstein, who was denied a diploma when he admitted absence from school to participate in a May Day Communistic demonstration.

Another case dwelt upon was that of Yetta Stromberg, who denied her Communistic activities while in Roosevelt High School, but who, after a year at the University of California at Los Angeles, left school and was next found in charge of a Communistic school in the Yucaipa Valley, twenty miles east of San Bernardino.

RAID DESCRIBED

Dist.-Atty. Johnson of San Bernardino told of the raiding of this school, the finding of radical literature and salutes to the Red flag that led to the prosecution and conviction of the Stromberg girl and four others in the San Bernardino courts under the criminal syndicalism law of California. The Stromberg case is now on appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States to test the California law.

Other witnesses were Jack K. Suppe, a graduate of Manual Arts, who told of having been approached in his classes by Russian propagandists; Col. Harcourt Hervey of the One Hundred and Sixty-first National Guard Infantry, who recited three cases of Communism in his organization and who expressed the opinion that the men involved joined the military unit to gain experience in arms. Albert H. Wayaines, American Legion organizer, told of difficulties and threats encountered when an attempt was made to establish an American Legion post in Boyle Heights. He told the committee he believes that foreign-born Communists should be deported and American Communists deprived of their citizenship.

An outstanding characteristic of all the testimony was the statement of each witness that most of the Communists are Russian Jews, and that most of their converts were among the foreign element. There were few cases, if any, all of the witnesses declared, where American children became infected with the Communistic ideas.

The hearing will resume at 9 a.m. today.

Appeal Made to Save Lives of Young Chinese

Basing his appeal on the report that 5000 Chinese children are dying daily from hunger, Dr. Guy Talboth, associate national secretary of the Golden Rule Foundation, yesterday sent out hundreds of requests to churches and other organizations for donations to be used in stopping the spread of the famine.

"The recent cable dispatch to Owen Roberts, chairman of China Child Welfare, Inc., from the National Child Welfare Association of China, reporting the daily death of 5000 Chinese children from starvation should appeal to every American heart," said Dr. Talbott.

Contributions may be sent to Dr. John Willis Baer, treasurer of the China Child Welfare, 630 Southwest Building, Dr. Talbott announced.

DEATH CASE RULING SETS ADKINS FREE

Federal District Court Denies Jurisdiction in Oklahoma Slaying

The United States district courts have no jurisdiction in a case having to do with murder in the State of Oklahoma, even though that State was a Territory at the time of the asserted offense, it was ruled yesterday by United States District Judge James in denying the government's request to remove Joseph R. Adkins, Glendale carpenter, to Custer county, Oklahoma, to serve a life sentence for the murder of August Coots there in 1897.

Adkins was arrested on information given the authorities by Harry Atchison, who asserted Adkins is his brother, Bert Atchison, who was sentenced to life for the murder of Coots. Adkins, through his attorney, John Cooper, denies that he is Atchison. Coots was killed at El Reno, Okla., in 1897. Adkins, by the court's ruling, was ordered released.

The admiral listed three ships not associated in the lay mind with the fleet. He gave these as marksmanship, seamanship and leadership. He declared that the Navy has made progress in these phases of naval development in recent years. As to marksmanship, he said that a 15 per cent improvement over last year has taken place.

Both Admiral Chase and Admiral Schofield uttered high praise of the Navy personnel.

John C. Austin, president of the Chamber of Commerce, introduced the speakers. Mayor Porter complimented the naval leaders in a short talk.

The real function of the airship in war is one yet to be solved; but it would seem that its place is one of dash, audacity—and sacrifice. A dirigible would appear to be about as useful as an elephant in a rat-catching contest.

WALKUP PLOT QUIZ PRESSED

Inquiry by Grand Jury May Be Started Tuesday

Fitts Ready to Question Witnesses in Case

Prosecutor Probably Will Hear Women Today

Next Tuesday morning the county grand jury will probably hear the testimony and evidence in the attempted frame-up of Police Commissioner Walkup, according to reports from the District Attorney's office yesterday.

While no official announcement was made by Dist.-Atty. Fitts, two conferences between Fitts and Chief of Detectives Taylor and Detective James in regard to the case were held in the Hall of Justice just before the report of the coming grand jury inquiry became common property about the hallways of the building.

Still later in the day it was announced that Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart will assume official charge of the investigation and probably will conduct the hearing before the grand jury. Statements from more than a dozen witnesses gathered by the police were delivered to Stewart.

WOMEN INVOLVED

Witnesses already interviewed by the police are to be taken to the District Attorney's office for further questioning between now and Tuesday, according to Chief Taylor and Detective James. Several of them, women, will probably be questioned today and tomorrow with most of the men involved to follow.

First among the witnesses to be questioned by Fitts and Stewart will be Miss Helen Lee, the pretty blond woman who says she was to have been the "lure" in the frame-up plot. Already the woman has made a complete statement to the police and implicated a number of officials in a local taxicab company, as well as a City Hall official, declared by her to have been at the bottom of the entire affair.

ACCUSED MEN

In her story Miss Lee, the police say, charged that Connor M. Shawn, a taxicab checker and starter, employed her to lure Commissioner Walkup into a compromising situation. Shawn, the woman stated, was ordered to frame Walkup by others in the taxicab company who, in turn, got instructions through still another man who was connected with the City Hall official.

The names of Douglas Newton, taxicab official; Edward S. Ward, personal friend of W. J. Mosher, investigating secretary for Mayor Porter, and Mosher, have all figured in the police investigation, according to reports to the District Attorney.

PAIR VANISH

Shawn and Ward have not been located since early in the investigation which got under way last month. They are believed by the investigating officers to have fled the city.

Ward, according to police records, took with him when he left a police badge issued to him shortly before the Walkup matter was reported to the authorities, at the request of Mosher. At the time, according to Chief of Police Steckel, he was told by Mosher that Ward was doing undercover work for him.

Later in the investigation Mosher declared that Ward was working for Steckel and still later announced that the man was employed by Dr. Martin L. Thomas, head of the investigating bureau of the City Prosecutor's office. Both of these reports were denied by Steckel and Thomas.

them. A superstructure, corresponding in appearance with that of the present breakwater, would be built to a height of fourteen feet above mean low tide. Rock, dumped in front and behind the caisson wall, would brace the breakwater extension to resist heavy seas and ground swells.

It is estimated that it will take 125 of the huge caissons to form the entire 12,500-foot extension. The cost and time of construction is estimated at about the same as the rock mound construction.

Harbor Engineer Nicholson, who returned this week from Milwaukee, stated that exhaustive tests of new breakwater construction are being conducted by Federal engineers at that port.

Death Driver on Probation

Joe Fitzgerald, charged with driving while intoxicated and manslaughter as a result of the death of Marguerite Roberts in a traffic accident on June 8, last, was granted probation by Superior Judge Wood yesterday. As a condition of probation, however, Fitzgerald must spend six months in the County Jail and pay $1500 to Mrs. Roberts's heirs to cover hospital and funeral expenses.

EX-OFFICER WILL SEEK PROBATION

Bost, Convicted in Slaying, Plans New Move After Habeas Corpus Failure

Denied his freedom under a writ of habeas corpus petition, William J. Bost, former Los Angeles police officer convicted of manslaughter, yesterday, through William T. Kendrick, Jr., his attorney, asked Superior Judge Wood for permission to file an application for probation.

Judge Wood promised to consider the probation application if the attorney can submit convincing legal authorities indicating that he has jurisdiction to consider such a matter after a man's conviction has been upheld by the Appellate Court.

Bost sought freedom under the habeas corpus writ on grounds that he was not present at all times during his trial. He maintained the State law specifically states the defendant must be present at all times. Judge Wood denied the petition.

The defendant was convicted of fatally shooting Christobal Silvas Sierra on July 4, 1929, while he was attempting to arrest the youth on a misdemeanor charge.

Wife Accuses House Guest in Suit for Divorce

Asserting that a house guest abused hospitality by alienating the affections of her husband, Mrs. Alice Bengston yesterday sued Einor Bengston for divorce, naming Mrs. Jessie V. Whitney, of Libertyville, Iowa, as co-respondent.

According to the complaint, which was filed by Attorney S. S. Hahn, Mrs. Whitney arrived at the Bengston home September 7, and Bengston, it is asserted, immediately began showing her marked attention. When Mrs. Bengston ordered the woman out of her home, she says, her husband told her that if Mrs. Whitney went he would go with her. And he did, it is further stated, on the 4th inst.

Further charges against Bengston are that he was extravagant, purchasing a new automobile every year, and that he abused his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Dates left their home last Saturday morning at 10:30 a.m. to call on the family physician, leaving the sister at home. When they returned two hours later, Miss Taylor was gone. She had left a note in her room which read, in part, as follows:

"Sarah: I don't want to be a care and trouble to you. Know I will be with very cold nights and mornings coming. Going while am able to go. . . . Don't try to look for me or advertise. Am taking enough money to go quite a distance. Will get there by dark and go to sleep in the ocean. If the ocean won't keep me breath will have left my body."

Mr. and Mrs. Dates notified the police and Detective Lieutenants Stillson and Grant of the University station were handling the investigation when the body was recovered.

The authorities are endeavoring to determine how Miss Taylor got to Laguna Beach, as she was so frail she was unable to get on or off street cars alone.

CANDY SHOP GIRLS POINT OUT BANDIT

Suspect Held to Answer Robbery Charge When Employees Identify Him

John H. Ingraham got "stuck" when he held up a candy factory, according to testimony in Municipal Judge Turney's court, where he was held on robbery charges yesterday. Winnie Finleyson, factory employee, testified that Ingraham was the bandit who entered and obtained $6 at the point of a pistol. She and Louise Holmberg, also an employee, failed to identify Paul Velvin as Ingraham's partner in the robbery.

Velvin was held on similar charges, however, when J. B. Finmark, employee of a garage at 325 South Valencia street, declared Velvin entered there and drove out at the wheel of a $1200 sedan after threatening Finmark with a revolver. Additional robbery charges against both men were dismissed by Judge Turney when Dep. Dist.-Atty. Russell failed to establish them as the bandits who held up another garage.

Jury Locked Up for Night in Hill Theft Case

At the close of a ten-day trial in Superior Judge Tryon's court, a jury last night was considering the guilt or innocence of Frank C. Hill, former president of the California Eastern Steamship Company, charged with fourteen counts of grand theft. At 9:30 o'clock the jury was locked up for the night.

Harold Jones and Grant Cooper, deputy District Attorneys prosecuting the case, accused Hill of embezzling approximately $100,000 of his company's funds. Hill, however, denied the charges, asserting that he merely reinvested the money for the good of the stockholders.

Bandit Works Regular Route

Hollywood police last night reported the return of a bandit who has apparently established a route for his calls and has listed the Western Union office at 1117 North Western avenue as one of his victims. J. B. Van Evera, clerk in the telegraph office, complained to police that the man had taken $20 from the office till at the point of a gun.

"I guess you remember me—stick 'em up," Van Evera quoted the bandit as saying, and recalled that he had been held up by the same man about a month ago. The clerk was forced into a back room while all of the cash in the office was taken.

SUSPECT FACED BY EXTRADITION

Bank Employee Accused of Estate Fraud

Deputy Sheriff Will Return Him From Phoenix

Theft of Approximately $13,000 Involved

In the face of the refusal of Gerard F. Williams, former Pasadena bank employee, to return voluntarily to Los Angeles for trial on two counts of grand theft, extradition papers were ordered prepared yesterday by Daniel Beecher, chief trial deputy for Dist.-Atty. Fitts Charles Kelley, deputy Sheriff attached to the fugitive detail, was appointed agent for the State to go to Phoenix, Ariz., to return Williams here for trial.

Williams is charged with two counts of grand theft of money from the estate of W. S. Everett. Investigators assert that the defendant, who as a banker was made executor of the estate, failed to account for approximately $13,000 of the funds.

The defendant was arrested by Arizona deputy sheriffs after they had spent a twenty-four-hour vigil outside of his room in a Phoenix Hotel. Williams finally was driven from his room by hunger and submitted to arrest but refused to waive extradition.

RAIL FUNDS RUN HIGH ON COAST UNIT

Union Pacific Outlays for 1930 Include Large Sums for Work in California

Los Angeles and the surrounding territory included in the western unit of the Union Pacific System received a goodly portion of the capital expenditures during 1930, according to word reaching here yesterday. Capital expenditures will be $31,000,000 for the entire system.

In Los Angeles the company spent more than $600,000 on construction of a new freight terminal and its portion of the Fourth street viaduct, as well as allowing $216,000 for the Wineville underpass on the main highway to Riverside and awarding the $900,000 grading contract for the Boulder Dam branch line to a San Pedro contractor.

The $31,000,000 program for 1930 includes such major items as $2,375,000 for grade-crossing eliminations; $1,720,000 for rails and other track materials; $1,800,000 for bridges, trestles and culverts; $1,150,000 for signals and interlocking plants; $5,700,000 for equipment of various types and $1,500,000 for improvements to existing equipment.

F. H. Knickerbocker is general manager of the system in Los Angeles.

Wife of Stiles, Concert Singer, Granted Divorce

After trying twice to divorce Vernon Stiles, nationally known concert singer, Mrs. Hester H. Stiles succeeded yesterday in Superior Judge Fleming's court, but the corespondent, named in the two previous actions and twice sued for alienation of affections, was not mentioned.

The heart-balm defendant was Mrs. Eloise McGinnis, wife of a wealthy copper man, it was stated. Both cases against her were dismissed, one in Federal court, "with prejudice."

Mrs. Stiles testified that her husband left her to "go with another woman."

Girl Identifies Amnesia Victim

An asserted amnesia victim found wandering yesterday at First and Hill streets was identified last night in Georgia-street Hospital as Jean Crow, 30 years of age, of 18000 Ventura Boulevard.

Though he said he could not remember his name, Crow vaguely recollected the telephone number of Miss Yuba Orloff of 1343 North Hobart Boulevard, who identified him.

When Crow was found he had a photograph of a young woman in his hand. This is not of Miss Orloff, but of a sister of the man, it is said.

Today's Bible Text

By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God.—Heb. xi:5.

MAKERS OF SILK

Now one of these high-browed chemists is insinuating that he can make silk of gas and water. Will Mamma get a new dress by turning on a faucet or will it have to go through the meter and be subject to tribute to the gas company?

HOME-BREWED ACCIDENTS

An insurance bulletin records the fact that there were nearly 24,000 accidental fatalities in the home during the last fiscal year. Even the automobiles didn't do very much worse. It is just as easy to take a dose of the wrong medicine or fall from a window sill as it is to get bumped galley west in Broadway.

THE LARGER CALL

It may be true that charity begins at home, but it doesn't stay there. It must needs be taken out for an airing now and then. Let no home need or demand prevent the citizen from recognizing the call of the Community Chest. That is an obligation not to be sidetracked.

HEROIC REMEDIES

They are saying that Mussolini is threatening crooked financiers with execution. If any guy on the Rome stock exchange starts a panic he may bring up before a firing squad or find himself flooded with castor oil. The big chief believes in heroic remedies when anybody defrauds the people.

WATCH DOG OF THE COLORADO

The Arizona Republican platform blames George Hunt for the embroilment over the waters of the Colorado. George doesn't mind that—in fact, he rather likes the idea of being able to start quarrels with his neighbors. He would enjoy seeing a poor guy with a parched tongue dangling down over his vest before he would yield the stranger a few drops of his precious river.

TYPEWRITERS FOR MONGOLIA

There is trouble ahead for Mongolia. The government of that country has ordered 500 typewriters of American manufacture and will use them in official business. Maybe some of the people that are to be dictated to won't stand for it. Fortunately the Mongolian alphabet is different from the Chinese and an operator does not have to work backward. They at least ought to get the hang of the American-made machines. Let us hope it works out all right and proves another mile-post for American industry.

SOUTHWEST FARM GAIN

Some time ago the course of empire, faring westward, reached the Pacific Coast. Farming followed in its wake. The census figures on our agricultural industry indicate that like empire building new farm development now centers in the Southwest.

In the last decade California increased its number of farms by 16 per cent, while the agricultural growth of Southwest America as a whole has kept pace with the increase of population. San Bernardino county, be it noted, is the banner county of the United States for registering an increase in the number of its farms.

In the many commercial advances made in the last ten years by the Southwest States between the Rockies and the Pacific there is no healthier growth than this unexpected farm gain—unexpected, since the census shows marked decreases in the New England, Atlantic and Southeastern States. Moreover, the general trend in all parts of the country has been from the rural districts to the urban centers.

Agricultural and horticultural pursuits in California, Arizona and New Mexico have attractions beyond the profits to be made from farming, which accounts to a large extent for the increase in the number of farms in the Southwest. Many in search of health and in response to the new vogue of the open-air life brought about by the automobile have settled on small acreages in this sun-blest section. They have brought culture, refinement and business ability into places which not long ago were outposts of civilization, thus making farming a delight as well as a means for earning a health-giving livelihood.

ARIZONA FILES SUIT

The long-discussed action of Arizona to test the legality of the Boulder Dam bill is now on file in the Supreme Court, which has, under the Constitution, original jurisdiction of suits between States. The defendants in the suit are California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming, the six present signers of the Colorado River compact, and Secretary of the Interior Wilbur. The basis of the suit, stated succinctly, is the contention that the Colorado River and its unappropriated waters are the property of Arizona and that Congress cannot dispose of either or both without Arizona's consent.

The suit asks for an injunction and damages, but not for a temporary injunction. The damages are to compensate Arizona for the expense she has been put to in fighting the measure. The omission to ask for a temporary injunction means that there will be no interruption to the construction work, at least until the suit is finally decided, and that the United States government can proceed at its own risk—that is, at the risk of losing its money. It may also be interpreted as meaning that Arizona is by no means as sure of winning as her State officials have pretended to be, since the obtaining of a temporary injunction might have been the ground for a suit against Arizona for damages caused by the delay. On the other hand, it may merely indicate that the State felt it would be difficult to show she would be injured by the preliminary construction work now going on and that it was better not to ask for a temporary injunction in the interests of State comity. Dog in the manger tactics are, of course, unworthy of a great State.

Of these Arizona, on the basis of this suit, cannot be accused. However fanciful and upsetting to general conceptions of the status of what is regarded as an interstate stream, however hurtful to Arizona's real interests her opposition to Colorado River development may be, this suit cannot be dismissed as frivolous. The grounds of action set forth are logical enough from a certain point of view and bring up questions never before decided by the high court. Most people will regard the point of view taken as extreme, legalistic and not in harmony with modern conceptions of the powers and duties of the Federal government. The viewpoint, however, is in harmony with the old State rights doctrine.

It is important to have these questions disposed of one way or another, and the Supreme Court's decision in the matter may be very far-reaching in its effect. The Federal government's relation to the Mississippi, the Columbia and other streams, and its continuation of reclamation work, may be changed by the result of this action.

There are five principal points in the bill of complaint. The first is the contention that the Boulder Dam law deprives Arizona of its control of waters within its borders and other natural resources and vests the control in Congress, which has no authority under the Constitution for such action. The second is that Congress attempts to make Arizona a party to the Colorado River compact without its consent and that there is no warrant in the Constitution for such attempt. The third is that the act attempts to give to the Secretary of the Interior jurisdiction over the distribution of Colorado waters, to deny Arizona citizens the right to appropriate them or require them to pay for them.

The fourth contention is that the All-American Canal provision discriminates unjustly in favor of California and against Arizona, since no way is provided by which Arizona could construct a similar canal. The fifth is that Congress has no constitutional authority for putting the United States in the business of selling power and water and of storing water and for preventing the use of water and power by others, and that Arizona is thereby deprived of power and revenue from taxes.

It will doubtless be answered that the Colorado is an interstate and not a State stream, as can readily be seen from a map; that as such Congress has authority over it under the provision for the control of navigable waters; and that the "necessary and proper" clause is authority for any other actions that Congress has taken. It will also be answered that Arizona's rights are fully protected, that she will receive all that she is entitled to in water, in power and in revenue, and that she will benefit at least equally with the other States concerned in having river development under way.

It is expected in Washington that neither trial of the suit, nor the decision, will be long delayed. The Supreme Court has a reasonably clear calender, having disposed of all matters then before it at the time of its summer recess. The suit should, of course, be given all the attention its importance deserves.

QUEER FIGURES

The American Federation of Labor, at its Boston convention, reports as its official membership figure a total of 2,961,096, an apparent gain over 1929 of 27,551. Since the figures are supposed to enumerate dues-paying members, any unbiased and sophisticated person would say immediately that something is wrong somewhere, since gains in labor-union dues-paying membership in a year of depression and unemployment are out of all likelihood.

What is wrong generally with these figures becomes immediately apparent, however, when it is discovered that included in the list is the United Mine Workers, still carried on the roll at 400,000. The actual present membership of this union is probably less than 40,000 and the national dues of the other 360,000, or whatever the actual discrepancy is, are paid from the Federation treasury to itself.

It may be that the same procedure is followed in the case of other unions, to some extent at least, and that in actuality the membership figure given above is very extensively padded. But taking the Federation's figures at their face value, but deducting the 200,000 Federation members in Canada, the 2,761,000 thus obtained amounts to less than 6 per cent of the 47,000,000 gainfully employed in the United States. A couple of years ago the proportion was nearly 7 per cent.

Another interesting fact is that approximately 21 per cent of A.F.L. members are reported to the convention as unemployed. This indicates a much greater proportion of union men are out of work than nonunion men and throws further doubt on the "benefit" of union membership.

Beware the Ides of October

Men may come and men may go, but colds go on forever. When rock - and - rye passed out of the picture many men decided never to have another cold, but they changed their minds before long. When anti-cold serum came on the market other credulous souls took steps to immunize themselves. So when they went back to the same doctors who had given them the serum, with dripping noses and weeping eyes, the doctors couldn't say they had colds, and said they had influenza.

Our own theory is that exercise which keeps the circulation good, deep breathing and daily cold baths enable us to laugh at colds. But, all the same, just now our nose makes Niobe look like a two-spot.

He jests at colds whose nose never imitated a leaky faucet. But he's a liar by the clock, and the ides of October most probably will prove him so.

Where Psychology Flops

PSYCHOLOGY

Styles have changed in so far as the treatment of colds is concerned. We have noted the passing of rock-and-rye. Pills and throat lozenges, happily, have followed rock-and-rye into the discard, to a large extent. The chap who used to shut himself up in one room when he had a cold, sneezing first toward one corner and then toward another so as to impregnate every square inch of atmosphere with germs—just as flyspray is shot into the corners—now gets outdoors in the sunshine and fresh air. Those more given to fads go to colored-light therapists—the fellows who turn on pink lights for pale people, and so on. But it is interesting to note that even in this believing age very few people try to cure colds by psychology. Psychology is a knockout for lots of things, but when you have a toothache, a broken leg or a bad cold it can only be used as an auxiliary cure.

We have made a good deal of progress, though. We have reached the time when we can cure any cold except our own.

Several of our relatives and friends have been curing our cold for us, and have succeeded in taking cold from us. But our cold is like the love of Juliet—the more we give away the more we have. Many who come to us to advise remain to weep—and sneeze. It is strange that after all these years so few of us can understand the language of sneezes. We have a vague idea that sneezes speak Russian—"Katchoo! Katchoo!" Alas, they speak plain English—"Catch you! Catch you!"

But it is a waste of time for us to tell you any more about colds, when any of your relatives, friends, enemies, neighbors or strangers gladly will do it. So we're going upstairs and shadow-box till we get into a good sweat, which will do more for our circulation than a quart of rock-and-rye would, and then take a cold plunge to close the pores and harden us against a fresh attack. That may be crazy, but it seems to work with us. And we just couldn't quit without telling you our own favorite cold cure. So long, Catch-you; so long!

(Half an hour elapses.)

Well, our shadow-boxing upstairs shook the house so the dining-room chandelier and three yards of plaster fell down. But we surely cured our cold—Catch-you!—and feel competent to advise anyone—Catch-you! Catch-you!

But They Get There Just the Same

Joshua Little Says

Some folks think Prohibition Commissioner Woodcock's statement that the Federal dry agents won't interfere with the making of home brew for home use will result in the free and unlimited vintage of grape juice at the ratio of sixteen to one. I sincerely hope not. There is too much bum stuff in this country already.

Having been born a Southern Democrat, prohibition was hard for me to swallow at first. But not half as hard to swallow as most of the home brew is.

If you want to find out how plentiful money is in this country just step out and offer to bet all takers on a world's series team which is two games behind.

OUTLAW

Chester H. Rowell, speaking to the sixth Institute of International Relations at the University of California not long ago, said two kinds of war are now possible—illegal war between nations which have no right to conduct it, and legal war conducted by organized nations against a treaty breaker. The first has no rights and we have no duties toward them save to refuse all dealings. In the second case to remain neutral places us in the position of harboring a criminal. The teeth of the Kellogg pact are beginning to grow.

THE STARLINGS

By James J. Montague

The robins long have ceased to sing,
  But when the dawn is bright,
I often see them practicing
  For their impending flight.
The orioles and wrens are gone,
  Foretasting winter cold,
But still the starlings carry on
  Their chatter, as of old.

A noisy, bickering breed are they,
  They know no rest nor ease,
But quarrel till the close of day
  Among the moulting trees.
They are not tasteful in their dress,
  Their song has little cheer,
They quarrel too much, but none the less
  I like to have them here.

For gardens seem but bleak and bare,
  And dreary is the lawn,
When not a living thing is there
  And sumer time has gone.
And as, upon belated mites,
  They make their morning feast,
And rise in little futile flights,
  They're company, at least.

So now and then, when meal time comes,
  Upon the barren ground
I scatter little heaps of crumbs
  So they will stick around.
For when a frosty biting breeze
  Foretells a dreary fall,
Far better noisy birds like these
  Than never bird at all.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

PROBLEMS IN STANDARDIZATION

(New York Sun)

The Bureau of Standards announces that specifications have been drawn for mop sticks. They were submitted for approval "at a general conference of the industry held recently at Cleveland, O." Copies of the standard for mop sticks may be had on application to the bureau. No doubt the demand for them will be enormous.

Recently the bureau devised an instrument to measure the energy required to fold a sample of fabric, and the energy recovered when the sample is allowed to unfold. Describing how this device is used, Textile Maintenance Notes reports that "the energy lost when a sample is folded is dissipated in producing a crease in the fabric. This energy loss . . . may be taken as a measure of the wrinkle ability of the fabric."

But all this gives no more than a bare hint of the problems awaiting solution. How about the powder ability of nutmegs? Who has measured the eraser ability of pencil rubbers or the blotter ability of blotters? Are there any standards for shoelace tips, key rings or soup ladles? If not, why not?

FRANCE

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)

France whose governments, traditionally inept at finance, have made it the land of the unbalanced budget; France where industry clings to old-fashioned processes that disgust scientifically souled Germans and make American efficiency experts groan; France that can't or won't tax itself like the patient Britain; France is busy and well fed while the rest of the world watches its bread lines.

What is the answer? A stabilized population, a business point of view that ignores the quota idea, which is content to prosper moderately instead of expanding, a satisfactory balance between industry and agriculture. All these are reasons France has so far resisted successfully a world tendency toward depression, say French spokesmen.

They frankly admit that they don't know how long France can continue to be the industrial exception. This isolation of prosperity violates all the rules of the economic game. But they have a right to be pleased that the hardest times of 1930 are demonstrating once more the stubborn thrift of the French nation.

CURE FOR BAD DRIVING

(Portland Oregonian)

"License revoked for all time," we read of a man who was convicted for drunken driving. But we doubt it, without questioning the intention of the court. It will probably stay revoked until the present incident is forgotten, which may not be long. If more driving licenses were lost for all time as the result of serious traffic offenses, the situation on the highways would soon improve.

A Double Surprise

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Occasionally an editorial appears in The Times that gives the thinking reader evidence that sports, news, politics and advertisements are not the only topics that interest Times policy. Sunday of October 5 contained a most agreeable and double surprise. A thoughtful and sensible editorial on "Religion Down to Date," which should be pamphleted and placed in the hands of every educator and youth. It sets forth the Christian religion as basic truth clearly and simply defined in the Bible, not susceptible to the psychological whims of changing generations or prejudiced educators.

In the same issue appeared an article by "Uncle John" Daggett announcing the discovery that the general public wants something more than the uninteresting and nerve-wrecking stuff now filling up nearly all of the broadcast programs, but rather do sane people want and desire matter that will satisfy the soul hunger for knowledge. On the same editorial page in large type appears a beautiful poem, "Unawares," in which Christ is the central figure. I thank you in the name of thousands of your readers who thrilled with joy as they read them all.

Explains Deficiencies

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your Sunday editorial, "Religion Down to Date," was eminently remarkable, as an explanation of the deficiencies of our present-day religion and the cause of its decline, also the practical suggestions you offer for the acceptance of the genuine Christianity, makes your article perfect and complete.

If doctrine of this description were preached from our pulpits instead of the universal "please your neighbor" stuff, then there would be some progress in the direction toward that honest old-fashioned religion that will never perish.

So much could be written in praise of your worthy publication, but it is quite unnecessary, as "it speaks for itself."

J. F. M.

And Then Again . . .

SANTA PAULA, Oct. 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It is always a delight to read one of your religious editorials. The one appearing in this morning's paper, which took for its text Dr. Carl Knopf's suggestion to the ministers that "religion" be brought down to date, was especially pleasing.

Confusion usually enters into such discussions because of the uncertainty of what is meant by "religion." Some hedge by talking about "true" religion, "real" religion, the "religion of Jesus," etc. The writer of the editorial evidently assumes, as I do, that by "religion," in this case, is meant the Christian religion, and that it cannot be brought down to date.

One of the best definitions of "religion" which I have ever seen reads, in part, as follows: "When one is speaking of religion he should be understood as referring to the current cult of supernaturalism—the religion of the churches embalmed in their creeds—unless he says otherwise. It is the religion which has fought progress and culture, persecuted unbelief and played the censor and despot wherever it has acquired power."

What Is Plagiarism?

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It is quite a coincidence that on your editorial page of today's issue there should appear on one side a paragraph on "Plagiarism" and on the other a most flagrant example of it in the verses entitled "Unawares."

The whole idea will be found in the poem, "The Vision of Sir Launfal," by that somewhat neglected but noble American poet, James Russell Lowell. Is it not regrettable that efforts like "Unawares" (excellent as its moral is) should be broadcast over radio, requests made for its multiplication, etc., whilst there appears to be complete ignorance of the original and imposing poem from which it is derived, and its illustrious American author?

HAGUE KINSEY.

THE LITTLE MAN IN GRAY

He's coming down the road now
  The little man in gray;
I know not what he brings me
  Of joy or grief today.

But in that mail bag yonder
  A thousand thousand things
And joy and hope and sadness
  To many hearts he brings.

To many a happy household
  He brings a word of cheer,
To many a waiting dear one
  It's oftentimes a tear.

The whole of life's emotions
  Are in his bundles there,
Sometimes 'tis love and kindness,
  Sometimes it's but despair.

In snow or rain or sunshine
  He dares the weather's whim.
No matter what the storm is,
  It's all the same to him.

There isn't one but knows him
  Or up or down the way,
No soul but says God greet you
  Our little man in gray.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

BY BENJAMIN F. BLEDSOE

[As one who has been an incumbent of State and Federal trial benches for a total of twenty-five years, Judge Bledsoe has offered the following suggestions for better law enforcement in a letter written to Hon. George W. Wickersham, chairman of the National Law Enforcement Commission. The Times considers these suggestions of sufficient public interest to present them, with Judge Bledsoe's consent, for the benefit of its readers.]

The great need of the hour is effective deterrent to criminal conduct. This deterrent does not reside in heavy, drastic, extreme, punishments. It does reside in a conscious feeling that real and substantial punishment will certainly and more or less quickly follow violation of the law. It does not necessarily mean penitentiary sentences; but it does necessarily, in the great multitude of cases, mean deprivation of liberty as opposed to mere fines. The imposition of fines, after conviction, constitutes but an indirect licensing and the licensee generally manages to thrive under such form of regulation. The proper application of this deterrent means, further, that probation shall not be granted as for offenses with respect to which, for one reason or another, especial deterrent efforts are to be employed.

My suggestion, then, is this:

That with respect to any offense preceded by clear intent or deliberateness, and involving profit or the intent to profit, a reasonable maximum and minimum of county jail or penitentiary sentence, as the case may be, shall be provided; that no alternative of fine be permitted; that no probation be authorized and that successive convictions of successive offenses be punished by increasingly lengthening periods of incarceration, all having reasonable relevancy to the nature of the crime committed and the circumstances thereof.

Specifically, for violations of the Narcotic Act and of the Dyer Act, for example, penitentiary sentences should be insisted upon. For the selling, transporting or possessing of liquor, or the maintaining of a nuisance, under the national prohibition law (the intent to profit being a factor) county jail sentences should, originally at least, be the minimum.

Under such a structure much of the criticism that comes from the imposition of unequal sentences for equivalent crimes will be averted; reasonably mild maximum sentences being provided, juries will be less disposed to acquit in clear cases, and the certainty of definite punishment being visited upon law violators—a stern necessity if law observance is to be contributed to—will serve to advance measurably, in my judgment, the pledge of the President to bring about a better enforcement of the law.

Laundry Work?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

Free instruction in all types of laundry work is offered by the public schools for all people over 18 years of age. The class is held at the Crown Laundry, 1626 Paloma street, and is taught by Lewis I. George, for eleven years with this laundry and now its superintendent. There is no requirement for entrance except good health. The course of study includes marking, distributing, press-machine work, shirt finishing, washing and any other phase of the business which the student desires to take up.

The class meets from 3 to 8 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. In case the class is crowded, students may place their names on the waiting list. When they have completed the course, an effort is made to find positions suitable for the individual talents of each.

CALIFORNIA, BOOKISH

The number of books borrowed from public libraries is a good statistical gauge of the cultural status of a community, according to a statement made by Prof. W. L. Bailey of Northwestern University, nationally known community analyst. He believes that the borrowing of books from public libraries, being a voluntary act, reflects the immediate interests of the main bulk of the people making up the community.

According to Prof. Bailey's statement, Los Angeles ranks high in comparative cultural status for the per capita library circulation of nearly eight books places us first in the ten largest cities of America. California, it is estimated, reads about twice as many books per capita as the citizens of Vermont, New York, Ohio, Wisconsin, Utah and Washington, about three times as many as those of Michigan, Iowa and Minnesota; about seven times as many as those of Nevada and about forty times as many as those of Arkansas. Perhaps the California climate, the good roads, good cars and good libraries have something to do with this high California rating in reading; for after all, is not much of our population made up of folks from these very States?

PASSIONATE LOVE NOTES AID DIVORCE

"Sweet Daddy" Pleas Said by Mrs. Ketchum to Have Been Sent to Husband

Love letters addressed to "Sweet Daddy," which she said she found in her husband's effects, helped Mrs. Madeline Richards Ketchum win a divorce yesterday from Harry B. Ketchum, business man of Pasadena. Mrs. Ketchum told Superior Judge Guerin that Edna Betts Trask was "the other woman," that her husband had told her he loved Miss Trask and that the two had motored together to Taft, Bakersfield, San Francisco and Yosemite.

Some of the passages in the letters follow:

"To the dearest man in the world, I never knew what real happiness was until you entered my life nor have I tasted the real proof of ideal love. But thank God, that my man, the one I have dreamed of and prayed for has come at last.

"So, again, dearest man, listen to me when I say I am today the happiest woman in all the world, not only because I have found peace and joy in my ideal companion, but because I know I am loved in return by one who is all I demand and crave, a lover and a husband.

"I do love you, precious man, and the love is growing stronger and deeper. My determination to have you and the prospective joy of belonging to you will keep me from ever being regretful over anything."

Judge Guerin granted a decree.

Self-Wounded Venetian Faces Murder Charge

Still suffering from self-inflicted wounds, William P. Sutton, 73 years of age of 2610 Beach avenue, Venice, yesterday was charged with the murder of his brother-in-law, J. C. Farmer, 43, in a complaint issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jordan.

Detective Lieutenants Ryan and Stevens, who investigated the case, charge Sutton entered into an argument with Farmer after the latter had thrown his wife, Sutton's sister, out of his house, forcing her to spend the night with friends. As a result of the argument, the officers aver, Sutton seized an ax and killed Farmer and later attempted to end his own life by slashing his wrists and throat.

Reconciliation Comes During Delay in Suit

Reconciliation of Adolph Weil, artist and collector, and Annie Weil, was announced yesterday to Superior Judge Tappaan when the wife's suit for divorce was called for trial. Attorney William Rains, for the husband, notified the court the Weils now are living together and asked that the case be marked off calendar. Later, Attorney Leslie H. Kranz, for the wife, confirmed the reconciliation and stated the suit will be dismissed.

When trial was begun before Judge Tappaan last spring, the jurist halted the hearing, telling the plaintiff to go somewhere and rest until this month.

"I do not want her to remain at home. She should go some place else," the judge insisted, putting over further hearing.

BROADLOOM

Bullock's Has Established A Higher Standard of Value!

$5.35 SQ. YD.

A higher standard of value was set when Bullock's first offered this fine quality of Broadloom at $5.35 a square yard. Bullock's has checked all sources of distribution in Los Angeles and has found none to compare at this price. Read the story explaining how this value is possible:

Modern scientific merchandising leaves no stone unturned to lower price! More than a year ago a committee of carpet experts representing an association of retail stores of which Bullock's is a member approached a well-known manufacturer of Broadloom, and offered him a standing order of thousands of yards if he would meet their specifications as to quality, depth of pile, closeness of weave, grade of wool and coloring. He committed himself to these exacting standards and because he could manufacture this Broadloom in this large quantity, he could and did reduce his price to a minimum, after which Bullock's added to value by reducing Bullock's mark-up to a minimum too! These are the facts concerning Bullock's Broadloom at $5.35 a square yard.

Choosing a background of gorgeous golden chrysanthemums with a profusion of foliage and potted plants, Miss Alice Cornelia McReynolds, attractive daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Phillips McReynolds, last evening became the bride of Edwin Harbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Harbach of Palm Drive, Beverly Hills. The ceremony took place in St. John's Church in West Adams street at 9 o'clock, with Rev. George Davidson officiating.

Myriads of lighted tapers gleamed on the altar, while adown the aisle through which the bridal party passed lighted cathedral candelabra stood at the posts tied with tulle and decorated with chrysanthemums. The dainty bride, given in marriage by her father, wore her mother's wedding gown of rose pointe lace over white satin, it having been fashioned in the prevailing mode, the cap of rose pointe catching the short lace train from which fell in long graceful folds the courte train of tulle. A short tulle veil was worn over the face, until the marriage vows were plighted when it was thrown back. She carried an armful of stately calla lilies tied with white satin ribbons.

Mrs. Robert H. Edwards, Jr., (Helene Cerf) assisted as matron of honor, while Miss Elizabeth Masson was maid of honor and the other attendants included Mrs. John W. Thornton, Mrs. Leonard Harbach, Jr., Mrs. Artemus Dwight Lamb, Miss Martha Jane Marsh, Miss Bernice Ray and Miss Katherine Thomas.

They were all gowned alike in frocks of gold lame tissue cloth, with gold dots, fashioned empire model with high fitted bodice, narrow velvet ribbons forming the sash at the waist, line long streamers falling into long ends at the back. Three bands of gold ribbons caught at each ear into loops formed the headdress. The attendants carried armfuls of tiny Aratium yellow and white tiger lilies and maidenhair fern fronds, tied with tulle.

Leonard Harbach, Jr., served his brother as best man while Roy G. Bushee, David S. Carr, Cecil I. Smith, Ernest Elon Duque, Robert Coulter McReynolds Joseph B. Lippincott and John W. Thornton ushered. A reception and wedding supper for the bridal party, relatives and a few close friends at the home of the bride's parents in Berkeley Square followed the ceremony.

Here the same color motif of yellow and white was charmingly carried out, the spacious gardens at the rear of the house being tented in, and the wedding supper served there.

The bride's table covered with a silver cloth was centered with lighted candles, from which were garlands of gardenias, white roses and lilies of the valley, while the other tables held centerpieces of roses and fall blossoms with crispy ferns.

Mrs. McReynolds wore an ensemble of turquoise blue with blue velvet wrap and ermine, a blue velvet hat completing the costume.

Mr. and Mrs. Harbach left after the supper for a six weeks honeymoon trip and after their return will make their home here. The going-away gown was of deep Alice blue velvet with small hat to match.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

BLOODLESS SURGERY

The science of surgery has progressed to such an extent that it is now possible to operate on every part of the body and to remove at least portions of any of the organs without producing death. Surgeons are thereby often encouraged to perform unnecessary operations which could be avoided if the patient were willing to remove the real causes which were producing his trouble.

The word "surgery" comes from two Greek words which mean "hand work." Unfortunately, this original meaning is now somewhat clouded by the skillful work which is performed with the knife. There is much valuable work which can be done in straightening out organs and deformed limbs with the skillful work of the hands and without the use of the knife. Much advancement has been made in what has been aptly called "bloodless surgery." When bony structures are out of alignment, they may be restored to their normal position with a return of their proper functioning. Misplaced organs are often replaced by the hands of bloodless surgeons. The circulation of the blood and lymphatic circulation may be likewise restored. Adhesions often yield to the trained fingers of the hand surgeon without the use of the knife. Adhesions are formed by connective tissue growing to inflamed surfaces and often bind together vital organs and in this way interfere with their normal working.

It is true that the knife when skillfully used has often been a life saver and has corrected many deformities. However, the severing of tissue with the scalpel is always attended with danger, and the shock of the injury to the body under anesthetics often brings about a complication of disorders. There are some cases where a knife is necessary, but there are many more which could be benefitted by the skillful manipulations of bloodless surgery.

All therapeutic measures have their proper place in the healing art of today and when intelligently and conscientiously used have been the means of relieving much distress and unhappiness. However, no amount of treatment, regardless of how skillful, will ever correct the faulty habits of life which lead to most of the diseases from which humanity suffers. Those errors of diet, lack of exercise, faulty posture, destructive thinking, etc., must be corrected if we are to expect continued good health. The surgeon, whether his tools are the knife or the hands, can at best only patch up a condition usually caused by the patient, himself, through injudicious living.

Many patients are satisfied to return for one operation after another because they refuse to heed the lesson of their first surgical experience, which lesson, if properly understood, would have prevented future mutilations.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

COOKED SALAD DRESSING

One cupful of milk, one tablespoonful of butter, two level teaspoonfuls of mustard, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, one teaspoonful of flour, one egg, one tablespoonful of vinegar, and a half a teaspoonful of salt. Heat the milk and butter together, beat the egg, and add to it the mustard, sugar and flour and beat well, gradually stir it into the hot milk, then add the vinegar. Remove from the fire, add the salt, and beat well. Do not allow this to cook too hard. This may be used in place of mayonnaise, or an oil dressing.

ALMOND AND EGG PUDDING

One cupful of milk, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one tablespoonful of grated lemon rind, one tablespoonful of butter, one tablespoonful of flour, and three eggs, one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, one-half teaspoonful of almond extract, one-half cupful of finely chopped almonds, the white of one egg, one tablespoonful of sugar, place the milk, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and lemon rind in the double boiler and let it simmer slowly for thirty minutes. Cream the butter, add the flour, and gradually stir into the milk mixture, and stir it until it thickens, then cook it for five minutes longer. Beat the three eggs, add the flavorings, and the chopped almonds, and stir it into the mixture. Stir and cook until a thick batter has formed, then place it in an oiled baking dish, cover with a meringue made from the white of an egg and the remainder of the sugar. Sprinkle with a few shredded almonds, place in a slow oven to brown, and serve hot.

RAGOUT OF LAMB

One and a half pounds of neck of lamb, one tablespoonful of butter, one tablespoonful of flour, one medium-sized chopped onion, two carrots, peeled and cut in dice, two cupfuls of hot water, a seasoning of salt, white pepper, one teaspoonful of chopped parsley, one-half of a bay leaf, one whole clove. Place the butter in a saute pan, when melted, add the flour, and allow it to brown, add the carrot, onion, meat, and cook until well browned all over. Place the mixture in a saucepan, add the water, salt and pepper and herbs, cover tightly, allow to simmer until the meat is tender. Just before serving add two cupfuls of peas, and allow to cook ten minutes longer.

SCALLOPED MASHED POTATOES

To three cupfuls of hot mashed potatoes add two tablespoonfuls of butter, two tablespoonfuls of cream, a tablespoonful of chopped parsley and the well-beaten yolks of two eggs, season with salt and white pepper. Butter a baking dish and dust it thickly with fine bread crumbs, fill with potato mixture and brush over the top with melted butter. Sprinkle thickly with bread crumbs, and if liked, grated cheese, place in the oven and brown.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

THE BATTLE THAT DIDN'T END

In strength doth youth take boastful pride,
And scorns to run away or hide.
—Old Mother Nature.

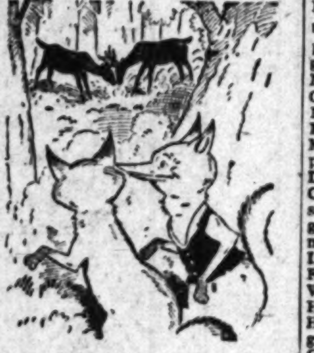
Never had there been such a battle in the Green Forest as the battle between Lightfoot the Deer and the strange Deer who had suddenly appeared. For a time they would separate every once in a while for a moment's rest; then come together again, rising on their hind feet to strike with their fore feet; and then, head to head, pushing with all their might. The ground all about was trampled up. Now and then one would have a small advantage, but never for long. In strength they seemed to be about equal. Lightfoot was the older. He had the experience, but the stranger had the advantage of youth. So, after all, they were quite equally matched.

All the little people of the Green Forest who could get there were present looking on. Somehow, the news had spread. As you know, all the Squirrel cousins were present. They were all in the trees, even Striped Chipmunk and Impy the black Chipmunk. Sammy Jay and Blackey the Crow were present almost from the start. Other feathered folk came. Unc' Billy Possum, Bobby Coon, Billy Mink from the Laughing Brook, which was not far away; Reddy Fox, Mrs. Reddy, Old Man Coyote, Buster Bear, even Yowler the Bobcat, all were looking on. No one made a sound. The only sounds were the snorts of the two fighters and the clash of their antlers and the stamping of their feet.

It was shortly after jolly, round, red Mr. Sun began his daily climb up into the blue, blue sky that the battle started. When he was right overhead, looking down, they were still there, head to head, pushing and shoving. Never had a battle been known to last so long. It was Reddy Fox who first noticed something odd on the part of the two fighters.

"Do you notice that they don't back off any more?" said he to Mrs. Reddy. "When the stop to rest they keep head to head. I wonder if each is afraid that the other may run away. See, they've stopped to rest now!"

Sure enough, the two fighters were standing still head to head and nose to nose. They were panting for breath. It was plain to see that both were tired. They were very tired. Neither one seemed to be hurt much. There were a few marks of sharp horns, but neither was hurt badly. For a little while they stood there, heads down, forehead to forehead. Then Lightfoot once more began to push. The stranger backed a little way. Then he set his legs and strained and pushed, and Lightfoot went back a little way. Both slipped down to their knees and continued to push.



"Do you notice that they don't back off any more?" said he to Mrs. Reddy

It was after noon. One by one the onlookers slipped away to get something to eat. One by one they returned to find the two fighters still at it. It was growing late. Jolly, round, red Mr. Sun was close to the Purple Hills, behind which he would go to bed. The Black Shadows crept out across the Green Meadows and into the Green Forest. They found the two fighters still standing head to head, now and then pushing a little, but for the most part standing there, tired out, yet neither seeming willing to quit. Pretty Mrs. Lightfoot was still looking on, but there was a queer expression on her face. It was as if there were something she did not understand.

The little people of the day departed for their homes, the little people of the night took their places. A great wonder took possession of all. Handsome Lightfoot and the equally handsome strange Deer had fought all day and it looked as if they intended to fight all night.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Stuck Again

After the bottle of glue has been opened, the second opening is not such a successful one. Rub a little fat or oil around a good cork and insert it instead of the stopper that comes with the bottle. This will not stick.

Shut the Door

Where there are small children in the home it is particularly important that doors leading to stairs, cupboard doors that prove bumpers for small heads and doors to medicine cabinets and cupboards containing matches, knives, etc., be closed after each opening. Get the habit of closing doors and drawers; it is easily cultivated.

Better for the Kiddies

Molasses cookies are good for the children as they furnish iron as well as satisfy that sweet craving. Make them frequently and substitute them for candy.

More Water in the Kettle

Fill the steaming tea kettle through the spout if you want to avoid burned hands. A small funnel in the spout facilitates matters.

NEW CURB STEP BY RADIO BOARD

Insolvent Stations Will Lose Licenses Under Ruling

Action Taken to Put End to Speculative Activities

Regulations for Transfers Will Be Tightened

The Times Forum, KHJ, 1:30 p.m., Fred Hogue, staff writer, will speak on "Gatling-Gun Government." World-Wide News, 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Insolvency of broadcasters is to be followed by revocation of their station licenses, under general orders just adopted by the Federal Radio Commission. The action is aimed at speculation in wave lengths or licenses, which the commission asserts is manifest in the many applications for transfers received.

Trading is especially pronounced in the educational and church field, where commercial interests are believed to be buying up licenses with a view to operating such stations for profit, according to advices from Washington. In other instances, it is indicated by the commission's orders, there is a possibility that stations may have been thrown into bankruptcy in order that the creditors might obtain the license.

Under the new ruling, however, an insolvent station may be put out of business immediately and its license, therefore, cannot be listed as an asset.

In every instance where transfer of a station is contemplated, the commission has ruled, evidence must be submitted that its continued operation will be in the public interest and that the proposed owner is eligible and qualified to receive a construction permit or license. It must be shown further that the new owner or lessee will have complete control of the station equipment and of its operation, including unlimited supervision of the programs to be broadcast.

Winnie Fields Moore, the Nomad Novelist, discovers the queerest marriage customs. Last week she told how the Malay bride-seeker lays a heavy club on the lady selected—she recovering to find herself married. Tune in for romantic suggestions.

I think it was a Malay—anyway, he used a club.

Two great composers, Verdi and Saint-Saens, are to be reincarnated as honor guests of the Arco Birthday Party over KECA at 6 p.m. today, the date of their birthday anniversaries.

A poetess came up into The Times Tower last week and read a few books of poems. When she left our hoot owl began to shed his feathers. Just despondent.

Miss Helen Oelheim, contralto who has achieved unusual success, will be the high light on the Lutheran Hour tonight, KHJ, 7 to 7:30.

Eric Pedley will be guest of honor on The Times Sports Edition of the Air at KHJ, 9:30 to 10. He should be good.

Mrs. Oscar Brown sends us $3—and asks us to sing "Annie Laurie." Why, Mrs. Brown, I know radio singers who will chortle two operas for half that amount.

Don't forget the Standard Symphony Hour, released tonight by KFI at 7:30. This is always pleasing.

I've tuned in on KFI and some adventurer is telling about when they bury a big shot in Zululand—they dig up some unfortunate gentleman who wasn't so powerful, toss him on the sidelines and sink the heavy in his place. Moral: don't travel.

"I sowed a lot of seeds as predictions over radio in a garden talk. 'They haven't come up. It was six months ago,'" writes a fan. Well, friend, even seeds get lost sometimes.

Ground Broken for Theater in Beverly Hills

Another link was placed in the nation-wide chain of Warner Brothers talking picture theaters yesterday afternoon when ground was broken for the new Warner Brothers Beverly Hills Theater at Wilshire Boulevard and Canon Drive.

City officials, film celebrities and executives of the company took part.

The new theater will have a seating capacity of 2000 and will be completed during the winter months.

Guard Officers Will Fly Home

Three Fortieth Division Air Corps planes of the local National Guard station at Griffith Park are scheduled to land here next Sunday from Boston, Mass., bearing delegates who attended the national convention of the guard.

The ships are being piloted by Lieuts. James Carroll, E. H. Robinson and J. V. Wallen and have as passengers Brig.-Gen. R. E. Mittelstaedt, adjutant-general of the State of California; Col. Otto Sandman, commander of the One Hundred and Forty-third Field Artillery; Capt. G. M. Stout of the State staff. The return leg of the 7000-mile trip will be made over the Boeing air-mail route from Chicago to Oakland and down the coast.

NOVEL WINTER SKY CRUISES PLANNED

Cruises by specially chartered Sikorsky amphibian planes to Cuba, Mexico and Central America are to be offered this winter to travelers in quest of novel outings, the Raymond & Whitcomb Company, sponsors, yesterday announced. The flights, starting from and ending at Miami, will cover 4800 miles in fourteen days, following the route suggested by Col. Lindbergh, technical adviser of the Pan-American Airways, who is familiar with it and recommended it as offering opportunity to see the Maya ruins in addition to visiting Western Cuba and sections of Central America and Mexico.

SEVEN ARTS UTILIZED IN MAKING TALKIES

Seven arts enter into the making of talking motion pictures, Clinton Wunder, executive manager of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, yesterday told the Kiwanis Club at the Biltmore. They are painting, poetry, literature, architecture, dancing, music and the drama. The audible screen also is promoting the cause of peace, he added, by spreading universal understanding.

MEETING SET FOR TONIGHT

Star Post of the American Legion, composed of county peace officers, is scheduled to hold its first meeting since its recent election of new officers tonight at Patriotic Hall. The meeting will be presided over by Carl May, newly elected commandant, and will be followed by a number of entertainment features.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

IS YOUR CHILD AFRAID OF INSECTS?

In their experiments with infants psychologists have become convinced that most of the fears which we carry through life are unnecessary. Our only two innate fears are of loud sounds and of falling (Watson,) and all the others are in some way hitched to those. The adult who fears 100 things can hardly realize that his early education is responsible for them, and not any real terror of that which he dreads.

A reader asks this question, "What shall I do for a child who is afraid of flies, moths, in fact every insect? Her sudden screams when she sees one fairly take me off my feet, and recently I made the mistake of spanking her when she made me so nervous by screaming. She is 6 years of age, healthy, eats well and sleeps from 7 o'clock at night. I have done my best to explain that they will not hurt her and caught a moth and held it to my face to show that she need not be frightened. I am afraid trouble is ahead; what would you do?"

MOTHER'S AVERSION COPIED

More than likely you yourself have the good housekeeper's usual aversion to flies and insects, and from an early age the child has probably heard some such remarks as, "Oh, those horrid flies, I just have to get rid of them," or "There's a moth, for goodness sake kill it!" Being observant, the child has built up the very natural idea that here is something to fear.

This is difficult to erase and the child is to be pitied, for her fears are very real and she suffers from them. But you and I know that she wouldn't scream out like that in school, so your emotional reaction when she does is largely responsible for provoking her to more screams. Even if she is afraid, she need not react in just this particular manner.

DISPEL HER FEAR

Get her a fly swatter and show her how to use it. The very activity of doing something about the insects will help her lose this fear of them. Terrors are dispelled when we get into action instead of sitting still and being overwhelmed by them.

Take care not to act startled when she screams, make no undue fuss about it even if you are upset, but hand her the fly swatter and tell her to go after them.

Our leaflet on "Fears" ought to help you to a better understanding of them. Any reader may have this for enclosing the usual self-addressed, stamped envelope with each request for it.

Meanwhile, the season for all pests is almost over, so that for some time the child will have an opportunity to forget her fears. Next year she will be older and braver about them, especially if you tell her constantly how much more courageous she is getting to be and how she no longer screams when she sees insects. If you can be subtly unaware of her screams, you'll find she will no longer feel it necessary to exhibit her fears in just this way. This is wholesome suggestion, and it works.

ARLEN TO PLAY IN "STAMPEDE"

Fay Wray Gets Heroine Role in Paramount Film

Jeanette Loff Signs With Tiffany Concern

Maureen O'Sullivan Slated for Rogers Picture

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

RICHARD ARLEN

"Stampede," by Emerson Hough, is to serve as Richard Arlen's next starring vehicle for Paramount, Jesse L. Lasky announced yesterday.

The story is an adventure yarn of thundering hoofs and the government's conquest of the spoilers of Texas immediately following the Civil War.

In "Stampede" Arlen will have the role of a youthful envoy of President Johnson, sent on a secret mission into Texas to investigate the activities of a band of despoilers of land and cattle.

Arlen and Fay Wray are becoming too popular a team to be separated, and once more Miss Wray will play opposite. Miss Wray, you recollect, has played heroines in "The Texan" and "The Border Legion."

William Slavens McNutt and Grover Jones wrote the screen adaptation of the Hough adventure, and Edward Sloman will direct.

TIFFANY SIGNS JEANETTE LOFF

JEANETTE LOFF

Though Jeanette Loff's contract with Universal had some weeks still to run, she severed connections with that concern a few days ago, we learned yesterday.

The contract was dissolved by mutual consent when Miss Loff let it be known to Universal officials, according to authentic word received by us, that she wished the release from her contract.

Already Miss Loff has made other connections. She has signed with Tiffany to star in four pictures during the coming year. The names of the stories in which she will appear are not announced.

Actress to Play Lead

MAUREEN O'SULLIVAN

It is entirely likely, we hear, that Maureen O'Sullivan will have the coveted role of Sandy in "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," Will Rogers's Fox vehicle, according to well-founded rumor received yesterday.

While it has seemed to us that Janet Gaynor is the ideal actress for the part, there is such a clamor from the public that she be teamed with Charles Farrell, that it appears she is out of the running for the role. On the other hand Miss O'Sullivan will doubtless be a charming Sandy.

Duncans Likely to Split

The Duncan Sisters, Rosetta and Vivian, are, we learn, to split, professionally speaking.

Report from an authentic source has it that Rosetta will probably appear in a new show to be produced by the Shuberts, while Vivian, lately married to Nils Asther will probably tour Sweden with her husband, appearing in the vaudeville and picture houses there.

Monroe Owsley With Universal

"Half-Gods," to be made by Universal, is to have a very fine cast, judging from all appearances.

Clever Genevieve Tobin has the leading feminine role, and the other parts are being as carefully cast.

Monroe Owsley, the young actor who appeared to such advantage with Ann Harding in "Holiday," in the role of the young brother, has been signed for the leading juvenile role in "Half-God."

We hear that it is likely that Conrad Nagel will be signed for the romantic lead in the picture, which Hobart Henley will direct.

Dixie Lee Will Clara Bow

That clever little ingenue, Dixie Lee, is to leave the Fox lot temporarily, we learn.

Miss Lee is to be loaned to Paramount to appear with Clara Bow in Miss Bow's next starring vehicle, according to word received yesterday.

The tiny actress has won wide acclaim in the Fox pictures in which she has appeared.

Horse-Trading Youths Sought

Two youthful equestrians who tired of their borrowed mounts and traded them for an automobile are sought by Capt. Brooks of the Sheriff's farm theft detail.

The two boys rented two horses from the El Sereno Riding Academy on September 28, and riding them to Encinitas traded them and their equipment for a small coupe, which they drove to the Western Air Express terminal and abandoned.

Recovery of the horses was made after a letter from "two sorry boys" was received by Don Baker, co-proprietor of the riding academy.

OHIOANS GATHER TUESDAY

The monthly meeting of the Ohio Society of Los Angeles will be next Tuesday night at Moose Hall, 1024 South Grand avenue. J. C. McBride, first vice-president, will be in charge of the program.

Orpheum Will Keep Film for Another Week

Decision to hold over "Half Shot at Sunrise" at the Orpheum Theater has been announced. This postpones the opening of "A Lady Surrenders" until the 18th inst.

The latter production marks the screen debut of Genevieve Tobin, one of the foremost stage stars of the East, and last seen before the footlights in "Fifty Million Frenchmen."

Another celebrated player making her first film appearance is Rose Hobart, recently featured in the New York production of "Death Takes a Holiday." The male leads are enacted by Conrad Nagel, veteran of nearly 100 talking pictures, and Basil Rathbone, English stage and screen actor.

The supporting cast includes Franklin Pangborn, Vivian Oakland, Carmel Myers and Lena Malena. John M. Stahl directed.

'Rain or Shine' Screened Today

"Rain or Shine," which for two seasons scored on Broadway, has been made into a film, which opens today at Pantages Hollywood Theater. Joe Cook, who starred in the stage version, plays his original role.

"Rain or Shine" was written by James Gleason, author of "Is Zat So," "The Shannons of Broadway" and other popular stage and screen hits. The dialogue of this film of circus life is said to follow closely the stage version. Supporting Joe Cook are Louise Fazenda, Joan Peers, William Collier, Jr., Alan Roscoe and many other capable players. Frank Capra directed the picture.

O'Brien Plays Outlaw Role

George O'Brien furthers the adventure of Buck Duane, rough and ready outlaw, in the film adaptation of the Zane Grey novel, "Last of the Duanes," which opens a week's run at the Boulevard Theater today.

Lucille Brown, who has many stage successes to her credit, makes her debut on the audible screen as the heroine of this outdoor romance. Others in the cast are Myrna Loy, James Bradbury, Jr.; Frank Campeau and Nat Pendleton. Alfred L. Werker directed.

Film Actress to Appear on Warner Stage

Claudia Dell, star of "Sweet Kitty Bellairs," which starts at Warner Brothers' Hollywood Theater tomorrow, is to make a personal appearance on the stage each afternoon and evening during the run of the picture.

Miss Dell, who was formerly with Ziegfeld's Follies, is considered one of the most beautiful blonds on the screen today and also possesses a pleasing soprano voice.

The story deals with a notorious coquette who disrupts an entire court. The supporting cast includes Perry Askam, June Collyer, Walter Pidgeon and Ernest Torrence. Alfred E. Green directed.

Paul Porcasi Wins New Role

Paul Porcasi will be seen as Tony, the proprietor of the cafe which is the locale of an important sequence in the talkie version of "The Criminal Code," directed by Howard Hawks. Porcasi scored in a similar role in "Murder on the Roof."

The actor seems also to be highly esteemed as an accessory of the operatic scene, proofs of which are said to be his forthcoming appearances as Jenny Lind's manager of an M.-G.-M. picture and as director of the Metropolitan Opera in Warner Brothers' "Children of Dreams."

ACTRESS FINISHES

Charlotte Merriam, youthful player who was seen recently in "Dumbbells in Ermine" and "Second Choice," for Warners, has completed her role in "The Third Alarm," Tiffany picture.

Goldwyn-Ziegfeld Film Sets Pace for Musicals

Eddie Cantor Great Hit in the Comedy

Radiant Effects Secured with Color Photography

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The musicals can come back now. They have a place on the screen and a reason. "Whoopee" smashed this fact over last night at the United Artists Theater. And it simultaneously set a pace for color productions.

There is class to this adaptation of a Florenz Ziegfeld show. Plenty of it. The screen showered beauty and brilliance of photography on the first audience, and proved that dances and ensemble effects can really be caught by the camera.

Samuel Goldwyn has contrived the winning sort of entertainment out of a New York stage hit, and clever direction and comedy, plus an ever-varied pictorial interest, will keep all audiences that are drawn to this new divertisement delighted.

Eddie Cantor, of course, shows the big prowess as the leading funmaker. Ineed, he is virtually the solo zany of this cinema exploit, though his aides are many and able.

There is plenty of Cantor, and he is richly supplied with material. But the balance between the mirth-making and the spectacle is capital, with one melody number topping the next, at least in eye-filling attractions.

Sometimes the actual sound reproduction seems to miss the desirable perfection, but even in this respect "Whoopee" is far above the average. The greatest satisfaction grows out of the circumstance that there is never a let-down in the enthrallment of setting and costume, and above all in the use of the prismatic screen that illuminates each number with a soft and magically defined richness.

Some will recognize the story as an adaptation of "The Nervous Wreck," which had a long and popular run here several years ago. However, it is much changed from that original.

The incident of the dishes being used as a psychological test is practically the only striking bit retained, and is one of the hilarious events of the picture.

The best moment of all is the discussion of surgical operations between Cantor and Spencer Charteris. The house was earthquaked with laughter during this scene, which is rare rough-house comedy.

The sale of Indian blankets and a statuette is another dizzily uproarious incident as maneuvered by Cantor and Charteris. The scene of the automobile breakdown is tremendously amusing. Cantor's songs, too, are nearly all exceedingly clever.

Director and cast of this picture must be credited for injecting plenty of pep into its unfoldment. Getting the story actually started seems to take a little effort, but once the stride is struck, there is lots of spirited talk and action.

Nearly all the people are new to the picture-goer, but Ethel Shutta, snappy comedienne of the feature, for one will register, while Eleanor Hunt and Paul Gregory disclose promise. Gregory's voice often exhibits most ingratiating quality, though the actual extent of his singing is very limited.

Chief Caupolican becomes quite a personality. John Rutherford as the Sheriff, Albert Hackett, Will N. Philbrick and Walter Law are others competent.

Aside from the Cantor comedy, this picture gains distinction in being a true garden of beautiful girls, exquisitely and gorgeously costumed, especially in the final big number. Unusual skill has been disclosed in giving personality to the chorus.

Thornton Freeland's direction is of a high order, gauged by the general results. I imagine comparatively little adapting has been done, except what was actually required to fit the original stage show into the screen medium, yet there is nothing stagy about "Whoopee."

George Olsen's jazz band in a very amusing opera burlesque, and several other numbers, furnished the overture to the showing of the main feature. Olsen was warmly applauded. Cantor came on the stage afterward and talked divertingly.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

It is a settled thing that Henry Duffy will take over the Hollywood Playhouse following the run of "Little Orchid Annie."

Rumor to this effect, strong along the local rialto for several days, was confirmed yesterday by information received from San Francisco, where Duffy headquarters are maintained.

The Hollywood Playhouse will make the fifth Pacific Coast theater now under Duffy guidance, proving that the showman is coming back strong. The President and the Alcazar in San Francisco, a theater in Oakland and El Capitan here are the other four theaters under his management.

The opening attraction is not yet set.

Two Extra Weeks Booked

And Pauline Frederick was such a hit in San Francisco with "The Crimson Hour" that she is going back to the Curran for a two weeks' additional engagement in the same play. Which might mean that the theater business is picking up, or again it might mean that Miss Frederick isone of the best-beloved actresses of the West.

Following the San Francisco run, Miss Frederick and company will go East with the play, visiting Salt Lake City, Denver, St. Louis and other points en route to Chicago and Detroit. The play will not be taken to New York.

"Young Sinners," Elmer Harris's audacious comedy of youth, arrives at the Belasco on the 20th inst., simultaneously with the fourth anniversary of the opening of the theater. There's going to be a a birthday party.

Alan Mowbray with Repertory

Alan Mowbray, who came to Los Angeles a year ago with the New York Theater Guild to play "The Second Man," will be in the first play to be offered by the Civic Repertory Theater at the Music Box this fall. Mowbray will portray King Magnus in George Bernard Shaw's "The Apple Cart," to open November 3, playing opposite Doris Lloyd.

He was recently seen here with Reginald Owen in "Candlelight." "The Apple Cart" will boast quite a cast, according to Director Paul Irving.

A good dozen actors, associated with the theater the past season, will also be seen. They include Marion Clayton, Olaf Hytten, Eric Snowden, Boyd Irwin, Leslie Palmer, Clarissa Selwyn, Daisy Belmore, Nellie Strong, Cyril Delevanty, Norman Blume, Raymond Lawrence and Charles Meakin.

Alma Rubens on Broadway

Interesting news of Alma Rubens, who was probably at the height of her career in pictures after her performance in "Humoresque," reveals that she will replace Edith Broder in the leading feminine role in "With Privileges" on Monday night at the Belmont Theater, New York. As far as I know, this will be Miss Rubens's first appearance on the Broadway stage.

"Wild Duck" at Play Shop

They're doing "The Wild Duck," Ibsen play, at the Ralph Herman Play Shop, 1141 North Gower, beginning tonight. John Valentine, Edward Bock, Kathryn Pierce, Virginia Steele, Charles Maurice, Edward Fischer, Thomas de Graffenreid, and Clark Poth are in the cast. Don Murray is to alternate with Valentine in the leading role.

Two Features on New Bill

Horace Heidt and his Californians on the stage and Clara Bow's starring picture, "Her Wedding Night," are the attractions starting today at the Paramount Theater. In support of Miss Bow are "Skeets" Gallagher, Charles Ruggles and Ralph Forbes.

The Heidt bandsmen, just returned from a European tour, are native sons of California. The fifteen musicians attended the University of California.

PARISIAN FARCE DUE AT LOEW'S

"Three French Girls" to Be Enacted on Screen by Strong Cast

"Those Three French Girls," starting today at Loew's State Theater, is called a sparkling comedy of Parisian romance and fun. It details the adventures of three modistes, a gay young Englishman, his wealthy uncle, and two American doughboys who return to the scenes of their former war activities.

Fifi Dorsay, Yola d'Avril and Sandra Ravel are the three French girls. Reginald Denny, Cliff Edwards, George Grossmith and Edward Brophy portray the romantic males. Dale Van Every and Arthur Freed wrote the original story and Sylvia Thalberg and Frank Butler are responsible for the continuity.

The Fanchon and Marco idea on the stage provides two bands. Fox Movietone News concludes the program.

Gala Opening Arranged for Spanish Film

"Olympia," featuring Jose Crespo and Maria Alba, is to have a typical gala premiere tomorrow at the International California Theater. An audience of noted foreign-language stars of filmland is scheduled to gather for the event.

Heading the contingent will be such players as Ramon Novarro, Adolphe Menjou, Rosita Moreno, Conchita Montenegro, Ramon Pereda, Ernesto Vilches, Paco Moreno, Jose Crespo, Maria Alba, Elvira Morla, Carmen Rodriguez, Juan de Homs, Bessie Love, Luis Alvarez and Lottice Howell. Alvarez will sing, as will Miss Howell, and Crespo will be heard in a monologue by Beneventa.

Bessie Love has consented to be mistress of ceremonies, and will introduce on the stage members of the cast and other notable figures.

YOUNGER SIGNS CONTRACT

A. P. Younger, note scenarist and author of some successful films at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, returned there yesterday and was signed on a new contract. His first work will be on the Fanny Hurst story, "Five and Ten," slated for early production.

Chamber in West Hollywood Passes Resolution

Preference for Americans in Jobs Requested

Restrictive Legislation on Foreigners Backed

American citizens should be given the preference in the matter of employment on public improvements, according to a resolution adopted by the professional men's and property owners' division of the South and West Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, sent yesterday to the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors. Copies of the resolution also were forwarded to the City Council of Los Angeles, the State Legislature and to the Congress of the United States.

"We are of the firm conviction," the resolution declares, "that at all times and especially in times of financial stress the construction work on all public improvements, national, State, county and city, should be contracted for under conditions that give preference to employment to American citizens rather than to foreigners who may happen to be sojourning in our midst. And we pray you, in every way possible within your power, to see that this is done, both by the rigid enforcement of any and all regulations and restrictions that may now be imposed by law and by enacting such additional measures as may be necessary to put this policy into effect. We are especially desirous that such legal regulation shall be made to apply not only to work done directly by the government or any branch of it, but also to work done by contractors and subcontractors.

"The opposite policy, now so prevalent, is not only a present injustice to our citizens but is also increasingly so in that it induces an influx of foreign labor that makes it continually more difficult for our citizenry to be profitably employed.

"We have good authority for the doctrine 'if any provide not for his own . . . he is worse than an infidel.' The same principle holds good for organized society. We ask your utmost endeavor to put it into practice."

ILLINOISANS MEET MONDAY

President Bruhaker has called Illinoisans now living in Southern California to a monthly reunion next Monday evening in Veterans' Hall, 246 South Hill street.

STORK MAY DELAY SUIT FOR DECREE

Jocelyn Lee Tells Court of Motherhood Prospect in Opposing Reed's Plea

Opposing an early trial of her divorce action because, she asserts, she expects to become a mother, Jocelyn Lee, film actress, appeared in Superior Judge McComb's court yesterday and presented testimony to counteract the affidavits of Luther Reed, her husband. He is demanding an immediate hearing because, he says, he is unable to direct pictures while this matter is pending.

JOCELYN LEE

Superior Judge McComb ordered subpoenas for William Lee Baron and C. E. Sullivan, vice-presidents of the R.-K.-O. studio, where Reed is employed, to define the exact status of plaintiff and cross-defendant. Judge McComb also appointed Dr. Raymond Huntsberger to examine Miss Lee to determine for the court if her physical condition is such that she cannot undergo the rigors of a divorce trial. Hearing on the early trial motion was postponed until next Wednesday.

In his answer to Miss Lee's cross-complaint, Reed denies that he is worth $100,000, placing $2500 as the value of the community property. The answer was prepared by Attorney R. D. Knickerbocker. Miss Lee is represented by Attorney Milton Cohen.

Board Accepts Two-Mile Levee

Members of the Board of Supervisors yesterday officially accepted nearly two miles of new levee construction work on the west side of the Los Angeles River in North Long Beach. The cost was $150,000.

The work consists of levees reinforced with granite riprapping. They were built by the Hauser Construction Company. A standard-gauge railroad bed is on top of the embankment to be used to hurry material to places that might show signs of giving way during high-water periods.

Baby Gloria Miller

ALTHOUGH only 7 weeks of age, Gloria Miller already has started to make her own way in the world. Late Tuesday night her mother abandoned her on the doorstep of the home of Mrs. Ida Rohrdough, 111 North Burlington avenue.

Pinned to the blanket wrapped about the baby was the following note:

"Will you please keep my baby? Her name is Gloria Miller. She is a month and three weeks old. She nurses the bottle every four hours. PANTAGES COUNSEL REPLY

State Arguments for Rehearing on Reversal of Conviction Attacked in Brief

Counsel for Alexander Pantages, theater man, yesterday filed an answer to the petition of the State for a new hearing after a decision by Division One, District Court of Appeal, granting Pantages a new trial on a charge of having attacked Eunice Pringle, 17 years of age, dancer, in a downtown building.

Assertion is made that the State advanced no new argument or law of importance that was not thoroughly considered and argued before by both the respondent and the appellant in earlier briefs, filed when the case first went before the upper court.

Examination is made first of the subject of misconduct by the District Attorney. It is declared that the prosecutor and his chief deputy were guilty of flagrant acts of misconduct and that if statements made by Dist.-Atty. Fitts in his closing argument to the jury did not charge the defendant's counsel with the grossest of bad faith, "then we can conceive of no language which might be employed to charge bad faith."

At another point, the defense declares that one of the State's arguments is "so absurd that we do not feel called upon to comment on it." Another is declared to lack "sound or logical reasoning." Still another gives rise to the remark that "we feel that the respondent must have had great difficulty in reading the decision itself or else respondent would have grasped at once the reason of the court's opinion on the point."

State arguments on the admission of evidence as to chastity, consent and use of force or violence are met with the statement:

"Of course, the respondents failure 'to see' . . . etc., . . . is continuing evidence of the respondent's failure to appreciate and realize that the Supreme Court held that the questions of chastity, consent and force and violence were material, relative, competent and pertinent evidence and constituted a part of circumstances surrounding the commission of the offense."

Opinions are cited to refute the State's contention that the rulings of the Appellate Court establish a new law and that they would not interfere with future prosecutions.

The court has until Saturday to rule on the request for a rehearing. In the event of a denial, it is declared by the State that an appeal will be taken to the State Supreme Court.

RESCUED TRIO RECOVER FAST

Nine Hours in Sea Have No Serious Effects

Hardships of Exposure Told by Survivors

Several Ships Pass Them by Without Seeing

Nine hours in the waters of the channel have had no serious effect on Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell of 3441 Wilston street, Long Beach, and Hyle Lawrence of Porterville, who were rescued Tuesday night by the steamer Avalon while it was making its last trip of the day to Catalina.

MRS. WILLIAM CAMPBELL

Although the trio were suffering from exposure and thirst when they were picked up, it was said yesterday at the Catalina Hospital, to which they were taken when the ship reached port, that they recovered rapidly from their experience and probably will be well enough to leave for their homes this morning.

CRAFT SPRINGS LEAK

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and Lawrence were crossing the channel bound for Wilmington from the island in the auxiliary launch of the Campbell yacht, Idle Hours, when a huge wave struck their little craft broadside and it sprang a leak. It filled so rapidly that the trio put on life preservers and jumped overboard, also taking with them air cushions with which the boat was equipped.

WILLIAM CAMPBELL

In less than five minutes after they went overboard, the little craft had sunk, Campbell said at the hospital yesterday. During their long vigil in the water, he said, seals played around near them and several times nearly upset them.

Their most disheartening moment came when they saw the Campbells' yacht pass within half a mile of them with no one on board hearing their calls for help or seeing Mr. Campbell frantically waving his hat. The Campbells had set out in the auxiliary launch because it is much faster than the yacht and they were due in Long Beach at 10 a.m.

OTHERS PASS BY

The Idle Hours was not the only ship which passed near them during the day. At one time two government boats were on either side of them and they shouted and waved frantically, but to no avail. Navy planes at target practice were flying over their heads almost all day and the trio in the water tried desperately but unsuccessfully to attract the attention of the flyers.

They had been in the water just nine hours when Second Officer Metage on the bridge of the Avalon sighted the Campbells, who had drifted about three-quarters of a mile from Lawrence. While the Avalon halted and sent a lifeboat over the side, its commander, Capt. Cummings, radioed the steamship Catalina, which was also near the scene, to come up and search for others who might be adrift in the sea. The Catalina reached the point where Lawrence was in the water just as the Avalon's lifeboat picked him up.

Lawrence was unconscious when he was taken from the water and he was still suffering slightly from shock yesterday. Mr. Campbell had a slight cold yesterday while his wife was troubled only with the sunburn and bruises which all three sustained during their immersion.

LIGHT MOVE ABANDONED

The City Council yesterday abandoned proceedings for the lighting of Los Feliz Boulevard between Vermont and Western avenues. The hearing of protests against the improvement of Fuller avenue between Melrose and Oakwood avenues was continued until December 17.

HUNTING BAN ATTACKED

Ordinance Against Discharge of Long-Range Guns Asserted to Be Unconstitutional

Attacking the constitutionality of the county ordinance prohibiting the discharge of guns having a range of a half mile or more, Dr. Robert C. Eshelman, Santa Monica dentist, yesterday went before Superior Judge McLucas on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus. Eshelman had been sentenced September 16, last, to pay a fine of $25 or serve five days in jail for violation of county ordinance No. 1769, new series. John L. Webster, justice of the peace of Malibu Township, imposed the sentence from which the dentist appealed.

His attorneys, Roy A. Linn and H. Perk, Jr., set up the contention that the ordinance is unconstitutional. They asserted that, in passing the ordinance, first of its sort in this nation, the Board of Supervisors realized that it could not directly prohibit hunting and, therefore, accomplished the same result by prohibiting the discharge of firearms having a range of a half-mile or more. The attorneys contend that the State Legislature alone has jurisdiction over game hunting.

If the court upholds this contention, it was emphasized, it will mean that hunting once more will be legal in such sparsely settled districts as the Santa Monica Mountains and in Antelope Valley. At request of the County Counsel's office, the hearing was continued until the 20th inst.

HUSBAND GONE AND WIFE GETS DIVORCE

Her husband went east with another woman, asserted Mrs. Mary Gertrude Kemp yesterday in winning a divorce from Grant Sullivan Kemp. The wife submitted to Superior Judge Guerin a letter from her husband. Mrs. Kemp, who lives in Pasadena, said Kemp is in Hartford, Ct.

OIL PIPE LINE SOLD

The Union Oil Company yesterday was sold an oil pipe line along Manchester avenue by the City Council for $500.

Couple Ordered Held for Bank Robbery Trial

Although witnesses failed to identify Mrs. Lillian Yoeman as the driver who waved "good-by" to spectators following a branch bank hold-up, evidence produced by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Broker that the automobile in which the bandits made their escape was registered in her name was sufficient for Municipal Judge Russill to order her, with her husband, Alvin Yoeman, held for Superior Court for trial on robbery charges at the conclusion of their preliminary hearing yesterday.

Bank employees identified Yoeman as one of the two bandits who obtained $759 from the bank, located at La Brea avenue and Country Club Drive. Police said Mrs. Yoeman had $280 in her possession when arrested and that she had paid a large amount on her automobile the previous day.

ANGELS AND SUDS SPLIT TWIN BILL

Baecht Turns Back Tribe in Opener, 12-3; Lamanski Hurls Indian Win, 6-1

BY BOB RAY

As the "rassler" said, turn about is fair play, so everybody should be satisfied with the outcome of yesterday's twin bill at Wrigley Field. The Angels took the first fall, 12 to 4, but were flopped in the afterpiece, 6 to 1.

ED BAECHT.

Big Ed Baecht, the Cherubs' Chicago-bound chucker, chalked up his twenty-sixth triumph of the season in the opener with little or no difficulty. The Angels went out and got Baecht a four-run lead in the first inning and the big right-hander never had to worry after that.

In the nightcap, though, it was a horse on the other foot, Frank Lamanski, Sud southpaw, letting the Angels down with three hits and an unearned run. Carroll Yerkes blanked the Tribe in six of the seven rounds, but in that other session—which happened to be the fifth—the Indians bunched two walks with four hits, including Fritz Knothe's homer with the bases bulging, to score their half-dozen runs.

Although touched for sixteen as-

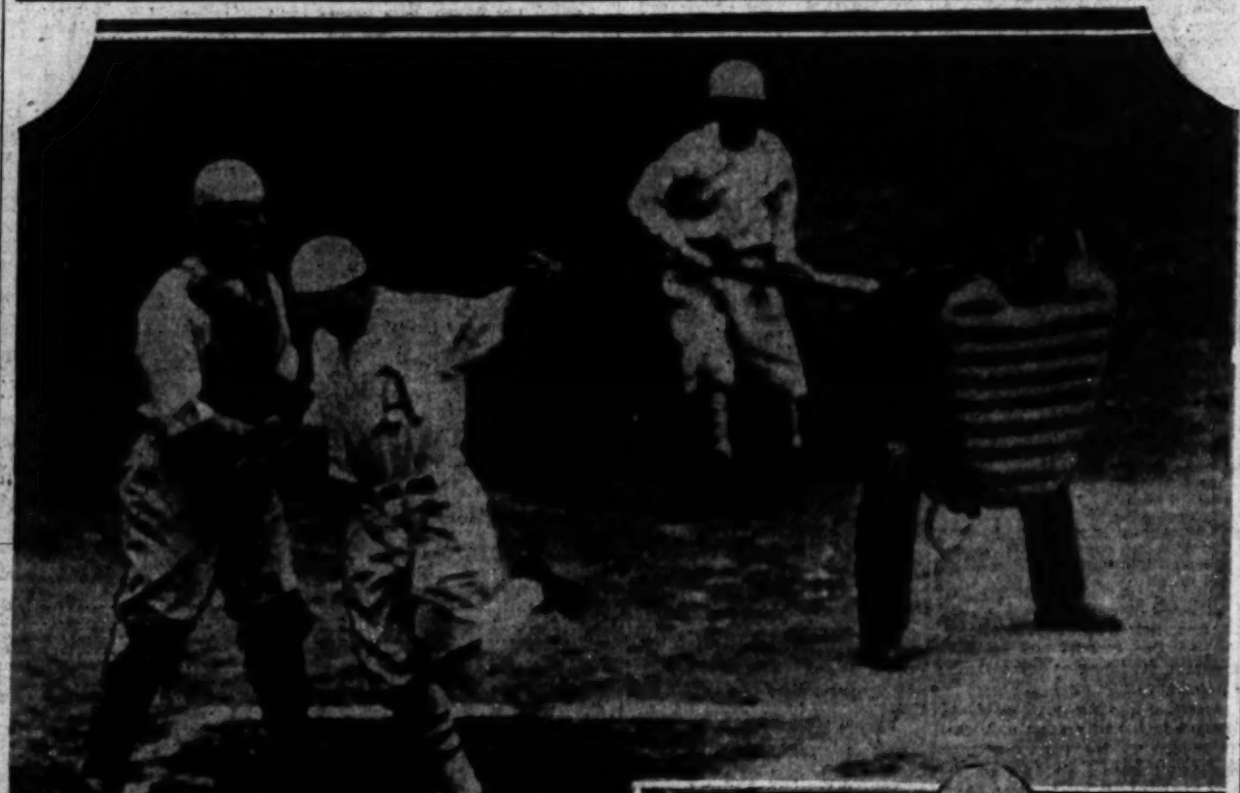
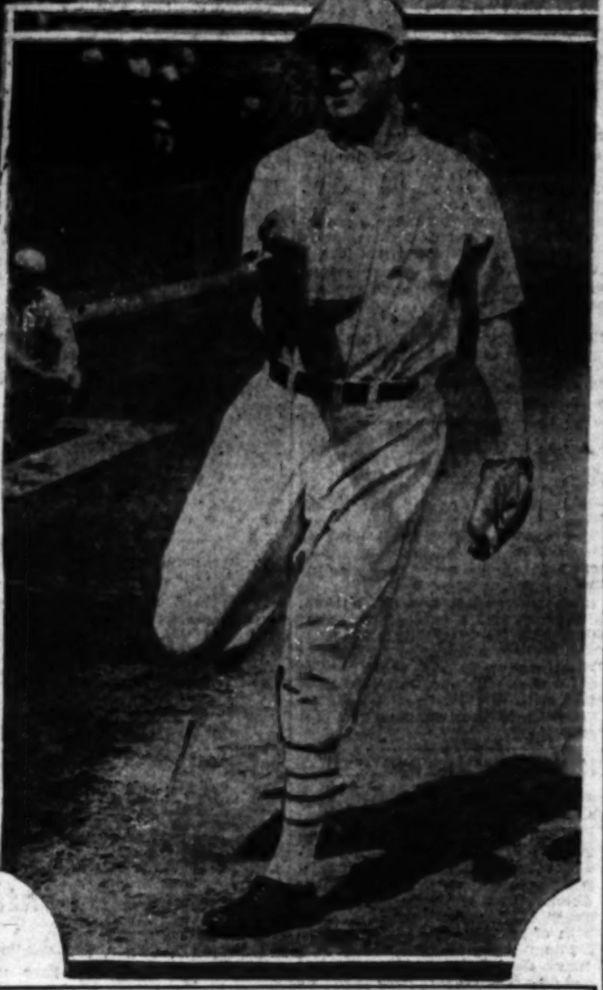
IT'S ALL OVER BUT FOR THE "I TOLD YOU SO'S"

The Associated Press telephoto at the top shows Dykes crossing the home plate on Cochrane's double in the first inning yesterday. Its was just one of seven runs with which the Athletics blew the St. Louis Cardinals out of the picture. In the bottom photo we have the big pitching hero of the series—George Earnshaw. He pitched and won two games, and in addition Monday's game at St. Louis was really his meat. He shut the enemy out for seven innings, and was lifted for a pinch hitter, Grove getting the credit for victory when the Athletics put over a two-run rally in the ninth.





NORTH COURSE STIFF TEST

Visiting Women Rate Los Angeles Among Severest Layouts in Years for National Tournament

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

The north course, Los Angeles Country Club, offers one of the severest tests of championship golf of any national tournament of the past few years. That seems to be the prevailing consensus of women golfers who will compete in the thirty-fourth annual championship next week.

Mrs. O. S. Hill of Kansas City, 1929 western women's champion and semifinalist in the national, considers the north course to be several strokes stiffer than Oakland Hills, Mich., were the tournament was played a year ago.

GLENNA COLLETT

"By putting well at Oakland Hills," the former western champion points out, "it was possible to score a 35 or 36 going out as the first side was several strokes easier than the incoming nine. This is not true over the north course, however, where both sides are equally difficult. This is the most difficult course that has been selected for the championship in the past several years."

A number of players contend that the north course is entirely too stiff and that the average player does not have an even chance of getting pars. Certainly the long hitter is going to have a decided advantage, but accuracy will also be at a premium, with trouble galore for those who stray off the fairway.

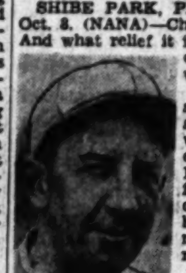
Eddie Had Feeling Mackmen Would Annex Series

BY EDDIE COLLINS

SHIBE PARK, PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8. (NANA)—Champions again! And what relief it is to have it all over and done with!



EDDIE COLLINS

I don't like to say: "I told you so," but, as I wrote in yesterday's article, I had the sure feeling that our club was due to break out in a rush of hits and runs.

Today's was the easiest game of the series. Against the masterful pitching of big George Earnshaw the Cards were just as helpless this afternoon as in their two previous attempts to fathom his delivery. If ever proof was needed to show that two good pitchers are all that is necessary to win a world's championship, I think the public has had a definite answer in the work of Bob Grove and George Earnshaw in this series just past.

Today's victory is more satis-

HOW SWAG WAS SPLIT

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8. (AP)—The victory of the Athletics today gave them the winner's end of the money, approximately $5000 per man, figured on a basis of their total of $136,027.69 being split into twenty-seven shares.

Last year, each Mackman collected $5620.57 for whipping the Chicago Cubs, the players' pool being larger than this time.

The Cardinals will have their feelings soothed to the approximate extent of $3500 each, figuring their purse of $90,684.14 on the same split-up basis as the A's.

The total gate receipts for the series exceeded $950,000 and were the nearest to the $1,000,000 mark since 1926.

the clouting Cardinals to the meager total of thirteen safe hits and two runs. From the third inning of the second game until the ninth inning this afternoon, Earnshaw pitched shut-out ball over a stretch of twenty-two consecutive innings.

Not since Christy Mathewson blanked the Athletics three times in the world's series of 1905 has any pitcher shown such complete mastery over his opponents, nor given a more brilliant or courageous exhibition.

Through the series, the giant right-hander and former Swarthmore College star, was troubled with a right foot that was sore from the effects of a stone bruise. He aggravated the injury in the second game and today he frequently took his shoe off between innings to let the trainer massage his foot.

Until he tired toward the end of the game, Earnshaw was invincible, overpowering the Cardinals with his tremendous speed and baffling curves, mixed with a change of pace. He allowed only three hits in the first eight innings, meanwhile striking out six men, and yielded the only Cardinal run in the ninth on hits by Andy High and Chick Hafey, the latter banging out his second double of the game.

Thus the famous two-man staff of the A's, Earnshaw and Grove, with Earnshaw enacting the role of senior partner, completed the conquest in the fashion more brilliantly convincing than even their warmest admirers expected them to do. Grove, the fireball left-hander, won the first game, lost the fourth in a close duel with Jess Haines, but received credit for winning the fifth, checking the Cardinals in the last two innings as Earnshaw's successor, while Jimmy Foxx's home run settled the issue.

Grove spent most of this afternoon out in the bull pen, warming up for any emergency that might arise. He was ready for the rescue act at any time but as the A's bats beat a happy tune and Earnshaw's arm continued to perform pitching magic, the famous southpaw found no opportunity to step in.

Earnshaw, after surviving the brief Cardinal outbreak in the ninth, waited for Bing Miller to bring in the last ball for him and then raced to the dugout to escape the wild rush of fans, scrambling to the field. The

Several Changes in Bruin First String Looms Following Clash With Pomona Satur

SHAKE-UP DUE AT WESTWOOD

Freshmen Run Over Top of Varsity Players

Spaulding Likely to Make Number of Changes

Bruins Figure to Defeat Pomona by Big Score

BY FRANK ROCHE

BILL SPAULDING

There will be quite a lot of changes in the U. C. L. A. first string following the Pomona College game Saturday at the Coliseum. This was the word passed along late yesterday following the practice scrimmage session between the freshmen and the varsity at the Westwood field. Head Coach Bill Spaulding is not quite satisfied with his first string to date but he is going to give them a chance in the Sagehen game to prove themselves. If they can make good everything will be jake at Westwood, if not a shake-up is due—that's the situation to date.

Yesterday the freshmen coached by Freddy Oster scrimmaged with the so-called first string and the yearlings led by Joe Keeble, a husky fullback who hails from the melon patches made famous by Imperial Valley, ran over the top of the upper classmen at times. Perhaps the varsity was not clicking just right because they were saving their stuff for Saturday's game but at any rate they did not look any too good.

Spaulding worked the entire varsity squad real hard yesterday. He sent them through passing, kicking and running formations for quite some time before calling the freshmen on the field for the scrimmage session. At that Bill had quite a time keeping the freshmen out of the picture. Even when they lined up on the sidelines the critics present began to buzz and hum about them, forgetting even that the varsity was on the field.

The Bruins figure to beat Pomona hands down. Spaulding knows that, too. He really does not want to run up score, but he will have a tough time holding down the score if his kids get going.

The Bruin first team will be as follows: Mulhaupt and Wellendorf, ends; McMillan and Willoughby, tackles; Jones and J. Duncan, guards; Goodstein, center; Solomon, quarter; Forster and Thoe, halfbacks; Duncan, fullback.

This team will not remain intact long. Spaulding has Lenny Berg... a crack quarterback, who stole the show in the Trojan game by tossing passes all over the lot, and Bob Decker, a ball-packing fool, to shoot in when he sees fit. They will, no doubt, go in to replace Solomon and Thoe before the game is many minutes old.

There is quite some disappointment in the pivot position at U. C. L. A. Homer Oliver has not developed the way Bruin followers expected he would. As a result Goodstein, who played at guard last year, is now filling that position. Milum is still an unknown quantity. He was an understudy for "Peaches" French, the best player on the Bruin team last year in the writer's opinion and, therefore, did not get a chance to show much. He may develop later.

Spaulding has two good booters in Howie Roberts and Norm Duncan. Roberts is particularly good. He can boot them, and how.

The Bruins should beat Pomona, on the present dope, by ten points more than they did last season. The 1929 score was U.C.L.A. 20, Pomona, 0.

Fight on Draft to Start Today

CLEVELAND (O.) Oct. 8. (AP)—Major and minor-league representatives and owners tonight headed for Cleveland for what promised to be a fight to the finish on the perplexing draft controversy.

Representatives of the three Class AA leagues, the American Association, the International and Pacific Coast leagues, planned to decide definitely on their stand at a meeting here tomorrow. On Friday they will confer with the major-league emissaries.

As matters now stand, the major leagues have given the minors, especially the Class AA circuits, until December 1, 1930, to submit to some form of universal draft of players. At their recent meeting in Chicago, the officials of these Class AA circuits refused to budge from their opposition to any kind of a draft by the majors and announced they would continue to do so.

The two major leagues then issued their ultimatum to the effect they would boycott the leagues from December 1 on or until they submitted to the draft.

MAPLE LEAF, BRUIN PUCKS MEET TONIGHT

What may prove the hardest-fought ice-hockey contest so far this season will be staged tonight at the Palais de Glace when Dave Patrick's Bruins tangle with the Maple Leafs. It will be the second contest for each squad, both teams having met Hollywood in their opening games.

Patrick's crew beat the Monarchs while the Maple Leafs lost to the Hollywood squad, which should make the Bruins big favorites tonight. However, such will not be the case inasmuch as Manager Buck Weaver has strengthened his Leafs by signing some of the outstanding pucksters of the Southland. Among these are Goalie Bill Vaughn, Defense "Rube" Brandow, and Forwards Chick Bond, "Chuck" Warren and "Lefty" McDonald.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8. (Exclusive)—The big blast crashed again in Philadelphia this afternoon and with George Earnshaw pitching his third great game Connie Mack moved forward into his fifth world series championship and his second in a row.

The master manager of all time juggled five star ball players into a pennant and he then juggled them through another world series against a club that fought hard at home, but had no chance on eastern turf.

In the first game of this series the Athletics made five hits that netted seventeen bases and five runs. In the final battle at Shibe Park they made seven hits for a total of nineteen bases that netted seven runs and a 7-1 victory for Earnshaw.

So it happened that in the first and last games of the series the Athletics lashed out every blow for extra bases. There was no flabby single to break up the dull boom of the long wallop. In these two games, the decisive ones of the series, they made twelve hits for a total of thirty-six bases, an average of three bases for every hit made. Baseball has known nothing like that since Abner Doubleday figured out the game more years ago than I care to remember now.

In this final game the Cardinals never had a chance. They were smothered and outclassed from the jump. They couldn't hit big George Earnshaw with a paddle and Mr. Mack's big maulers peeled the hide off Hallahan and Johnson, who attempted to stem the Athletic charge. St. Louis had nothing to stop the champions, while Earnshaw was riding along with more stuff than the Cardinals have seen all year. He held them to three hits until the ninth when, with a shut-out in sight, he began to falter a trifle under the strain of closing out the show.

So Connie Mack, the king of all the managers, one of the squarest sportsmen and one of the ablest directors of all time, takes over another world's championship. No man who knows Mack and his record could begrudge him this achievement.

It has been whispered all along the season's route that the pitchers never had a chance with this modern ball. But the world series has proved the case to be entirely different. There were six home runs in the first five games, but for all that the pitchers dominated these two games.

You can dig back into the vital statistics for the correct answer here. In one stretch the Cardinal pitchers held the Athletics to one run in thirty consecutive innings. If that doesn't show pitching mastery against a hard-hitting ball club there is no such thing. When a set of pitchers can hold Cochrane, Simmons and Foxx to one run in thirty innings they are proving that the pitcher still has a main place in the game.

At the end of five games there had been eight fine pitching exhibitions. Grimes turned in two high-grade games where long hits wrecked him in one after he had allowed only five blows. Bob Grove turned in two fine games, while Earnshaw pitched one of the best games of the series and then followed with a seven-inning shutout. Hallahan and Haines both had the Athletics stopped cold. If there was a rabbit ball in evidence in these first games none of the hitters could locate the rabbit. It wasn't there when they swung.

One big feature of the Cardinals' uphill fight after a groggy start was the fact that they kept the series close and interesting despite the inability of Frisch and Bottomley to hit up to anything like their season's average work. Frisch got only three hits in the first five games and Bottomley went to the plate twenty times and came away with only one hit.

If Cardinal pitchers had been able to stop Cochrane, Simmons and Foxx in this fashion there would have been far more trouble for the Mackmen. They stopped the slugging trio in the first two St. Louis games and both easily. It is tough on a ball club when the massed punch in the run-making sector is thrown for a loss, game after game. It is here the winning drive is supposed to start, and when it is broken up as badly as this there can only be an uphill battle left. A battle against odds.

The wonder is that Connie Mack was able to engineer his present ball club into another pennant. He had only two dependable pitchers all year. He had to jockey these in the most skillful fashion. He had at least four weak spots in his machine—spots at least well below his last year's strength. This last pennant must stand as a tribute to one of the greatest of all managers and to one of the finest years he has known in his fifty years of baseball.

CONNIE MACK HAPPY WITH TITLE

BY EDWARD J. NEIL

CONNIE MACK

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8. (AP)—An old gentleman with a new toy—his second world series championship in succession—played with the bauble tonight and trembled with happiness in possessing it.

Once more Connie Mack, the tall, stately patriarch of the Philadelphia Athletics, has maneuvered his men into the throne room of baseball. In fifty long years' playing the game, managing the A's, he has won five of these titles.

Today the hulking powerful young athletes who might be his own sons in the affection he feels for them, battered the St. Louis Cardinals into the final defeat needed to bring another world championship pennant to Shibe Park. They fought for the honor and prize of winning, they fought for the "old man" though they'd never dare call him that to his face.

When the battle was over and a mob of howling fans were fighting to invade the sanctity of the Athletics' dressing room, Connie slipped in among them. He could hardly speak from excitement. The warriors were shouting defiance and satisfaction over a radio microphone set up in their quarters and an announcer was pleading for Mr. Mack's presence on the air.

The players let out a roar that rumbled through the walls and out into the stands when they spied Connie's long lean frame. He walked happily down a lane through them, reaching out to pat his aces, big George Earnshaw, the pitcher; Al Simmons, Jimmy Foxx, Mickey Cochrane, Jimmy Dykes, as he went by. Then halfway to the microphone he stopped and said: "You did what I asked you to. You are a really great ball team."

Just as the A's themselves, giving the Cardinals plenty of credit for gameness and fight, looked upon the outcome of the series as something that could not have been otherwise, so did Connie Mack accept the victory with complacency when he finally got a chance to sit down and talk it over.

"This was the easiest game of the series," he said as he lolled back in an easy chair at his desk in the tiny office set up in the tower back of the grand stand in Shibe Park. "The Cardinals played all their cards and went down fighting. I am proud to say they made us play to the limit. They were worthy foes, but I must give my boys credit. They are a truly great ball team.

"They gave me my fifth world's championship today and all the honors should go to them. I told them this spring they must win another American League pennant and another world championship before I would recognize them as a really great team. Now they have done that. They are a great team.

"Lefty Grove and George Earnshaw must be given a world of credit. They are great pitchers. Earnshaw, on his performance today and through the series, must be classed as one of the greatest pitchers of all time, an iron man of the same caliber of Jack Coombs who won three games for me in the world series with the Chicago Cubs in 1910.

"Hallahan, Haines and Grimes of the Cardinals are all great pitchers. Gabby Street did everything possible and made no mistakes in handling his club. The breaks were even. He just didn't have quite the ball club I did."

Down under another section of the stands the Cardinals, beaten but contented with the best showing a National League champion has made in a world series in four years, quietly stripped away their baseball togs for another season and headed home. There were no crowds pushing them. They had little to say because there was little to say. They had given all there was and it was not enough.

"It was just a case of too much Earnshaw," said Gabby and there was genuine admiration for the big right-hander in his voice. "I've got a good club and we might have won with the breaks. We didn't get them so the best club won this series."

INGLEWOOD TRIPPED BY COMPTON MIDGETS

Coach Vic Edmundson's Compton midgets chalked up a 12-to-0 victory over the Inglewood Cees in a grid game played yesterday on the victor's field. Miller, Edmundson's classy little quarterback, scored both of his team's touchdowns. The first on a line buck after a long march down the field, and the second on another short buck following a blocked Inglewood punt on the 2-yard line.

Hutton & Co. five rinsing up a victory over the Tucker, Hunter & Dulin basketeers by a 49-4 score. Johnson, star forward of the Hutton five, was the high scorer of the evening, sinking the spheroid through the hoop seven times. In the other game held in the Sentous Junior High School gym, the Dean Witter hoopsters lost to the H. A. Barneson five by a 22-9 score. Coleman, the victors' star, scored ten points for high-point honors.

FRISCH LAUDS MACK'S OUTFIT

No Alibis Offered by Card Second Baseman

BY FRANKIE FRISCH

Second Baseman of the Cardinals

FRANKIE FRISCH

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8. (NANA) My hat's off to Connie Mack and the Athletics. They beat us and we congratulate them.

George Earnshaw has proved to me he is one of the great pitchers of the game. A fellow who can pitch three beautiful games in a week as he did must be a remarkable man, and numbered among the great of all time.

Earnshaw pitched to us a little differently today than he did in his other games. He concentrated mostly on speed last Thursday and again in St. Louis Monday, but today he mixed his offerings up more. He still had wonderful speed this afternoon, but he threw more curves than he did during his other games. He also used a slow ball now and then today.

Big George had perfect control almost, especially of his curve ball. He certainly knows how to break that to perfection. He throws it in such a way that it is very difficult for the batters to get a good "piece" of it.

We might have been more troublesome this afternoon with a little luck. We were getting to Earnshaw late in the game and we had him groggy in the ninth, but the luck held out on us. I hit a ball hard, one of the hardest I hit in the series with a couple of men on in the ninth, but it only resulted in a double play, when Foxx grabbed the ball and stepped on first base. High had opened the inning with a long single and later on, after two were out, Hafey hit a double, so had that other ball gone through, we still might have been in that game.

I'm sorry about Bill Hallahan. He might have pitched another great game, but for his sore finger. He raised a blister on the middle finger of his pitching hand pitching last Saturday, and this afternoon in the first inning he rubbed the skin off the blistered spot and could not grip the ball as he desired. That is the reason Philadelphia got him early and is the reason Manager Street took him out.

We did our best, and, while we're all down-hearted over not being able to win, we'll take it as good naturedly as we can. We know we were beaten by a great team.

Johns Blanks Solons, 2-0

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 8. (AP)—Augie Johns scattered seven hits through nine innings here tonight and shut out the Sacramento Senators, 2 to 0, for the second straight Hollywood victory. Vinci hurled against him and yielded but three hits, two coming in the fifth for the winning scores. Chesterfield finished the game. Score:

Seals Bow to Oaks in Tenth

OAKLAND, Oct. 8. (AP)—Oakland defeated San Francisco here tonight, 5 to 4, in ten innings when Curtis Davis, Seal pitcher, made a wild throw to third base after fielding Brubaker's bunt, Schino scoring from second.

Pitching honors between Davis and Craghead of the Oaks were even until the final frame. The Oaks garnered two runs in both the second and the fifth frames while the Seals were blanked until the eighth. In that inning they scored three tallies and brought across one more in the ninth to force the Oaks into an extra inning.

YOUTHFUL MAT STARS OPEN WORK

Don George, McCoy Start Training for Wrestling Show at Olympic

Both Don George and Bob (Bibber) McCoy, who will tangle in the finish feature event of "Carnation" Lou Daro's mat show at the Olympic Wednesday night, went through their first heavy workouts in preparation for this battle, yesterday.

George, the "Wolverine Express," who is doing all of his training at the Commercial Club, went a fast clip for almost an hour with his three partners before calling it a day. In that time he opened up enough to show that he intends to keep close to McCoy during the coming encounter, so that the former Holy Cross grid star will not have a chance to level on him with his devastating tackles.

George worked on his defense against the tackles for about fifteen minutes. He used both the stiff-arm and side-step effectively, and on several occasions he connected with the point of his trainer's chin with the heel of his hand in protecting himself from that hold. Several veteran mat followers who have watched George's progress here closely since the young mat star's first appearance on the Coast, believe the former University of Michigan grappler, may use the open hand to the chin as his defense against the tackles. George hits hard enough to produce a knockout, it was reported.

McCoy went through a fast grind at the Main Street gym, and he received a big ovation for his fast, smashing work from the crowd that had gathered there. The three holds to which he gave the most attention were the flying tackles, the front leg-trip and the leaping headlocks.

Francis Quinn Takes Honors in Ascot Race

In perhaps one of the most thrilling races ever staged at the local dirt oval, Francis Quinn last night won the forty-lap main event at the American Legion Ascot speedway to come to the finish after he and Mr. H. W. (Whataman) Stubblefield had fought for supremacy throughout the first thirty laps, after which "Stubby" threw a wheel. Quinn was followed to the checkered flag by Swede Smith, Johnny Krieger, Sam Hoffman, Lynn Eldridge, and Stubblefield, and he negotiated the twenty-five miles in 20m. 14 2-5s.

After Stubblefield had held the lead in the main event for about thirty-two laps with Quinn ever-present at his tail, "Whataman" threw a wheel while turning the northwest curve and only the hand of fate staved off the death of perhaps a half-dozen spectators. As the wheel left the car, it hit the railing at the side of the track, flying about forty feet above the loge section and about fifty yards in the air, finally landing in the aisle in back of this section and careening back again over the loge to land in the dirt pit at the edge of the track, without touching a person. The near-capacity audience watched what seemed to be sure disaster with stupefied attention. To show what kind of a driver he is, "Stubby" went to the pits, put on a new wheel and finished the race in last place.

Earlier in the evening Stubblefield excelled by copping the first two events on the program. By winning the popular Italian helmet dash of two laps last night he chalked up his fourth straight victory in this event. In the second event, consisting of ten laps, Stubblefield established a new track record for either day or night by covering the distance in the flashy time of 4m. 53 1-5s. In both of htese first two races the winner was followed to the flag by Francis Quinn and Arvel Brunmier.

Sam Hoffman, the veteran driver from Sioux City, Iowa, won his second ten-lap race in as many weeks. In his first appearance here last week Hoffman won the fourth event and repeated his win last night.

The track was especially fast last night, being hardened by the condition of the weather. Consequently many cars skidded. In one of the preliminaries Kelly Battello blew a tire on the south turn and hooked wheels with Frank James, who received but a cut lip. In the last event, the consolation—always a sensation—three cars skidded and hit the fence at intervals, but no injuries were reported.

SUMMARIES

Event No. 1, two lap Italian helmet dash—Won by "Stubby" Stubblefield; Francis Quinn, second; Arvel Brunmier, third. Time, 59.74s.

Event No. 2, ten laps—Won by "Stubby" Stubblefield; Francis Quinn, second; Arvel Brunmier, third. Time, 4m. 53 1-5s, new track record.

Event No. 3, ten laps—Won by Nick Martino; Johnny Krieger, second; "Swede" Smith, third. Time, 5m. 2 1-5s.

Event No. 4, ten laps—Won by Sam Hoffman; Lynn Eldridge, second; Phil Pardee, third. Time, 5m. 10 1-5s.

Event No. 5, forty laps, main event—Won by Francis Quinn; "Swede" Smith, second; Johnny Krieger, third; Sam Hoffman, fourth; Lynn Eldridge, fifth; "Stubby" Stubblefield, sixth. Time, 20m. 14 2-5s.

Event No. 6, ten-lap consolation for all nonwinners—Won by Bill Heisler; "Speed" Hinckley, second; Lester Spangler, third. Time, 5m. 13 2-5s.

Gophers Drill on Card Plays

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) Oct. 8. (AP)—Coach Fritz Crisler today armed the freshman team with Stanford plays and sent them against the varsity in a scrimmage closed to the public. Emphasis was placed on the defense, especially against the pile-driving line smashes expected from the westerners. Riebeth and MacDougal looked good while Munn's toe appeared to be polished off for a good kicking game.

TROJANS JAUNT NORTH

of strategy as do California, Stanford and Notre Dame.

While in Pullman conducting summer school last July Howard Jones dropped this remark to Hollingbery: "You know Babe, that fellow Exendine made it much tougher for you than it would otherwise have been." Mr. Exendine, by the way, is the man who brought a Washington State team to Los Angeles in 1925 and defeated the Trojans, 17 to 12. Jones admits he did not adequately prepare for that game, but the foregoing statement to Hollingbery is evidence enough of what the Trojans now do in the way of getting ready for their friends the Cougars.

Just by way of emphasizing the importance of Saturday's conflict Jones drove his players through a two-hour workout this afternoon, the session commencing shortly after 1 o'clock and winding up just in time to allow all hands to board Troy's special train at 4 p.m.

Southern California has never played at Pullman, which is situated eighty miles south of Spokane and within almost a stone's throw of Moscow, Idaho, where Idaho University is located.

The Trojans and Cougars have met seven times, with the following results: 1921, S.C. 28, W.S.C. 7; 1922, S.C. 41, W.S.C. 3; 1925, S.C. 12, W.S.C. 17; 1926, S.C. 16, W.S.C. 7; 1927, S.C. 27, W.S.C. 0; 1928, S.C. 27, W.S.C. 13; 1929, S.C. 27, W.S.C. 7.

Those who are inclined to be the most optimistic among Troy's supporters point to those four touchdowns each year for the past three seasons, while gentlemen who are prone to look on the sour side of life can do aught but recall Washington State's feat in blanking California, 16 to 0, last week. There is much to be said on both sides, which does nothing more than presage a great football game Saturday.

TWO WORKOUTS

The party stops this morning at Red Bluff for a workout on Kaer Field, so named after Southern California's all-American ball carrier of some years ago. Arriving in Spokane Friday noon, a practice session is billed for Gonzaga University. The team will remain in Spokane overnight, going to Pullman Saturday morning.

Head Man Jones has Bill Hunter and Sam Barry as his aides on this trip, also Doc Fiesler. In the absence of Clifton B. Herd and Jack James, eaters of enormous reputations, James J. Smith is doing his best to capture the gastronomical championship. However, only one meal has been consumed thus far and undoubtedly there are several dark horses among the passenger list. Daily reports will indicate the standing of various contestants for every twenty-four hours. Smith now leads but may crumple when the going gets tough, as he is not in the best of shape.

Right guard: Jess Shaw, Rupert Black, Vaughn Deranian.

Right tackle: Tay Brown, Ernie Smith, Bill Armistead.

Right end: Garrett Arbelbide, Neil Norris, Henry Biggs.

Fullback: Jim Musick, Gaius Shaver, Bert Ritchey.

TROJANS TAKING DRINKING WATER

The Trojans on their trek to Washington will have plenty to drink. They are taking it along with them. Just before the train bearing the team departed for the north forty demijohns of Arrowhead spring water were loaded, on the instructions of Coach Jones, who is going to take no chances that his men might feel ill effects from a change of water. Last year the Trojans took their private supply of water to Chicago for the Notre Dame game.

TOMMY HITCHCOCK

TO POLO what Bobby Jones is to golf.

The greatest captain an American polo team ever had.

That's Tommy Hitchcock.

And the tribute was paid him at the Breakfast Club yesterday morning by our returned hero, Mr. Eric Pedley.

It was Mr. Pedley's way of answering the laudatory flood which has been his meed since return from international conquest.

Mr. Pedley held still while they acclaimed him as the first Californian ever to make a place on the American team.

He stood for the flowery phrases attendant upon his scoring feats.

But when the backslappers reached the border line and began to make it one-man proposition Mr. Pedley let loose in all his manly glory and reminded the overzealous that Tommy Hitchcock still plays polo.

That he captained the U.S.A. to glorious victory.

And that if there was any one-man genius behind that triumph it was Tommy Hitchcock.

THE FAIR GOLFERS

WHAT with Pedley, Jack Dempsey, Lighthorse Harry Cooper and all the golfing ladies here for the national championship play next week the Breakfast Club resembled a sports melting pot yesterday morning.

Pedley is just back from the polo wars.

Dempsey from a barnstorming tour as a referee.

Cooper from open golf conquests.

Each a champion of his own particular line.

And then the ladies.

There was Glenna Collett, four-time national champion—queen of the links in 1922, '25, '28 and '29.

And Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, who won the title back in 1909 and 1910, and again in 1924, beating our Miss Mary Brown in the finals.

Twenty years ago a champion. Hair tinged with gray now, but still playing championship golf.

And California's Mrs. Leona Pressler, runner-up to Miss Collett last year.

And Mrs. G. Henry Stetson of Philadelphia, who was the surprise champion in 1926.

And many others.

THE CARNERA MYTH

THE defeat of Primo Carnera is one of the biggest shocks in the boxing world for months.

After a carefully nourished managerial campaign of having Carnera knock off one bloke after another, in one way or another, the big Italian is beaten by one of the worst in-and-outers in the game.

Jimmy Maloney was terrible the night he boxed Armand Emanuel at Wrigley Field last spring. He not only lost an easy decision, but whatever prestige he ever possessed in minds of local followers of boxing.

Maloney has been knocked out by Jack Sharkey, George Godfrey, Tom Heeney and Johnny Risko, and lost decisions to other heavyweights of lesser repute.

His defeat of Carnera means that the big Italian—280 pounds of bone and muscle—is just another heavyweight myth as a champion.

That classification stands—even if Carnera in a return match should knock Maloney stiff as a plank.

LOYOLA, FRESNO STATE ANNOUNCE GRID LINE-UPS

Starting line-ups for Loyola University and Fresno State College, who clash at Wrigley Field Saturday night, were announced yesterday by Coach Tom Lieb of Loyola, and Stan Borleske, the northern mentor.

Lieb has shifted Karagozian and Euge to his first string. Karagozian will go in at right end in place of McEachen, and Euge occupies Reid's place at right half for the Lions.

Some doubt was expressed at Loyola today that the second team will be on the field for the opening kick-off. Lieb usually starts the reserves, in the good old Rockne fashion, and rushes the regulars into the fray after the first five or ten minutes. Against Fresno State, however, Lieb is anticipating a hard game and may take no chances on spotting the northerners a touchdown or so in the first period.

Scrimmage against the freshmen closed the heavy duty for the week for the Lions. They will have signal drill today and may not work at all tomorrow. The line-ups:

SHIRES GETS READY TO DON HIS MITTENS

CHICAGO, Oct. 8. (AP)—Now that the baseball season is ended, up pops C. Arthur Shires, the self-confessed great man.

Shires is considering resuming his winter trade as a professional fist fighter despite the edict of Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, to stay away from the boxing business.

The former White Sox first baseman is working in a Chicago gymnasium, in ring togs, and tips the scales today at 190 pounds. He is going on a barnstorming tour with a team of all-American all-stars. After the tour finishes the 21st inst., Shires says he will be ready to give a lot of deep thought to the idea of returning to the ring.

MACKS RETAIN DIAMOND TITLE

Earnshaw Beats Cardinals in 7-to-1 Contest

Wild Bill Hallahan Victim in Final Contest

crowd of 32,295 spectators arose at the finish to give the big right-hander one of the most vociferous ovations any world's series here has been accorded since the great Walter Johnson strode victoriously off the mound in 1924 in Washington.

Earnshaw's pitching masterpiece in hurling sixteen of the last eighteen innings for the A's was the climax of a triumph that forced even the conservative leader, Mack, to admit for the first time this was a "great team," comparable to the machine with which he won three world's championships in four years, 1910, 1911 and 1913, before it was beaten by the Braves in 1914 and subsequently broken up.

This was Mack's fifth world's championship triumph in seven battles with the forces of the National League and the most sensational of them all, for the A's were compelled to make a spectacular fight to overcome the Cardinals after the Red Birds had tied the series at two games each in a great comeback of their own.

FOUR STRAIGHT

It was also the fourth consecutive victory for the American League, due to the performances of two super teams, first the Yankees in 1927-28 and now the Athletics in 1929-30. These eastern clubs have won sixteen of the last nineteen world's series contests. Also, for the third time, the American League has registered its fourth world's championship conquest in a row over the older rival.

Connie Mack already had held the all-time record with four world's series triumphs and his fifth put him "two up" on his only living managerial rival, John McGraw, as well as the record of the late Miller Huggins of the Yankees.

Any lingering suspense and doubt about the outcome today was quickly removed as the Athletics went on their wildest hitting rampage of the series and scored their most one-sided victory. Bats of such players as Jimmy Dykes and Bing Miller, silent for days; war clubs of such consistent sluggers as Al Simmons, Mickey Cochrane and Jimmy Foxx kept up a steady drum fire of extra-base hits for the first six innings. It was all over but the shouting then.

In the previous games, the only solid and substantial smash of the Athletic bats was Foxx's sensational home run in the ninth inning of the fifth game. Today all the heavy hitters took a turn at the long-range stuff, Dykes, hitherto a "goat" because of his fielding lapses, had a perfect day at bat with a double, home run and two passes. Simmons hit his second homer of the series. Foxx and Cochrane contributed doubles and Bing Miller a brace of them. Hallahan, who blanked the A's in the third game, was really Wild Bill today and he lasted only two innings, during which he yielded two hits, three bases on balls and hit one batsman.

With one out in the opening frame, Dykes walked and scored on Cochrane's two-base smash that caromed off Bottomley's glove and eluded Watkins, rolling to the right-field wall. Mickey galloped to third on the error and scored on Miller's double.

ROUND TRIP

Hallahan got past the second without further damage, despite hitting Bishop and again passing Dykes, but Simmons greeted Sylvester Johnson, a right-hander, with a home run into the left-field bleachers in the third inning. Miller followed with his second double and the only hit the Athletics wasted. Johnson passed Bishop in the fourth and Dykes then hit a line drive into the lower left-field stands for a homer and two more runs. Foxx's double, in the fifth, followed by sacrifice hits by Miller and Haas, put over the sixth Philadelphia run.

Johnson gave way to a pinch hitter and Big Jim Lindsey was on the mound in the sixth when Bishop walked, raced to third on Dykes's booming double and scored on Cochrane's sacrifice fly with the last Athletic tally.

Lindsey, in the eighth, and Herman Bell, pitching in the ninth as the fourth Cardinal moundsman, retired the A's in order.

Meanwhile, off Earnshaw, only two Cardinals got as far as second base in the first eight innings. George Fisher, pinch hitting for Hallahan, doubled in the third, and Hafey doubled in the seventh, after which Bottomley walked, but these were the only Cardinal scoring threats until they averted a shutout in the ninth, when hits by High and Hafey, interspersed with two walks, produced only one run.

Bottomley, when he took three swings in the second inning, fanned for the ninth time in the series but escaped the ignominy of striking out further and for the tenth time to equal the 1921 record of George Kelly of the Giants. Sunny Jim was moved down in the Cardinal batting order, from fourth to sixth, in a last-minute shake-up by Manager Gabby Street, but it did no good.

Soccer Teams Clash Sunday

Some of the toughest competition of the season looms in the Los Angeles Soccer League battles at two fields Sunday afternoon, according to local critics. At Tournament Park, Pasadena, where the Hollywood team, champions of last season, collide with the Pasadena club, a real battle for supremacy is on tap the railbirds assert. Pasadena has a team of hustling youngsters, led by the veteran Sammy Wallace, and they figure to give the titleholders a whale of a game. In the opener at the Crown City Field, the Scots face the Victorias in a tilt that should be hard fought from the opening kick-off.

At Loyola Field, where the league is also staging a double bill, the game between the Magyars and the Sons of St. George will occupy the feature spot, but the opener at 1 p.m. between the L.A.A.C. and the Richfield Oilers will also draw a good deal of the spotlight because the Mercury team is making its debut for the season.

REDS SEEK REVENGE AGAINST BLUE FOUR

Determined to even the count and avenge themselves for last Sunday's defeat at the hands of the Blues, Clair Brunson's Reds have been working out all week to perfect their teamwork in preparation for the return match between the two teams next Sunday afternoon on the Uplifters' polo field. On paper, the Reds appear to have a little stronger line-up than the Blues, captained by Snowy Baker, and there are many who think the combination of Hal Roach and Brunson in the middle of the game will enable the Reds to win out in the ensuing game, particularly now that Roach has had an opportunity to get in a little practice after his long lay-off.

The line-ups:

Reds		Blues
T. Lyell Puckett	No. 1	Will Rogers, Jr.
Hal Roach	No. 2	Charles Crawford
Clair Brunson	No. 3	Snowy Baker
Carl Beal	Back	Dick Smith

BRUIN FROSH PREP FOR ONEONTA GAME

Coach Freddy Oster and his U.C.L.A. freshman football squad will meet a tough obstacle Saturday in the strong gridiron aggregation of the Oneonta Military Academy in a preliminary game to the Bruin varsity's contest with Pomona College in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Joe Keeble, the hard-hitting fullback from Holtville, is the chief Bruin frosh threat offensively, although Blackman, another tough boy from the Imperial Valley, Calexico, is not to be counted out of the picture. Keeble weighs 185 pounds and has the driving power of a limited express train. For speed and deception, Harry Morgison and Babe Giss are available. Tex Jones is th ebig threat of the cadet aggregation, which defeated the U.S.S. Oklahoma last Saturday, 7 to 3.

THREE IRONMEN

Eddie Mulligan, Ray French and Dutch Holland are the only Coast League players to appear in all games played by their clubs this season.

HOLTZER STARTS TRAINING

French Boxer Opens Work for Goldie Hess Bout in Olympic Next Week

Maurice Holtzer, French junior lightweight, yesterday moved into the old Ace Hudkins camp at Murietta Hot Springs. He will train there for the ten-round bout with Goldie Hess at the Olympic Tuesday.

GOLDIE HESS

In the Holtzer bailiwick is Hector McDonald, who recently boxed Hess. The French boy should have the Hess style well scouted.

Newsboy Brown and Clifude Varner are both working at downtown gymnasiums. They meet in one of the two ten-round star bouts.

Arguments over which fight should be staged in the wind-up spot have been cooled off. All principals have agreed to let Promoter Jack Doyle toss a coin the night of the fight to settle it.

Doyle believes that patrons think less of whether the fight is a special, semi or wind-up than managers. The caliber of the fight is what interests the customers most.

Both the Holtzer-Hess and Brown-Varner bouts promise hot action. There is more of the knockout possibility in Varner, the outstanding puncher on the bill. Varner is down to 117 pounds. He laid off yesterday. The official weight for the bout is 118. Brown will tip around 116.

Emmett Ledwith has practically closed for the Newsboy to meet the winner of the Midget Wolgast-Frankie Genaro bout in New York for the flyweight title.

Holtzer was last seen here when he gave Eddie Mack his hardest fight on the Coast. The French boy looked just as effective against Mack as Hess did.

Hess is at Soper's ranch. The winner of the Hess-Holtzer bout is pretty sure to box Bud Taylor when the Terre Haute blonde comes to town. Bud has two fights scheduled in the Northwest en route here.

Firemen Prep for Army Tilt

Thirty-five firemen footballers will make the journey to San Francisco for the game against the West Coast Army team Saturday, E. O. Barnett athletic director announced yesterday. The game is a very important one on the Smoke-eaters' scheduled. Coach Bill Blewett drove his team all yesterday for the clash and today they will scrimmage against Army plays.

The recent victory of North Dakota University over Davis Elkins will send the stock of the fire department game at the Coliseum against the Midwest institution's team sky high, E. O. Barnett, athletic director of the department announced. Davis Elkins, Barnett points out, is one of the strongest teams in the South. "Our game here looks pretty good to me," he stated. It will be played Christmas Day and it closes the season for the Smoke-eaters.

MUIR TECH PLAYS TIE GAME WITH PASADENA

The Muir Tech High School eleven held the second-string Pasadena J. C. to a 0-to-0 tie yesterday in a game played on the former's gridiron. Pasadena backs had numerous opportunities to score, but muffed them all, by fumbling or dropping passes when out in the clear. Scholl and Bonelli, Jaysee halfbacks, along with Hoeppner of Tech were the outstanding players on the field.

The line-ups:

Lusk	L.E.R.	Carlson
Adams	L.T.R.	Gold
Hill	L.G.R.	Foster
Money	C.	Ford
Houlgate	R.G.L.	Shirar

DOEG CLAN WATCHES JOHNNY ON SCREEN

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 8.—While Johnny Doeg, national singles tennis champion, was shown in part of his winning matches for the title against F. X. Shields and "Big Bill" Tilden, a large family party of his relatives looked on with keen interest last night at the Fox Criterion Theater here. In a modest little talk in front of the "mike" Johnny verified his reputation as a thoroughly good sportsman by declaring he "got all the breaks." Last night's theater party, guests of the management, included Mrs. Violet Hope Doeg, the champion's mother; Violet, his sister; Billy, his "kid" brother; Mrs. Thomas Bundy—formerly May Sutton Bundy, world's champion for seventeen years; Mrs. Bruce Ethel Sutton, Miss Florence Sutton, Dorothy Bundy and Billy Bundy.

LOYOLA FROSH MEET SAN BERNARDINO TEAM

Opening their 1930 schedule, the Loyola University freshmen gridders meet San Bernardino Junior College at San Bernardino tomorrow night. Coach Sam Bagley's heavy peagreeners are expected to give the Jaysee eleven a tough struggle, although early season showings give San Bernardino a slight edge. The frosh held the Loyola varsity to a 19-to-6 score recently and have shown consistent excellence against their own eleven in recent scrimmages.

FIERRO TO FIGHT FRANCIS

CHICAGO, Oct. 8. (AP)—A ten-round bout between Harry Fierro, Chicago bantamweight, and Kid Francis, Italian sharpshooter, has been added to the Stadium's card the 14th inst. Al Singer, new lightweight king, will make his first Chicago appearance, with Eddie Mack of Denver as his opponent, while King Levinsky, slugging lightheavyweight from the West Side, will meet Tom Kirby of Boston.

RAIN FAILS TO STOP 'EM

EVANSTON (Ill.) Oct. 8. (AP)—Weather conditions have only a casual importance in Coach Dick Hanley's preparation for Northwestern's opening conference game with Ohio State Saturday. It rained all day yesterday, but the whole Wildcat squad, except Hank Bruder and Harry Kent, put in an afternoon of blocking and tackling in the mud.

Oxy and Whittier Meet in Rose Bowl Tomorrow Night

PICK POETS TO TROUNCE TIGERS

Newman's Eleven Has Edge on Occidental

Kienholz Will Hold Final Workout Tonight

Eagle Rock Cripples to Play in After-Dark Tilt

DICK GLOVER

Coach Eddie Kienholz's Oxy varsity, which tangles tomorrow night with Whittier in the Rose Bowl, will hold their final workout for the crucial tilt behind closed doors tonight in the Bowl. Coach Kienholz put his aggregation through a stiff scrimmage yesterday afternoon, concentrating on defensive work for the starting eleven chiefly.

Though rated the underdog slightly, the Tigers are keyed up for a tough battle and determined to annihilate the Poets for the third straight year. Several of the Oxy gridders are still a little weak from bad colds, but all will be able to play tomorrow night. Capt. Jerry Chappell's ear has healed sufficiently so that he is expected to be in shape for the whole game.

There is a possibility that Johnny Reed, who was laid up all last week with a badly wrenched ankle, may start the game against Whittier at left half. Kienholz will hold Elliott as a relief ball packer, in that case, to take over either Dick Glover's duties, or Reed's, if he should wreck his ankle again. Bill Meyers will start at outside half, and Stoney Johnston will call signals.

The Poet-Tiger fray is bound to be a thriller any way one looks at it. The game will throw one of the teams out of the title race. Whittier was the preseason favorite to cop this year's honors, due to their squad of veterans, which compose the heaviest eleven in the league. Oxy is defending the title won the past two seasons, and set for a third straight flag, despite heavy losses by graduation. With Pomona already upset by San Diego, Oxy, Whittier and San Diego appear to be the strong bidders for the conference championship. The Tigers have tough sledding with the Poets billed tomorrow night and the Aztecs next week.

NORTH COURSE SEVERE TEST

out as the north course is undoubtedly of the slugger type. On the first side there are only three holes under 400 yards, and one of these is the 350-yard seventh, which is the trickiest hole on the course. Coming in only two holes are under 400 yards, and one of these is 380 yards. This does not include, of course, the four par 3 holes of which there are two on each side.

The card:

(Out) Yds.	Par	(In) Yds.	Par
500	5	400	5
450	5	225	3
330	4	350	4
115	3	420	5
450	5	530	6
320	4	140	3
350	4	440	5
525	6	280	5
115	3	445	5
3295	39	3340	41

A championship is a championship, however, and the test of golf must necessarily be of sterling caliber.

MISS COLLETT SHINES

Miss Glenna Collett, the defending champion, is hitting the ball with a great deal of vim and vigor. It wouldn't be at all surprising to see her get on the 500-yard first green in two, after the performance of driving the 320-yard sixth green the other day. Miss Collett played the short tee, which is approximately twenty yards short of the regular tee, but there are only a few men at Los Angeles who can drive the green from the regular markers.

Miss Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, Miss Marion Hollins of Santa Cruz, Miss Helen Hicks of Inwood, N. Y., and Mrs. Leona Pressler of San Gabriel, were also hitting the ball well yesterday. Miss Van Wie, playing with Miss Collett, Mrs. Hunter Robbins, and Mrs. W. W. Campbell, had a 39 on the first side. Mrs. Campbell, the former Doreen Kavanaugh, played a pretty tee shot dead to the pin on the tricky 175-yard ninth to get a birdie. Miss Cameron was also stiff to the pin, but missed her putt by a hair's breadth.

Miss Hicks has one of the most rhythmic swings of any woman in the tournament—and how she hits 'em. The young metropolitan star has a loyal rooter in Pater Hicks, who accompanied her to the Coast.

BREAKFAST TOGETHER

"One of the real joys I get out of life is watching my daughter hit a golf ball, says Mister Hicks.

The women golfers started yesterday by attending a breakfast in their honor at the Breakfast Club. They were costarred on a program with Eric Pedley, sensational No. 1 on America's international polo team, and that popular former champion, Jack Dempsey.

Miss Collett responded to Mrs. Pressler's word of greeting with an expression of pleasure at the opportunity of finally playing in a national championship in California.

Mrs. Hunter Robbins of Flintridge will be host to the visiting stars tomorrow morning when an invitation tournament will be held over the popular Pasadena course.

Stribling, Christner Go Signed

NEWARK (N. J.) Oct. 8. (AP) The Velodrome's A. C. announced today the signing of Young Stribling, Georgia heavyweight, and K. O. Christner, of Akron, O., for a ten-round fight at the Newark Armory the 23rd inst. It will be Strib's first fight in America since his sensational knockout of Phil Scott.

Yankee Entry Is Crippled on Eve of Classic

GLOUCESTER (Mass.) Oct. 8. (AP) On the eve of opening the international fishermen's race series between the Bluenose of Lunenberg, N. S., and the Gertrude L. Thebaud of Gloucester, the American entry tonight was hauled out on a marine railway for repairs. A trial sprint today rolled some of the caulking out of her seams.

She returned to port this afternoon after a brisk workout, leaking badly, with water over her ballast. Her veteran skipper, Capt. Ben Pine, was confident, however, she would be ready for the starting signal at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

A corps of workmen was immediately put to work on her.

The invader Bluenose also was out for a trial, which served to stretch her new canvas and acquaint her skipper, Capt. Angus Walters, with the race course.

Capt. Angus did not force Bluenose. He set only four lower sails and no topsails, yet over much of the course the big Lunenberger logged a generous thirteen knots. Her time for one six-mile run was 27m.

In conditions such as prevailed today Bluenose should have a distinct advantage over the Gloucester boat. Bluenose is 111 feet on the waterline and 143 feet overall, compared to the Thebaud's 101 feet on the waterline and 133 feet overall length. Thebaud's tonnage also is smaller, only 137 gross.

If the air is light and the sea smooth during the race the advantage all should be with the Gloucester boat.

ILLINI POINTS FOR PURPLE

CHAMPAIGN (Ill.) Oct. 8. (AP)—Illinois has a football engagement with Butler University Saturday, but Coach Bob Zuppke is doing his worrying about a week from Saturday when Northwestern plays at Champaign.

PRICE TRYING NEW BACKFIELD

Castro, McCutcheon Given Chance to Perform

BERKELEY (Cal.) Oct. 8. (Exclusive)—Eagerly in pursuit of the right combination to send against the much-feared St. Mary's College eleven Saturday afternoon Coach Clarence "Nibs" Price of University of California football varsity today introduced a new figure in the first-string backfield.

Gus Castro, star fullback for the freshman team last season, enjoyed the distinction today of working with the first-string team. The coaching staff has looked with fond eyes upon Castro all week and has given him considerable attention in second and third-string maneuvers, but tonight he went to the first string.

Last season Castro was a strong offensive and defensive pillar for Coach Clarence "Brick" Mitchell. When Castro was removed from the U.S.C. frosh game last season with injuries, the freshman defense went to pieces and two touchdowns were rolled up to give the Trobabes victory.

It may be that Castro's temporary promotion is only by way of psychological stimulus to the more experienced backfield men. Whatever the purpose, Castro worked out with Joe Hickingbotham and Hank Schaldach as halfbacks and Sheldon Potter as quarterback.

Another man who was doing a lot of ball carrying today and who appears to be in line for heavy duty against the Saints is Bill McCutcheon, halfback.

He replaced Hickingbotham today when Price undertook further backfield testing. Schaldach, who evidently is sure to see much activity this season, worked particularly well with Ralph Seeley, who seemingly can hold on to passes.

Ed Griffiths still has a bad ankle. Rusty Gill is in good shape and apparently is not much worried over the intrusion of Castro. The latter will have to step on it to beat out the battling Redhead. There is also Clarence "Moose" Garrity to beat out for the job.

Another injury was brought to Price's attention today when Herman Eickmeyer, center, was seen to hobble on a bad ankle. He will take it easy as far as tomorrow night's scrimmage is concerned. In the event that Eickmeyer is not in shape, Price has a man almost equally as good in Frank "Butch" Medanich. Among the latest promotions to stick is that of Bob Pasco, guard, and freshman star last year. Pasco has replaced Don Handy, brother to Capt. Carl. He is big and working regularly with the second string. He will have a difficult time breaking into the first line-up, however, with Ted Beckett and the Golden Bear captain holding down the guard jobs.

ENGINEERS FACE LA VERNE

Caltech Opens Conference Season Saturday With Leopards; Prospects Bright for Beavers

Although Caltech lost to Arizona last Friday night Coach Stanton feels encouraged by the showing his boys made. The Caltech Engineers made thirteen first downs to Arizona's ten and outplayed the Wildcats during most of the game. Tech had the ball inside their opponents' 15-yard line six times, but managed to score but twice. This fellow Bill Hargis, with his speed and marvelous open-field running, was responsible for Arizona's victory.

For the first time in several years the Engineer backfield is heavy and packs considerable power on straight running plays. Capt. Walt Dickey and Red Watson are both heavy and fast and not so bad in an open field, either. Dickey is beginning to find himself as a halfback, carrying the ball over 150 yards, mostly on latteral pass plays, last Friday night. The light Beaver line surprised most everyone by playing the husky Arizona forwards to a standstill.

Caltech opens its conference season Saturday afternoon at Tournament Park, Pasadena, the Engineers meeting La Verne. This game will be watched with considerable interest as it marks the initial appearance of a Lee Eisen coached team in Southern California Conference circles, besides being the first conference game for both teams.

La Verne will outweigh Tech and has several Junior College transfers to bolster up her team, but on the form shown in early season games, Caltech will be favored to win. There will be a frosh game between the two schools, starting at 12:15, as a preliminary to the varsity struggle.

"I TOLD YOU SO," SAYS COLLINS

fying to me, and should be to the supporters of the Athletics and the American League, because of the manner in which it was accomplished. Up until this final game, two of the men who were most prominent in today's victory had been noticeably quiet so far as their hitting was concerned—namely, Jimmy Dykes and Bing Miller.

I feel that the game was won in the very first inning, just as it was lost for us then in St. Louis in the other game Hallahan pitched against us. Out there in St. Louis with the bases full in the first inning, Bill struck Bing Miller out, and from then on had clear sailing.

The almost identical situation confronted these two men in today's opening stanza. But this time, the tables were turned. Bing Miller came through with a crashing line double to right that drove in a run and apparently left Hallahan with a mental picture that things were liable to be different today.

This subsequently proved true, and an inning later, Manager Street saw fit to remove his star lefthander because he decided it wasn't Hallahan's day. The succeeding pitchers, Johnson and Lindsey all looked alike to our hitters, Simmons and Dykes producing homers, and a flood of base hits, long pent up, swept in to swamp the Cards.

During all this time, Earnshaw was mowing down the Cardinals inning after inning. An occasional base hit here or a walk there, varied the monotony of the one, two, three order of retiring. Never was he in any serious danger.

Our lead, from the first inning on, continued to grow one and two runs at a time. Big George just breezed along and not until the final round did he tire at all. Here a couple of hits and a base on balls accounted for St. Louis' lone counter.

During the last five innings, Manager Mack had Lefty Grove down in the bull pen warming up easily to be ready in case Earnshaw showed any signs of faltering, but Grove's relief work was never necessary.

Earnshaw closed out a pitching performance which may have been equaled, but certainly not excelled, in a world's series since the days when Christy Mathewson shut out the Athletics three successive times in 1905.

KENNEDY TO REFEREE ORANGE COUNTY BOUT

Fight-or-no-purse Lieut. Jack Kennedy, who started a move in the right way to clean-up for the cheaters in the fight game when he threw Ace Hudkins and Jack McVey, from the Olympic ring several weeks ago for stalling, will make his first appearance at any small boxing club when he officiates at the reopening of the Orange County A.C. in Santa Ana tonight.

The card is featured with an eight-round bout between Richey King, who claims to be in his old form again, and Urban Hernandez of Santa Ana, the pride of Orange county. The weight is 135 pounds. In the semifinal of six rounds, the Kentucky fat boy, Tim Charles, and Gus Hiebe, former amateur heavyweight champion, meet at 185 pounds.

JOE BONOMO BEATS OLSON

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 8. (AP)—Joe Bonomo, Hollywood (Cal.) heavyweight, defeated Buck Olsen, Chicago, in a one-fall wrestling match here tonight. Bonomo won with a crotch and half-nelson hold in thirty minutes.

Nation's leading Coffee Tasters pick OLD GOLD 2 to 1 in "Ripley Test" of Four Leading Brands

By Robert Ripley, Himself

"Believe it or not . . . these men together earn over $250,000 yearly . . . on their sense of taste!

"They are the world's finest judges of flavor. Big coffee importers and packers risk millions in coffee purchases on their taste-judgment.

"They can detect the minutest difference in flavor or aroma. They know to a T what the American public will like.

"So when I put the four leading cigarette brands up to them, I staged the toughest test a cigarette ever faced.

"They went at it seriously. Sampled each cigarette with names concealed. Once, twice, three times. Rated them on flavor, mellowness, body, aroma, general appeal.

"I was impressed when OLD GOLD won. I was stunned when I looked at the final score.

"Believe it or not, the keenest judges of taste the whole world knows picked OLD GOLD two to one over its nearest rival!"

COLOR LINE IN RUSSIA

The Stalingrad correspondent of a leading Moscow newspaper reported that "a reactionary group among the 300 American engineers and mechanics employed in the tractor plant at Stalingrad beat up a Negro and threw him out of the common mess hall for the unique reason that he was a Negro." After pointing out that twenty-six nationalities were employed in the tractor plant, the paper declared that "we will not allow the ways of bourgeois America in soviet Russia." Many of the Americans in Russia, asserted the paper, have shown enthusiasm for their work and some of them have even announced their intention of remaining in Russia after the expiration of their contracts, but "among them there is a small number, inspired by the reactionary system of capitalist exploitation of the so-called subject races, and they believe in racial inequality." A meeting of the employees of the electric factory in Moscow passed a resolution inviting the injured Negro to work with them instead of at Stalingrad.—[The Pathfinder.

NEW AIR LINE'S OPENING FIXED

Los Angeles-Atlanta Service Begins Next Wednesday

Southern Air Fast Express Officials Here for Start

Eight Trimotored Fokkers Ready for Use on Run

Service on the new air-mail and passenger line from Los Angeles to Atlanta, Ga., will be opened next Wednesday with eight trimotored Fokker planes, with seats for eight persons and mail compartments for 425 pounds of mail, according to a party of officials of the line who arrived here yesterday.

The new line is the Southern Air Fast Express, made up of four merged lines, the Delta Air line, operating between Atlanta and Dallas; Southwest Air Fast Express, serving St. Louis, Dallas, Fort Worth and other cities in the Southwest; the division of the Western Air Express that connected Dallas and Los Angeles, and the Southern Air Transport division of American Airways, Inc.

MEMBERS OF PARTY

Robert J. Smith, general traffic manager of American Airways, Inc., heads the party. Others are F. L. Duncan, assistant operating manager of the S.A.F.E.; Ned Kimbrough of the traffic department of the line, and Ike Sewell, also of the traffic department. Kimbrough and Sewell will establish business headquarters here and Duncan will manage the company's interests at an airport still to be selected.

Col. T. H. Bane, vice-president of the Aviation Corporation of Delaware, the holding company, and executive vice-president of American Airways, Inc., was awaited yesterday to aid in making arrangements for the inauguration of the new line.

SERVICE SCHEDULE

The schedule calls for thirty-six-hour service between Los Angeles and Atlanta, with a night stop at Dallas. The time will be cut to twenty hours when beacons are erected and night flying is possible, Smith said. Through the company's connections it will be possible to journey from Los Angeles to Mexico City in thirty-two hours.

With the opening of the new line, three coast-to-coast air-mail services will be available to Los Angeles, Smith said. The others are the Boeing service and the T.A.T.-Maddux-Western Air Express service.

New Quarters Expected to Meet Future Storage and Distribution Needs

Forced by a quadrupled sales volume during the past three years, the Boothe Company, formerly located at 1333 Willow street, has moved into larger quarters at 1400 South Alameda street, it is announced. The Boothe Company has recently been appointed warehouse distributor for aluminum and aluminum alloys (duralumin,) in all commercial forms, manufactured by the Aluminum Company of America.

The new quarters of the company contain 16,000 square feet of floor space and according to I. J. Boothe, president of the concern, are expected to meet its storage and distribution requirements for a considerable period into the future. The new facilities are expected to result in a 500 to 600 per cent sales increase during the coming year, the executive declared.

RADIO SALES ZONE MANAGER NAMED

W. A. Dunlap, who comes to Los Angeles from the Seattle zone office of General Motors Radio, has been appointed Southern California zone manager to succeed Don Wallace. Dunlap has already assumed his duties, while Wallace has been transferred to handle special regional work, according to L. C. Warner, regional manager, who announced the changes last week. A former Canadian, Dunlap served with the Canadian forces during the World War, and then went to Portland, Or., where for ten years he was engaged in public utility and banking work. When the sales division of General Motors Radio Corporation was formed, Dunlap resigned his position as assistant secretary of the Portland Trust and Savings Bank and went to the General Motors Radio offices in Seattle.

BABY GOLF EDICT FOUGHT

Owners' Association Outlines Plan of Battle Quickly After Ordinance's Adoption

Miniature golf-course owners yesterday outlined plans for defeating the regulatory ordinance, adopted yesterday by the City Council, no more than five minutes after the roll was called. Their procedure calls first for a drive on Mayor Porter for his veto, and if that fails to go to court or circulate a referendary petition.

The Council adopted the ordinance by a vote of 10 to 2. This ordinance, in various forms, has been before the Council for two months. Those opposing the measure were Councilmen Jacobson and Randall, while Councilmen Cooke, Davis and Ingram were absent.

The ordinance requires the courses to close at 12:30 a.m., to adopt a system of shading lights and to use noiseless cleaning machinery.

A committee of the Golf Course Owners' Association, composed of Mel Anderson, Arthur Wensel and William Francis Ireland, said they will first appeal to Mayor Porter for a veto. If the Mayor signs the ordinance, it will become effective after thirty days, during which period the golf owners say they will either apply to the Superior Court for an injunction or circulate a petition which will hold up the ordinance until a vote of the people can be taken.

The ordinance designed to silence loud radios and noise-making equipment in certain early morning hours, first a part of the golf ordinance, is still in the files of the Police and Fire Committee, which conducted a hearing last Wednesday.

HENDERSON ARRIVES TO GET WELL

Injured Aviator Expects to Have Recovered From Crash in Short Time

CLIFF HENDERSON

Survivor of an airplane crash in the rugged mountains of New Mexico, near Marcia, last Sunday, Clifford Henderson, Los Angeles resident and managing director of the National Air Races, was flown to his mother's home here yesterday morning, where he expects to recover from his injuries within two weeks.

Henderson, suffering a fractured ankle, deep cuts on his face and neck and severe bruises on his body, was landed at Clover Field, Santa Monica, in a Stinson cabin plane flown by Maj. Luke Christopher, contest secretary of the National Aeronautic Association. Mrs. Christopher and Phil Henderson, the injured man's brother.

"Cliff stopped for gas at Roswell, N. M., and headed for El Paso, Tex.," his brother recounted.

"In a mountain pass he ran into weather and fog so thick he could not see the instruments on the dashboard. He was about ready to jump with his parachute when he saw a small valley below. He dove into this and it narrowed down—preventing him from turning and he could not get out.

He stalled the ship into a small cleared space along an abandoned railroad track. The plane was a complete wreck, but we salvaged the motor.

"The canyon in which he landed was the only one inhabited for miles around. He was found by a logging crew and we flew back and brought him to El Paso for treatment and then home."

The injured pilot will remain at 1381 South Orange Drive until he recovers.

Mendell Plans New Endurance Flight Attempt

Loren Mendell, endurance flyer who has been forced down four times in an attempt to set a new world's record in the monoplane Pride of Hollywood, yesterday declared he will try it again.

The motor of the plane, however, was out of the ship yesterday. Either it will be repaired or a new one installed, Mendell said. He also declared he will procure a radio receiving and sending set to replace the one over which he and R. V. Howard, former radio operator on the flight, had a fistic battle last Tuesday.

Mendell was at Grand Central Air Terminal yesterday, supervising removal of the broken motor from his plane. He said his aides, R. Ewan, co-pilot, and Al Dahlstrum, radio operator, are anxious to attempt a fifth flight. He said it probably will be a week before he can get up again.

Dry Law Foes Plan Campaign

The following men were selected as commanders for the Southern California district: William P. Banning, Roy Bushee, John C. Byrne, John P. Crutcher, Philip M. Chapman, Richard Y. Dakin, John Dockweiler, Robert P. Elliott, Byron Erckenbrecher, Victor Forve, J. Lewis Gabel, John J. Garland, Francis P. Graves, Secondo Guasti, Jr., William E. Hale, Eugene A. Hawkins, Jr., George B. Hull, Robert Hunter, Thomas H. Joyce, Frederick M. Keller, Joseph R. Lippincott, Stewart McKee, Wells Morris, Albert Parker, Eric Pedley, Albert E. Van Court and George T. TWO DIE IN AUTOMOBILE COLLISIONS

Former Traffic Officer and Car Salesman Dead in Separate Crashes

Sprague Coulter, 31 years of age, said to be a former motorcycle officer in Culver City, was fatally injured early yesterday morning in a collision between two automobiles at Sunset Boulevard and Highland avenue. He died at the Hollywood Receiving Hospital several hours later.

Coulter, riding in an automobile driven by Jack W. Talford of 412 Cameron Place, Glendale, was thrown from the machine when it collided with a car driven by Mrs. Gwen Turritin of 512 Cloverdale street, according to the report of Officer Allen. Talford and Mrs. Turritin were not hurt, Allen said. Talford was held on suspicion of driving while intoxicated.

An inquest into Coulter's death will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow by the Coroner. Coulter lived at 308 Milton street, San Diego.

W. R. Nickels, 39, of 2975 East Orange Grove avenue, Pasadena, an automobile salesman, was fatally injured last night in an automobile collision on Broadway, Pasadena. Mrs. Ruth B. Updyke, of 45 West Pine street, Altadena, was the driver of the other car.

Nickels, who had been riding in a car driven by his brother-in-law, Edgar T. Bledsoe, died in the ambulance taking him to Pasadena Hospital.

Eugene Litts, 6 years of age, of 10459 Camarillo street, North Hollywood, died in Burbank Hospital last night of injuries suffered on the 6th inst. when he was struck by an automobile in front of his home driven by Robert W. Pierce, who was delivering newspapers.

GUNS RING AIRPORT TO BALK 'FOE'

Burbank Field Armed Camp in Preparation for Test of Coast Artillery

United Airport, Burbank, took on the aspect of a military camp yesterday when 250 men and officers of the Sixty-third Regiment, Coast Artillery Corps, Antiaircraft, from Fort MacArthur, San Pedro, pitched their tents between the landing runways in preparation for repulsing an air "attack" on Los Angeles.

The San Pedro contingent moved to the port in a cavalcade of trucks, bringing antiaircraft guns, machine guns, 5,000,000-candlepower searchlights and aircraft detectors.

The equipment will be used in exercises starting the 13th inst., when eight planes from Rockwell Field, San Diego, will attempt a surprise "attack" on the 14th and 15th inst. The Rockwell Field ships also will be allowed to take off from their base to try to break through the defenses of outposts that will be established between here and San Diego.

The problem, as outlined by Lieut.-Col. Willis Peace is most complicated and is the first of this nature to be presented to the Coast Artillery forces.

Girls Charges Jail Shoemaker

Hopja J. Topjian, 41-year-old shoemaker of 8115 Melrose avenue, was held last night at the Hollywood Police Station for investigation following complaints from the parents of six small girls, who asserted that the shoemaker had made improper advances to their daughters.

Topjian was arrested after an investigation made by Juvenile Officer John Walker and Policewoman Mrs. Toomey.

RABBI WILL PREACH AT SPECIAL SERVICE

Rabbi Isadore Isaacson will preach on "Death Takes a Holiday," at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Temple Israel in Hollywood. There will be special music, with a quartet singing "Fear Ye Not, O Israel," and a duet by the Misses Titsworth and Schrader, "Power Eternal." At 11 o'clock Sunday morning the children of the Temple will participate in a Succoth festival.

TIME PAYMENTS CAUSE SORROW

Husband Seeking to Escape Alimony Says Installment Buying Ruins Purse

Thomas Gilbert, defendant in a divorce action, wouldn't mind paying Mrs. Anna Gilbert alimony if he were affluent, he told Superior Judge Hanby yesterday, but his affairs are afflicted by too much installment buying.

"I have an automobile, but there are twenty more payments to make," he said. "I have a radio, but nine payments are due on that. The only thing I own is a fireside chair and I haven't got any fireside for it."

Judge Hanby ordered Gilbert to pay his wife $10 a month, anyway.

ROYAL PAIR OF FILMDOM END SIESTA

Mary and Doug Billed for Several Pictures on United Artists Schedule

Joseph M. Schenck returned to Hollywood from New York last night and announced United Artists, of which he is president and chairman of the board, is soon to launch the biggest production schedule in its history.

"The slump is definitely over, and there is no further need for worry," he said. He added Mary Pickford, abandoning her plan to return to the stage, is to produce two pictures for United Artists in addition to "Kiki," in which she is starring.

Asked the status of Dolores Del Rio with United Artists, the head of the motion-picture company explained the star's contract had expired during her illness and that future plans concerning renewal await her complete recovery.

Mr. Schenck added United Artists is not involved in any deal affecting its management, and that neither Howard Hughes nor anyone else has bought control.

While east Mr. Schenck conferred with his brother Nicholas Schenck, president of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and other film leaders. They told him there is new optimism in the show world. He himself expressed enthusiasm over the future of the wide film. He also sees a field for a certain number of silent pictures, his views being in agreement with Charles Chaplin, whose forthcoming United Artists feature, "City Lights," two years in the making, is silent but synchronized.

In addition to the Mary Pickford pictures, United Artists has scheduled "Reaching for the Moon" and two more from Douglas Fairbanks; "The Bat Whispers" and two more from Roland West, as well as productions from De Sylva, Brown and Henderson, Norma Talmadge and Al Jolson, and several specials from the Samuel Goldwyn organization.

The popularity of Chester Morris and Walter Huston assures them starring roles in the United Artists program, Mr. Schenck said.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE TO END MEET

City Officials Prepare to Close Convention at Long Beach Today

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Oct. 8. (Exclusive) Bringing to a close the most successful convention in the thirty-two annual meetings of the California League of Municipalities, the city officials will elect officers tomorrow afternoon, select a 1931 convention city, hear reports and adopt resolutions in the final business session. Friday the delegates will journey to Catalina as guests of Long Beach.

In conjunction with the league convention the California Sewage Works Association opened a two-day session today and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: B. J. Pardee, Visalia, president; W. A. Allen, Pasadena, first vice-president; John Jacobson, Davis, second vice-president; E. A. Reinke, Berkeley, secretary-treasurer; F. A. Batty, Los Angeles, the retiring president, director.

National health problems were discussed by Dr. L. L. Lumsden of the United States Health Service at Washington in three feature talks today before the health officers' division and the general assembly.

City Traffic Officer Will Take to Air

Los Angeles will see a brand new type of traffic signal tomorrow night when the world's first "aerial traffic officer" makes his debut.

Chief of Police Steckel has assigned Officer K. A. Smith as the first member of a squad which may be needed badly within the next decade. The latter will sit in the basket of a captive balloon at the intersection of Wilshire Boulevard and McCarthy Vista, Carthay Center, to give directions to autoists and pedestrians. He will be supplemented by "ground officers," who will pursue motorists failing to obey "the man above."

The balloon used will be an ordinary twenty-five-foot captive balloon, illuminated by powerful sun arc spotlights playing upon it.

Steckel is said to have conceived the plan after seeing a private preview showing of "Just Imagine," a film projected fifty years hence. He chose the time and location because of the world premiere of the picture at the Carthay Circle Theater tomorrow night.

LUBITSCH FIRES FINAL SHOT

Director Says Wife and Kraly Can Have Hollywood, for He's Departing for New York

Mrs. Helene Lubitsch and Hans Kraly, film writer, can have Hollywood all to themselves now. This was the parting shot yesterday of Ernst Lubitsch, famous motion-picture director, as he prepared to leave for New York tomorrow to take up his duties with the Paramount Publix Corporation.

Lubitsch, who engaged in a fistic encounter with Kraly, his friend of more than fifteen years, on the crowded dance floor of the Embassy Club in Hollywood, while scores of celebrities looked on, said the entire affair is a closed incident so far as he is concerned "as long as they leave me alone."

"I am leaving for New York tomorrow night, and they can have Hollywood all to themselves," he asserted. "All I ask is peace. As long as they give it to me there will be no more trouble. I have given her $150,000, my home and an automobile, and she can have Kraly, too, if she wants him, but I want peace of mind.

"They have continually harassed and taunted me in public, but so long as there is not a repetition there will be no more trouble. I like Hollywood very much, and I am coming back, perhaps in six months or a year. Here's hoping they have a good time."

Lubitsch socked Kraly because, he charges, they laughed at him and taunted him while he was dancing. Mrs. Lubitsch asserts he is jealous. Kraly says he cannot understand Lubitsch's action, as he thought they were the best of friends as always.

Mrs. Lubitsch and Kraly yesterday had no more to say about the battle of the Embassy Club. They, too, said it is a closed incident. Kraly formerly was Lubitsch's assistant director in Germany, and the latter brought him to this country. Mrs. Lubitsch's divorce becomes final in about ten months and both she and Kraly said there is every prospect they will marry.
